Pat Nixon 'Comfortable' After Suffering Stroke

By LYNDIA FILLMORE
Associated Press Writer

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Doctors kept an overnight vigil on former first lady Pat Nixon, partially paralyzed on her left side from a stroke and in "serious but stable condition."

Mrs. Nixon was reported resting comfortably after visits with her two daughters Thursday night, but neurologist Dr. John Mosier said she is far from being out of danger.

"If the stroke doesn't get any worse, she's not going to die. If it gets worse, well, people do die from strokes," Mosier said at a news briefing called after the 64-year-old wife of former President Richard M. Nixon was admitted to Memorial Hospital Medical Center.

The stroke caused "moderate paralysis" of Mrs. Nixon's left leg, arm and left side of her face, which in turn caused a "slight slurring" of speech, Mosier said.

"I think she will walk," he said, but added, "She may not walk normally." Pressures in her life "certainly could have been a contributing factor" toward her illness, Mosier added.

Secret Service agents called an ambulance for Mrs. Nixon, and she was accompanied during the 30-mile trip from the former Western White House by her husband and younger daughter, Julie Nixon Eisenhower.

Nixon slipped out of the hospital only an hour after her arrival and apparently returned to San Clemente.

The couple's other daughter, Tricia Cox, flew in from New York and she and Mrs. Eisenhower visited with their mother until about 8:15 p.m. before joining their father at San Clemente.

President Ford and his Republican challenger, Ronald Reagan, called Nixon at the hospital.

"It could be serious," a White House spokesman quoted Nixon as telling the President.

"They are very hopeful," Reagan quoted the former president as saying after Nixon was notified that her condition had stabilized.

"She had a stroke of maybe 35 to 40 per cent completeness," Mosier said Thursday. "We don't know if it will expand. At this point we don't know how permanent this may be." He said she was expected to remain hospitalized for at least 10 days.

A hospital news release described her condition as "a dysarthria, a slight speech impediment or slurring of speech, and moderate weakness of the left arm, leg and face."

Mrs. Nixon suffered the stroke Wednesday while reading, Mosier said. "She felt that she probably had a little stroke. She went up and went to bed. She didn't tell the other members of her family." But next morning the family "could tell when they saw her," and a doctor was summoned, he said.

An ambulance was called with instructions that there be no sirens.

"When we walked into the room, she was sitting up," said ambulance driver Paul Cubak, 20. "She looked tired and really didn't talk too much," said Dave Neal, 18, the ambulance attendant. "She didn't seem to be in distress. She was talkative and she looked good. We were told it was possibly flu."

Her seventh-floor private room in an eight-room cardiac unit at the giant medical center is just down the hall from the room where Nixon recovered from his bout with phlebitis.

In each room a private nurse remains on duty around the clock, and three staff doctors man the unit at all times, hospital spokesmen said. In addition, Mrs. Nixon has two of her own physicians on the case.

Secret Service agents stood guard throughout the night, keeping the floor sealed off to reporters and the public.

Dr. John C. Lundgren, the Nixon family physician, left the hospital Thursday evening and hospital officials said no adverse change in Mrs. Nixon's condition was anticipated during the night.

The announcement of Mrs. Nixon's illness came just hours after the New York State Appeals Court announced it had disbanded her husband.

Since Nixon's resignation in 1974 the couple has lived quietly, almost in seclusion, at their seaside villa, one of the few large possessions that still link the couple with their White House days.

Little is known of Mrs. Nixon's activities, and the small staff that remains with the couple is reluctant to discuss how the Nixons spend time. In recent months the former president has spent his days working on his memoirs, playing golf and visiting with a few friends.

Officials had announced Tuesday a modest return to the political arena for the former president — an appearance at a fund-raising event for Rep. Charles Wiggins, R-Calif., who conducted Nixon's defense during impeachment hearings before the House Judiciary Committee and was one of the Japanese Airline Chiefs Held

TOKYO (AP) — The two top officials of All Nippon Airways, Japan's biggest domestic airline, are now under arrest in the spreading Lockheed payoff scandal.

Police said the airline's senior vice president, Naoki Watanabe, 61, was arrested today on perjury charges for denying to parliament that his company received $170,200 in bribes from Lockheed.

All Nippon's president, Tokuji Wakasa, was arrested Thursday on charges of perjury and violation of foreign exchange control laws.

Horse Track's Okay Doubtful

State Representatives Ray Mittan of Niles and Harry Gast Jr. of St. Joseph say they have no personal objection to a proposed horse race track in Three Oaks township, but Mittan doubts the track ever will be constructed.

"I still think the biggest problem is going to come from the racing commissioner himself," Mittan declared in an interview with radio station WHEB.

"There are no tracks west of Jackson and I doubt that there's going to be. I think the track owners in that part of the state want to keep the business there and that's probably where it will stay."

The proposed $10 to $15 million track has met with opposition from the Berrien County Council of Churches over the issue of parimutuel gambling, but neither Mittan nor Gast felt gambling presented a problem.

"I can see no objection to it," Mittan said. "We've approved lotteries in the state and bingo and I can see no reason for not having a race track in western Michigan as long as we have them in the east."

"I am not a gambler — in fact, I have never gambled — but I can see no reason why the state couldn't pick up some money from those who do want to gamble."

Gast said "I've never been to a horse race in my life except for a county fair where there may have been horses running. I'm not a horse race fan, but I don't necessarily have any objections to it."

Gast, in whose district the proposed track would lie, also said he felt it was most important that the decision be made by residents of the area involved.

"I think it should be strictly local option," he said. "If the people want it they can vote on it and make their own decision as far as the track is concerned."

Public sentiment at a zoning hearing in May was heavily in favor of the proposed track and the township board last month approved a needed zoning change for the 480-acre site.

However, the zoning change now must be reconsidered because the request was not sent to the Berrien county planning commission as required by law.

Funeral For 2 Brothers Is Saturday

By TOM SAWYER
Staff Writer

Double funeral services will be held Saturday for two brothers who drowned June 30 when they were washed from St. Joseph's north pier.

The bodies of James Ivy, 12, and Harry Ivy, 17, were recovered in Lake Michigan Wednesday and Thursday by the St. Joseph Coast Guard after receiving reports from boaters.

The boys were the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ivy, 533 Summerfelt drive, Fairplain.

The body of Harry Ivy was recovered Thursday about 3:30 p.m. when the boat "Nanking" reported sighting a body about 500 yards west of the piers, the Coast Guard reported.

James' body was found at the mouth of the St. Joseph river about 4 p.m. Wednesday after a sighting by the boat "Cari-2" which radioed the Coast Guard.

The brothers were swept away by waves that pounded six to seven high over the pier. Their sister and a friend, who were with them, escaped.

Berrien county's drowning toll for 1976 is three — all in the month of June.

Harry James Ivy was born Jan. 2, 1959, in Bamberg, Germany.

Surviving in addition to his parents are a brother Hans, at home; two sisters, Mrs. Frank (Elizabeth) Antos, Coloma, and Miss Barbara Ivy, at home; his grandmother, Mrs. Martha E. Ivy, Berrien Springs, and his grandfather, Wilhelm Brlein, Stettfeld, Germany.

Double services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday in Grace Evangelical church, for Harry and his brother James. Burial will be in Riverview cemetery.

Friends may call at the Fairplain Chapel, Florin funeral home, Benton Harbor. Both caskets will remain closed.

Gobles Woman Gets Her Man

By ALAN AREND
Staff Writer

DENVER, Colo. — A vacationing, 31-year-old Gobles housewife ran down and captured a man she claimed took her wallet here yesterday.

Mrs. Paulette Maxam of Sweet Lake road, north of Gobles, told this newspaper she got her man after first jumping into his car and forcing him to stop about a block from the motel where the wallet was taken and then chasing him after he took off on foot while they were walking back toward the motel.

She said she nabbed the man the second time as he headed back to his car after he fled up a flight of stairs and through a building to get away from her. She said she circled the building.

The wallet was found in a nearby building. Mrs. Maxam theorized the man had thrown it away while running away on foot.

Mrs. Maxam told this newspaper she and her husband, Dean, had just checked into the Capri Motor Lodge, here when the chase began. She said she had placed her wallet, containing around $200, in her motorcycle helmet on the bed of their room and then gone outside, leaving the door open to help her husband. She said when she was returning to the room she saw a man who appeared to have left from their open room and upon re-entering the room found her wallet was missing.

Mrs. Maxam said she spotted the man getting into a car and gave chase on foot.

"He stopped the car before leaving the motel parking lot because traffic was so heavy on the main road," she said. "I finally caught up with the car as it was stopped, and just jumped in the passenger's side and told the man I knew he had taken my wallet and that I wanted it back."

Mrs. Maxam said the man told her he didn't know what she was talking about and began to drive off with her in the car. Mrs. Maxam said she managed to force the man to drive the car into a curb about a half-block away. She said they got out of the car and were walking back to the motel, when the man took off running. Mrs. Maxam said she gave chase and the man ran up some outside stairs. She said she circled around the building, "as I figured he was headed back for his car," and caught the man again.

Mrs. Maxam said by that time police had arrived and arrested the man who weighed in at 170 pounds. Mrs. Maxam stands 5-foot-5 and weighs 250 pounds.

The wallet and its contents were recovered in a building nearby, she said. "Apparently he threw the wallet into the building as he was running away," Mrs. Maxam said.

The Maxams were heading home today after vacationing in Colorado. A 1973 graduate of Paw Paw high school, Mrs. Maxam is the mother of three children. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Treat of Paw Paw.

Gobles is located about 12 miles north of Paw Paw in Van Buren county.

Elderly Israeli Hostage's Fate Is Unconfirmed

LONDON (AP) — The Foreign Office said today it has "absolutely no confirmation" of reports in the United States that Ugandan police killed Dora Bloch, the woman hijack hostage left behind by Israeli commandos during the Entebbe airport rescue last weekend. "Nor have we any news of Mrs. Bloch," a spokesman said. He added that British High Commissioner James Hennessey was to meet with President Idi Amin today in Kampala.

Mrs. Bloch held both Israeli and British citizenship. She was among the passengers and crew of an Air France plane hijacked to Uganda by Palestinian and West German terrorists but was taken to a Kampala hospital last Friday after getting some food caught in her throat. The Israelis raided the airport Sunday and rescued 102 other hostages, including Mrs. Bloch's son, Ilan Hartuv.

CBS News, quoting a British diplomat, said Mrs. Bloch died Sunday, shortly after the raid, when Ugandan security police tried to remove her forcibly from the hospital. The network said the diplomat reported the police tried to muffle her screams by stuffing a cloth in her mouth and she suffocated. The Israeli newspaper Yediot Aharnoot said today it talked with Amin by telephone, and he again denied any knowledge of the whereabouts of the 75-year-old widow. The paper said

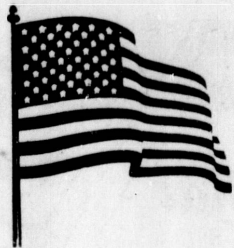

MRS. DORA BLOCH
She stayed behind

Amin claimed again that Mrs. Bloch was returned to the rest of the hostages two days before the rescue and "I have no idea what happened to her since the raid."

"Mrs. Bloch was in hospital until July 2," Amin reportedly said. "She was returned to the Entebbe terminal and departed with the other Israelis. She is in Israel." Israeli officials and Hartuv said earlier that Mrs. Bloch was not among those rescued.

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

Will The HEW Nitwit Who Issued This Ruling Please Step Forward?

Ever since Congress, the state legislatures and all of the courts took up the theme that it is unAmerican to discriminate in employment, housing, education and so on, the bureaucrats administering those laws and decisions have enjoyed a field day in setting aside established patterns in the U.S. life style.

Police departments, for example, have to be careful in setting standards for recruits.

The old standby that a would be Marshal Earp has to be at least five feet, eight inches tall and weigh not less than 160 pounds is suspect, if not downright verboten in many places, because the average Latino shapes up below that configuration. The civil rights commissions conend this is an unwarranted exclusionary requirement.

Another requirement that a recruit be free from an arrest sheet background is highly suspect because blacks are more prone to be picked up for this or that offense than are whites.

Merely stating the recruit must be a male would yank the department head up for an immediate hearing.

People wanting to rent an apartment in their home have to be careful how they describe their preferences in tenants.

Rejecting a job applicant because of a poor record in paying his bills is no longer permitted unless he is applying for a bank presidency.

All this may be well and good because in the past super persnickety standards have worked a hardship on marginal cases.

Yet as this column has noted from time to time any good rule can be pushed to ridiculous limits.

A few days ago President Ford got his dander up about one example of this folly.

The federal Civil Rights Act, as amended extensively in 1972, among other things, withholds U.S. aid to any school, public or private, practicing sex discrimination.

One result has been to require the athletic director at old Siwash U. to cough up funds for women's sports. Federal money may not filter into his hard pressed budget, but if Siwash's academic program is receiving U.S.

Polish Rulers Threading A Shaky, Thin Line

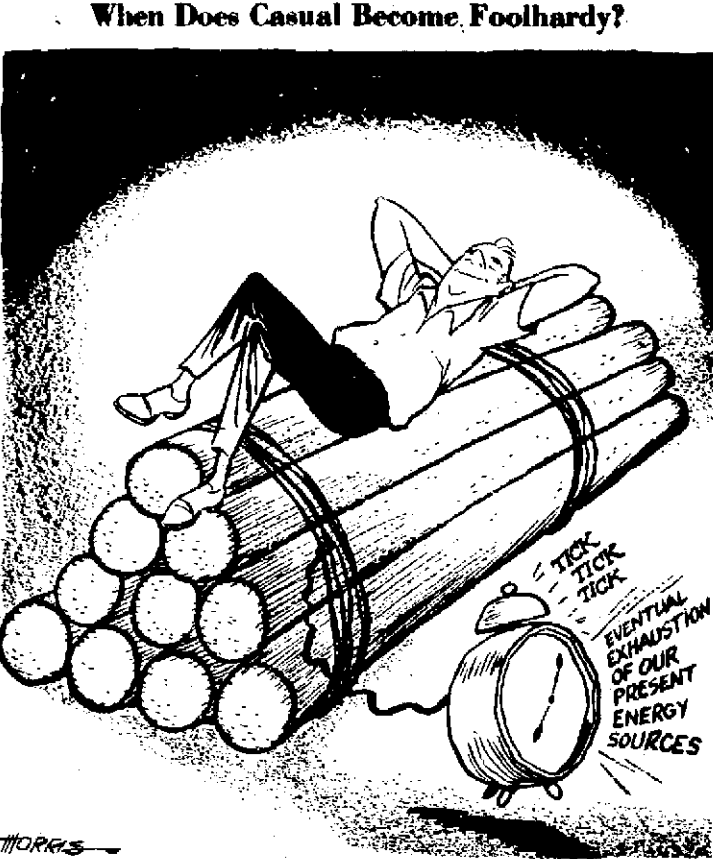

One can almost sympathize with the quondary the leaders of Poland have put themselves in — almost, but not quite. Attempting to rule a dictatorship without excessive force, while "host" to the armies of a mother country and at the same time bring some order to a chaotic economy, the powers that be in Warsaw managed to fall into the stream they were straddling.

In the old days, dictators led less complicated lives. When prices needed adjusting, they adjusted. If anyone had the temerity to object, the tanks rolled. Ah, but this — the Kremlin has just said at its East Berlin parley — is a different age in which each of its colonial outposts is a national entity in itself.

So, when the Polish officials imposed hefty price increases on food and other consumer items in an attempt to balance the books, and at the same time significantly lowered the workers' living standards, they suddenly found they had no big stick to put down simultaneous riots and uprisings all over the country.

Nervously looking over their shoulders to see what the Soviet troops in their midst were doing, the Warsaw regime had no choice but to rescind totally the price increases. That managed to cool tempers a bit, but now what are they to do?

They reacted by denouncing the "hooligans" who had upset the applecart. That was no more accomplished than a group of 70 Polish intellectuals issued a call for greater democratic freedoms to prevent further "dangerous outbursts." The situation isn't covered in the new rule book either.

Join Me At Bloodmobile, South Haven Med Urges

A few days ago I was asked by the bloodmobile people to write an article for publication which would motivate about 600 people to show up on July 13th and 14th at the First English Lutheran church, South Haven, to donate their life-blood.

On first thought, I was flattered by the attention and pleased that I could be of help because I am much impressed in general by the bloodmobile volunteers — they are a good bunch of people. But in second thought, it dawned on me that there is a lot of competition for attention these days — what with Elizabeth Ray, the bicentennial, the election, and the war in Lebanon. I would be fortunate if a dozen readers looked beyond the headline.

There really isn't much new to say about bloodletting. It will be the same old routine of a moderate-longish wait for your turn to get punctured with a fairly good size needle. However we must note that regardless of all the excitement on the national and international scene, life still must go on out here in

Ghosts That Haunt Potomac

WASHINGTON — Now that the country is 200 years old the things that go bump in the night in this town may be other than Jerry Ford falling on his bean or callgirls entertaining the legislators.

Legend has it that historic figures normally make their reappearance on earth two centuries after their deaths, and so the nation generally and the capital specifically may be in for spooky futures. You know, like boo, Ben Franklin in bed sheets.

Silly? Not in superstitious Washington, where senators can be observed avoiding the 13th step to the Capitol and where the best-read features in the newspapers, other than the ads for massage parlors, are the astrology charts. Indeed, American politicians have been occupied with the supernatural from the beginning. There is evidence that many founding fathers were guided to some degree by the occult arts. George Washington, for one, was almost regularly being visited by visions, apparitions and other chilling interlopers.

So accustomed to the eerie has Washington become, actually, that the Bicentennial ghosts will hardly be noticed for the crowd of specters already here. G. Washington, for example, has already been seen numerous times, riding his mare across the lawn of Mount Vernon. Judge Advocate Joseph Hart, who sentenced the Lincoln assassins to death, takes regular strolls down First Street searching for public assurance that his decision was just. There is even a nude ghost, naturally: she is altogether in the altogether and employees at the Indonesian embassy say they can't wait to be scared by her again.

The Capitol building is a favorite of ghosts here. There is reportedly a Demon Cat who roams the corridors, particularly in the basement, and who has been seen so many times by so many truly frightened people that some employees refuse to walk the halls alone at night. It's rumored the demon caused one guard to die of a heart attack.

And then there is the spirit of the unfortunate stonemason, said to have been trapped in the Capitol walls when it was built; he can be seen walking about with his trowel in his hand, no doubt looking for back pay. Or he may be looking for the "chicken ghost," whose presence was revealed by former congressional doorkeeper William Miller, who swore he could hear the damned thing clucking at all hours.

But the most popular place for Washington's ghosts is the White House. There is said to be a British soldier (from the War of 1812) who wanders about with a torch trying to burn the place down again. Some visitors have sworn they could smell soap suds and wet clothes in the East Room, where Abigail Adams used to hang her laundry. And Lillian Rogers Park, a housekeeper for 30 years, says that once when she was sewing a bedspread in the Rose Room she felt an icy breeze and a hand on her chair; it was Andy Jackson, whose ribald laughter has been heard by others in the house as well.

Some say that Jackson is laughing at the naïveté of those who believe in the notion of returning dead. Yet, some very sophisticated people have become believers in Washington. Teddy Roosevelt said he saw the ghost of Abe Lincoln, "many times." Winston Churchill was offered the Lincoln bed one evening, but decided to stay across the hall instead. Harry Truman believed in the ghosts so much he told his daughter that to lock the doors against them would be futile.

Only one thing troubled Harry about the spooks. Why, he wondered dryly, would any self-respecting spirit want to come back to Washington?

Noise Goes On In The Capital

WASHINGTON — The traditional big bang on the Fourth was brought to you this year courtesy of the Federal government.

It's a farewell present for the nation's Bicentennial.

What happened is that the Consumer Product Safety Commission several months ago issued a nationwide ban against all but the smallest firecrackers and imposed stringent safety requirements on all other types of fireworks. Then the commission thoughtfully delayed its impact until September, so that cities all over the country could have a noisy holiday.

There's other kinds of noise in the capital.

ITEM: Representatives of civil rights groups which support busing for school integration met at the White House with President Ford shortly before he revealed his program aimed at doing them in. The President was especially cordial to Joe Rauh, a legendary super-liberal who has the dubious distinction of being the only Democrat so far singled out by Jimmy Carter as too big a pain to swallow.

Rauh was astonished by the President's pleasant greeting. He had testified against Ford's nomination for vice president during the Senate confirmation hearings, and he had expected a cold shoulder. "This guy's different," he told a friend afterward. "He's not vindictive."

For ordinary people, that's a good trait. But it may also help to explain why Ford's in so much trouble in his own party.

ITEM: Sen. Hubert Humphrey has promised his Minnesota colleague Walter Mondale that if Mondale is tapped by Jimmy Carter as running mate he will "campaign like hell for the Democratic ticket." Actually, Humphrey has also indicated to Carter that he will do anything Carter wants him to do during the presidential campaign, regardless of the vice-presidential nominee.

ITEM: The hottest interviewer on Capitol Hill is not a member of the press, but Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois. Like many of his colleagues, Percy has traditionally taped a regular television show, for free, distribution to home state stations, during which he would be interviewed by local reporters. But he got tired of fielding the same old election-year political questions every show, so he decided he'd rather switch than fight. Now he asks the questions, and his guests have ranged from Barbara Walters to Muhammad Ali and Billy Graham.

There's no report yet, however, on his Nielsen rating. One tiny problem might be that in some Illinois cities he is shown during something less than prime time. In Peoria, for instance, the Percy show airs at 1:30 a.m.

ITEM: The Democrats are very smug. Jimmy is going to carry the party's wounds.

ITEM: Some people think Republicans don't have much sense of humor. So a glutton for punishment has come along and published a book called "Republican Humor" (Acropolis Books) to disprove that ugly canard.

An example from Vice President Nelson Rockefeller: "I am always delighted when the President asks me to go somewhere to represent the GOP. I never had much luck doing that on my own."

Will The HEW Nitwit Who Issued This Ruling Please Step Forward?

Ever since Congress, the state legislatures and all of the courts took up the theme that it is unAmerican to discriminate in employment, housing, education and so on, the bureaucrats administering those laws and decisions have enjoyed a field day in setting aside established patterns in the U.S. life style.

Police departments, for example, have to be careful in setting standards for recruits.

The old standby that a would be Marshal Earp has to be at least five feet, eight inches tall and weigh not less than 160 pounds is suspect, if not downright verboten in many places, because the average Latino shapes up below that configuration. The civil rights commissions condescend this is an unwarranted exclusionary requirement.

Another requirement that a recruit be free from an arrest sheet background is highly suspect because blacks are more prone to be picked up for this or that offense than are whites.

Merely stating the recruit must be a male would yank the department head up for an immediate hearing.

People wanting to rent an apartment in their home have to be careful how they describe their preferences in tenants.

Rejecting a job applicant because of a poor record in paying his bills is no longer permitted unless he is applying for a bank presidency.

All this may be well and good because in the past super persnickety standards have worked a hardship on marginal cases.

Yet as this column has noted from time to time any good rule can be pushed to ridiculous limits.

A few days ago President Ford got this dander up about one example of this folly.

The federal Civil Rights Act, as amended extensively in 1972, among other things, withholds U.S. aid to any school, public or private, practicing sex discrimination.

One result has been to require the athletic director at old Siwash U. to cough up funds for women's sports. Federal money may not filter into his hard pressed budget, but if Siwash's academic program is receiving U.S.

assistance, there goes the ball game for the AD.

Faculty hirings and promotions are watched more carefully than ever before, not to mention admissions practices and curricula.

What ticked off Jerry was a ruling from HEW which dispenses the Washington gold to education saying that father and son or mother and daughter banquets will cause a school to be cut off from the pipeline.

This gem of legalese emerged from a request of the Scottsdale, Arizona, school board concerning the status of those traditional gatherings.

Earlier, though apparently not known to Ford, HEW had advised the Clawson, Michigan, school board to the same effect.

The difference was that the Scottsdale ruling hit the headlines whereas the Clawson school people stayed out of the news.

Ford promptly notified Dave Mathews, HEW's Secretary, and a few other Washington top dogs that "American institutions cannot be wiped out by some government lawyer or bureaucrat."

The word went down the line immediately and for the moment the father and son and mother and daughters affairs are safe.

We say for the moment because sure as rain somebody will probably challenge Ford's action through the courts.

Presumably the argument will be made that those long standing get-togethers are a subtle discrimination between the sexes.

This absurd display by HEW is possible only because Congress is too lazy to draft legislation in a sensible, understandable fashion.

It is much easier to skim over the top of a problem and let the bureaucracy fill in the nooks and crannies.

Even more distressing than Congress' slipshod methods is the judicial propensity to uphold an administrative regulation which is not challenged the day after it is issued or unless on its face it deprives a person of an obvious Constitutional protection.

That's the government at work for you, Dear Reader.

Polish Rulers Threading A Shaky, Thin Line

One can almost sympathize with the quandary the leaders of Poland have put themselves in — almost, but not quite. Attempting to rule a dictatorship without excessive force, while "host" to the armies of a mother country and at the same time bring some order to a chaotic economy, the powers that be in Warsaw managed to fall into the stream they were straddling.

In the old days, dictators led less complicated lives. When prices needed adjusting, they adjusted. If anyone had the temerity to object, the tanks rolled. Ah, but this — the Kremlin has just said at its East Berlin parley — is a different age in which each of its colonial outposts is a national entity in itself.

So, when the Polish officials imposed hefty price increases on food and other consumer items in an attempt to balance the books, and at the same time significantly lowered the workers' living standards, they suddenly found they had no big stick to put down simultaneous riots and uprisings all over the country.

Nervously looking over their shoulders to see what the Soviet troops in their midst were doing, the Warsaw regime had no choice but to rescind totally the price increases. That managed to cool tempers a bit, but now what are they to do?

Join Me At Bloodmobile, South Haven Med Urges

moderate-longish wait for your turn to get punctured with a fairly good size needle. However we must note that regardless of all the excitement on the national and international scene, life still must go on out here in

The real business of life goes on right here in our community, and how good we live, and how long we can postpone dying depends to an amazing extent upon the goodwill of our neighbors. For good or bad, we need each other. The guy you help today may save you next week. I wish I had had the foresight to keep a list of all the good old blood donors who eventually had their own lives, or that of a loved one, saved by a donation of blood by some other good old blood donor. Don't forget that your doctors administer blood only to save lives and there is only one place to get the stuff — from your tender juicy veins.

I can tell you right now that about 90% of all the donors, who will show up on July 13th and 14th, know all this at least as well as I do. Really all we have to do is tell these people when and where, and they will be there. Good love them. But some of them will be getting too old and some will be sick (GONE OR TWO MAY TURN CHICKEN). All the big effort is expended to round up an additional 10 to 20% of new or wavering or erratic donors to get us over the top and win one more battle in the struggle to survive.

There is no end to these battles, you know, and there are so pitifully few real warriors. Well, I can tell you that the bloody warriors, who show up at the bloodmobile, are a motley lot from all walks of life and every part of the community. They come in all sizes and shapes and colors and ages, but they are my brothers and sisters, and I am very proud to be able to serve them in whatever capacity I can to make the blood-letting safer and easier. My cohorts in medicine all fell likewise.

July 13th is my birthday and I plan to celebrate it by hobnobbing with all the best people I know — at the bloodmobile. I'll see you there!

AGREE, DISAGREE ON ISSUES

Austin, Esch Campaign In Twin Cities

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

Two candidates for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by retiring Philip Hart agree that the state of the nation's economy is the key issue of their campaigns, but disagree on how the country's economic problems should be solved.

Campaigning in the Twin Cities yesterday, Secretary of State Richard Austin, a Democrat, said he supported the Humphrey-Hawkins bill for "full employment," but Congressman Marvin Esch (R-Ann Arbor) said he is leading the GOP fight against the bill in the House.

Austin spoke at a $7-a-plate fund-raising dinner at the Benton Harbor Holiday Inn last night and Esch spoke to area Lions club members at a noon luncheon at Benton Harbor.

Holiday Inn. Esch also appeared at a "Meet Your Candidates" program sponsored by Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce at Riverview park, St. Joseph.

The two candidates could possibly be opposing each other in the November election. However, each must face opposition from three other candidates in their own parties in the Aug. 3 primary election.

The Democrat-sponsored Humphrey-Hawkins bill sets a goal of 3.5 per cent unemployment by 1980 and would require the president to submit an annual plan for balanced economic growth.

Esch branded the bill as "inflationary" and said it would cost taxpayers $40 to $50 billion to implement.

"Jobs for Michigan are my top priority," Esch said. "And I mean productive and permanent jobs, not the make-work kind that are created only at the taxpayers' expense. It's time to break away from the simplistic give-away mentality of Washington."

Esch said he favored government fiscal responsibility, tax credits for businesses, a balanced federal budget and lower corporation taxes to induce employment in the private sector while lowering the inflation rate.

"For those who are out of work, the situation is intolerable," Austin said. "For those of us who have jobs, the burden of maintaining the unemployed is wasteful, non-productive and costly."

Austin said he favored the Humphrey-Hawkins bill, coupled with tax reforms, lowered federal spending, tighter controls on interest rates and reduced defense spending, as a means to cure the nation's economic ills.

On the issue of forced school busing to achieve integration, the two candidates were not quite so sharply divided.

Esch said he was "strongly opposed" to forced school busing and supported the neighborhood concept of schools. "Taxpayers money should be put to work giving every child an education," he said. "The courts have got to be told that busing is not the only answer."

Austin said he had "some reservations" about the use of busing because of "the tremendous costs and because of the tension it creates in a community." But, he said, "Where the court has ordered busing, it is the law and should be obeyed."

BH Educator To Help Sudan Plan System

A Benton Harbor educator will travel to Sudan in northeast Africa to lead a United Nations team of international educators in planning a rural educational system for the country. Dr. Wabih A. Sayegh, director of evaluation for Benton Harbor area schools since 1971, was asked by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) to lead the group. He leaves Sunday for Paris where he will receive a briefing from UNESCO before heading for Sudan.

Sayegh said he will not know the number of members on the team until assignments are made at the briefing in Paris. He is scheduled to return to the United States Aug. 15.

To participate in the special mission, Dr. Sayegh is using a combination of earned vacation days and a two-week non-paid leave of absence from his Benton Harbor duties, according to Supt. Richard Helsner. He has been working evenings and weekends to make sure all testing reports and materials will be available on time this fall, Helsner said.

In 1955, Sayegh, a native of Lebanon, worked for the UN Relief and Works agency in Jordan as an instructor in a teacher training center, ending his service when he joined the Ministry of Education in Benghazi, Libya, in a similar post.

Sayegh came to the University of Chicago in 1962 to complete work on his doctorate degree, and joined the staff of Northern Michigan university in 1968 as an assistant professor of education and a task force member of the Upper Peninsula Educational Service Center Action project, serving as consultant to UP school districts.

In addition, Sayegh served as an assistant professor of education at the Lebanese university in Beirut and at the University of Jordan in Amman.

He and his wife, Siham, became American citizens in 1973 and currently live in Fairplain with their three children.

BHHS Student College Test Results Ready

Benton Harbor high school students who took American College Tests (ACT) in June may now pick up results at the principal's office, according to Lawrence Schneider, guidance director. The office is open 8 a.m. to noon, 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

her post said, Charles Duffy, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Duffy, Geneva, Ill., was brought to the post from the Country Kitchen, 2535 M-139, where he was found crying in the parking lot about 10:30 a.m. He told police he had gone to the restroom and when he came out the family was gone.

CONGRESSIONAL HOPEFULS: The four candidates seeking the Republican nomination for the Fourth Congressional district seat were among about 125 politicians and citizens who attended a "Meet Your Candidates" program Thursday evening at Riverview Park, St. Joseph. From left, the congressional candidates are David Stockman, St. Joseph; David Frazer, Benton township; Helen Take, St. Joseph; and Lee Boothby, Berrien Springs. Some 40 township, city, county and state candidates attended the event, sponsored by the Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce. (Staff photo)

The Twin City airport board Thursday voted to seek a federal grant to finance 75 per cent of a master planning study for Ross field that could cost up to $103,000.

The study, according to Airport Manager Ronald Momany, would evaluate the current facilities at the airport and project the future needs, as well as ways to institute them.

Board member Edward Tiscornia noted the study application is for a maximum of $103,000 and a minimum of $65,894. He added the difference depends on whether one of the runways should be extended, which calls for engineering fees and the cost of an environmental impact study.

Tiscornia said the federal government will pay for 75 per cent of the study if it's approved, with the state paying a flat rate of $5,000 and the rest as a local share. If the maximum grant is approved, the board's share of the study would be $20,925, he said.

Tiscornia said the basic plan will look at the airport's needs 10 years into the future, although some phases will be 20-year projections.

The major portion of the grant would come from the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), and Momany said he is attempting to set up a meeting between board members, the FAA, and the Michigan Aeronautics commission to review the grant application.

Momany also reported preparations are proceeding for a national aviation day open house at Ross field Aug. 22. He said it is anticipated that Miss Michigan, Diane Kaye Hansen of Berrien Center, will serve as the official hostess at the open house.

Momany added a tentative budget of $2,900 has been adopted for the open house, and he said he was hopeful that the budget could be met by contributions from local businesses and industries.

ALARM FOILS BURGLARS: Hole was broken in wall at Hayes Construction company late Thursday, but burglars fled apparently without loot when alarm summoned police to company at 873 Empire avenue, Benton Harbor, city police reported. Police said they heard someone running in nearby ravine when they arrived about 11:30 p.m. Officers and state police tracking dog couldn't find intruders. (Staff photo)

Four Arrested In Crackdown On Gambling

Benton Harbor police stakeouts at two city parks in an effort to crackdown on dice games resulted in four arrests Thursday on charges of gambling. Det. Lt. Alfred Edwards called it an effort to "clean out the parks" of gambling.

Booked at the Berrien county jail were Stuart L. Baines, 27, Levestor Brandon, 25, both of 304 South Fair avenue, Benton Harbor, and Gregory L. McCall, 18, of 480 Cherry street, Benton Harbor. Edwards said they were arrested in Hall park about 5 p.m.

Edwards said Robert Byars, 18, of 816 East Empire avenue, Benton Harbor, was arrested on charges of gambling and possession of a small amount of suspected marijuana in Broadway park. He was released after posting $100 bonds for each charge, Edwards reported.

Car, Bike Collide; Girl Hurt

A 12-year-old Stevensville girl received apparently minor injuries Thursday when the bicycle she was riding and a car collided on John Beers road west of Cleveland avenue, Lincoln township, Berrien sheriff's deputies said.

Dawn Pesko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Pesko, 1885 North Sierra way, was released after treatment at Memorial hospital, St. Joseph. Driver of the car was identified as Albert William Shafer, 45, of 1163 John Beers road, Lincoln township. He was unhurt in the 7:25 p.m. collision and no tickets were issued, deputies reported.

Main River Channel To Be Closed

The main channel of the St. Joseph river will be closed to boat traffic July 14, 15, 16, 19 and 20 while construction workers install 28-ton leaves on the new Main-Wayne street bascule bridge, according to the state highway department.

Ernest Malkewitz, project engineer for the highway department, said river traffic will be detoured through the Morrison channel while the huge leaves, which lift up to let large boats through, are hoisted into place by barges.

Malkewitz said the leaves will be installed in four separate sections. Two will be installed next week, he said, and two will be installed the following week. The bridge is being built between Benton Harbor and St. Joseph.

Engineer Receives Master's

Raymond Kosarski Jr., senior engineer at Bendix corporation's hydraulics division south of St. Joseph, has received his master's degree in business administration from Michigan State University's continuing education center in Benton Harbor.

Kosarski, who has a bachelor's degree in civil engineering from the University of Notre Dame, joined Bendix in 1966 after serving two years in the army.

Honor Hutchinson

COLOMA — A testimonial dinner, honoring retiring Fourth District Congressman Edward Hutchinson will be held at the Casa Del Lago restaurant here Saturday, July 10. Roger Carter, former Coloma township supervisor, and chairman of the dinner, said the event is sponsored by friends and Republicans. The dinner will begin at 7:30 p.m., preceded by a social hour, starting at 7 p.m. The restaurant is located along Paw Paw Lake, Coloma.

Church Construction Plan Moving Ahead In Benton

The Benton township planning commission last night tentatively approved a special use permit for construction of a new church pending the outcome of a public hearing.

Planners said they had no objections to the request from the Main street Seventh-day Adventist church that it be granted a special use permit to construct the church on church-owned property at the corner of Euclid and Highland avenues.

Church representatives said an undetermined portion of the 12-acre tract will be used for the 10,000 square-foot church and adjacent parking lot. No date was set for the public hearing.

The commission also recommended a request from M.E. Burket, 3135 Territorial road, to rezone land near Wells and Territorial be set for public hearing. The zoning change would be from residential to commercial, and Burket said he intends to operate a trailer sales lot and chain saw sales and service shop. Planners said they would probably give the zoning change a favorable recommendation.

In another matter, commissioners took no action on a request from C.J. Erickson Plumbing Co. of Chicago to combine three lots. Planners noted two of the lots are separated by a road platted as Bluff avenue, but the road was never built, and the lots cannot be combined until the road is deemed abandoned by the county.

Stockman To Speak On Sunday

David Stockman, Republican candidate for Fourth District congressman, announced today he will speak at an open house, Sunday in the Grand Mere room of the Lakeshore branch of First National Bank of Southwestern Michigan.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. at 4000 Red Arrow highway. Stockman said he will discuss current issues facing the federal government. The Lincoln township committee for Stockman will provide refreshments and the public is invited.

Staff Writer

An Illinois couple who apparently forgot to take a head count of their six children left one of them behind when they drove away from a Benton township restaurant Thursday, state police of the Benton Harbor post said, Charles Duffy, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Duffy, Geneva, Ill., was brought to the post from the Country Kitchen, 2535 M-139, where he was found crying in the parking lot about 10:30 a.m. He told police he had gone to the restroom and when he came out the family was gone.

The Duffys said they forgot to make a count before they left and it wasn't until they were "far down the road" that they missed Charles and returned to the post to pick him up. They then headed to their original destination, a day at Deer Forest, Coloma.

AGREE, DISAGREE ON ISSUES

Austin, Esch Campaign In Twin Cities

By MIKE WYNGARDEN
Staff Writer

Two candidates for the U.S. Senate seat being vacated by retiring Philip Hart agree that the state of the nation's economy is the key issue of their campaigns, but disagree on how the country's economic problems should be solved.

Campaigning in the Twin Cities yesterday, Secretary of State Richard Austin, a Democrat, said he supported the Humphrey-Hawkins bill for "full employment," but Congressman Marvin Esch (R-Ann Arbor) said he is leading the GOP fight against the bill in the House.

Austin spoke at a $7-a-plate fund-raising dinner at the Benton Harbor Holiday Inn last night and Esch spoke to area Lions club members at a noon luncheon at Benton Harbor

Holiday Inn. Esch also appeared at a "Meet Your Candidates" program sponsored by Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce at Riverview park, St. Joseph.

The two candidates could possibly be opposing each other in the November election. However, each must face opposition from three other candidates in their own parties in the Aug. 3 primary election.

The Democrat-sponsored Humphrey-Hawkins bill sets a goal of 3.5 per cent unemployment by 1980 and would require the president to submit an annual plan for balanced economic growth.

Esch branded the bill as "inflationary" and said it would cost taxpayers $40 to $50 billion to implement.

"Jobs for Michigan are my top priority," Esch said. "And I mean productive and permanent jobs, not the make-work kind that are created only at the taxpayers' expense. It's time to break away from the simplistic give-away mentality of Washington."

Esch said he favored government fiscal responsibility, tax credits for businesses, a balanced federal budget and lower corporation taxes to induce employment in the private sector while lowering the inflation rate.

"For those who are out of work, the situation is intolerable," Austin said. "For those of us who have jobs, the burden of maintaining the unemployed is wasteful, non-productive and costly."

Austin said he favored the Humphrey-Hawkins bill, coupled with tax reforms, lowered federal spending, tighter controls on interest rates and reduced defense spending, as a means to cure the nation's economic ills.

On the issue of forced school busing to achieve integration, the two candidates were not quite so sharply divided.

Esch said he was "strongly opposed" to forced school busing and supported the neighborhood concept of schools. "Taxpayers money should be put to work giving every child an education," he said. "The courts have got to be told that busing is not the only answer."

Austin said he had "some reservations" about the use of busing because of "the tremendous costs and because of the tension it creates in a community." But, he said, "Where the court has ordered busing, it is the law and should be obeyed."

BH Educator To Help Sudan Plan System

A Benton Harbor educator will travel to Sudan in northeast Africa to lead a United Nations team of international educators in planning a rural educational system for the country. Dr. Wabba A. Sayegh, director of evaluation for Benton Harbor area schools since 1971, was asked by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) to lead the group. He leaves Sunday for Paris where he will receive a briefing from UNESCO before heading for Sudan.

Sayegh said he will not know the number of members on the team until assignments are made at the briefing in Paris. He is scheduled to return to the United States Aug. 15.

To participate in the special mission, Dr. Sayegh is using a combination of earned vacation days and a two-week non-paid leave of absence from his Benton Harbor duties, according to Supt. Richard Helsner. He has been working evenings and weekends to make sure all testing reports and materials will be available on time this fall, Helsner said.

In 1955, Sayegh, a native of Lebanon, worked for the UN Relief and Works agency in Jordan as an instructor in a teacher training center, ending his service when he joined the Ministry of Education in Benghazi, Libya, in a similar post.

Sayegh came to the University of Chicago in 1962 to complete work on his doctorate degree, and joined the staff of Northern Michigan university in 1968 as an assistant professor of education and a task force member of the Upper Peninsula Educational Service Center Action project, serving as consultant to UP school districts.

In addition, Sayegh served as an assistant professor of education at the Lebanese university in Beirut and at the University of Jordan in Amman.

He and his wife, Siham, became American citizens in 1973 and currently live in Fairplain with their three children.

Ross Field Seeks Grant Toward Master Planning

The Twin City airport board Thursday voted to seek a federal grant to finance 75 per cent of a master planning study for Ross field that could cost up to $103,000.

OUTDOOR ART FAIR: St. Joseph Art Association is sponsoring its 15th annual outdoor art fair Sunday, July 11, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. in Lake Front park, St. Joseph. Raindate is July 18. Among the 158 artists participating will be, above, Madelyn and Bill Christiansen of Palmetto, Fla., who will display their leaded glass lamps. Ten member exhibits will also be included. Jurying was done this year by Darwin R. Davis, director of the Battle Creek Civic art center. Media will include paintings, sculpture, pottery, handwrought jewelry, textiles, glass, and leather. Refreshments will be available and strolling musicians will provide entertainment for the day. These include the Blue Grass Musicians, folk singers Penny Jones and Greg Jurgenson, banjoist, Dan Nelson; organist, Willis Collins, and a early music group directed by Peter Twarucsek. Hostesses will be provided by the Berrien Art Guild with Mrs. Harold Schwerdt as chairman. Guidebook distribution will be by Girl Scout Troops Nos. 466 and 362, North Lincoln school, St. Joseph. Mrs. Michael Iannelli is chairman for the art fair which benefits the St. Joseph Art Center, 600 State street, St. Joseph, which the association maintains. For the past three years, the center has provided art classes for children and adults, monthly exhibits, lectures, art demonstrations, and movies. One of the more recent efforts of the center is its Gallery shop.

Food Outlook Promising For Remainder Of 1976

The outlook for food for the remainder of 1976 looks more promising now that it has in a long while, reports Maryann Beckman, District Food Marketing Agent. Livestock and livestock product output is increasing with substantial gains likely in coming months for beef, pork, poultry and milk. Grain crops look to be large, too, if weather cooperates and continues to be favorable. Domestic food supplies totally are expected to remain above 1975 throughout the year, but seasonal price rises are likely to continue into summer even though larger food supplies are expected. Small summer pork and beef supplies, seasonal fresh produce price increases, especially some fruits, plus higher prices for coffee, fishery products and higher marketing and transportation costs will be the cost increasing culprits through summer.

If foods are chosen wisely and while seasonal foods are in good supply, there is no reason why consumers cannot be well fed for a reasonable amount of money. Broiler and turkey output this summer, for example, will continue well above a year ago and egg production will be up slightly. Though prices may be up a cent or two from June, this is the normal situation that occurs when summer demand increases.

Just because broilers, turkey and eggs are in large supply, doesn't mean these are the only meats to be eaten. Each week there will continue to be beef and pork cut specials galore. Because of the demand and the season, many of the featured cuts will be the longer cooking cuts, such as roasts, and prices are even more reasonable than the ever-popular and seemingly inexpensive hamburger and ground beef. Chuck roasts, chuck steaks and round steak on the grill, in the form of beef chunk kabobs, are less expensive per serving than burgers in many cases. Get better acquainted with the cuts and learn more about those used for inexpensive grill choices. Many fruits, especially some Michigan summer fruits, were hard hit by frosts and freezes in late spring. But even though prices are expected to advance on a few, overall prices on fruit will still average slightly to moderately below the 1975 averages. Other fruits appear to be in excellent supply. Outstanding prospects are in the picture for most fruits from western states, for example, Mrs. Beckman says.

Now in peak supply are apricots, in which quality and color are good; Bing cherries a bit smaller than usual but excellent quality; Perlette and Thompson seedless grapes; nectarines; Bartlett pears, and plums. Now through August is peak supply time for lemons and limes, but grapefruit and orange supplies decline seasonally. Many states are now shipping watermelon so prices are much lower, as well as cantaloupe, which is improving in quality, and honeydew melons. Bananas are steady in both price and supply. A few pineapples, avocados and artichokes are still around in many markets.

July in Michigan is peak supply for both sweet and red tart cherries, gooseberries, blackberries, red and black raspberries and currants, along with blueberries from now through mid-September. Early varieties of Michigan blueberries were hurt by frozes, but the overall crop looks good. Of the July crops, red tart cherries were the hardest hit so there will be very few available and even fewer canned and frozen cherries and cherry products for the remainder of the year with obviously higher prices on the processed products the rest of the year.

Damage to sweet cherries was far less severe so they will be in fairly good supply at roadside markets, farmers' and city markets as well as some retail stores. The best place to find other small fruits, available in limited supply always, is at roadside or farmers' markets primarily. Peach lovers will delight in the news that July will be a good month for southern peaches, where production in nine states is up 38 per cent from last year. Quality and color are reported as good to excellent and sizes are getting larger. Michigan's peach crop made it through the bad weather with Outstanding prospects are in the picture for most fruits from western states, for example, Mrs. Beckman says.

Now in peak supply are apricots, in which quality and color are good; Bing cherries a bit smaller than usual but excellent quality; Perlette and Thompson seedless grapes; nectarines; Bartlett pears, and plums.

Now through August is peak supply time for lemons and limes, but grapefruit and orange supplies decline seasonally. Many states are now shipping watermelon so prices are much lower, as well as cantaloupe, which is improving in quality, and honeydew melons. Bananas are steady in both price and supply. A few pineapples, avocados and artichokes are still around in many markets.

July in Michigan is peak supply for both sweet and tart cherries, gooseberries, blackberries, red and black raspberries and currants, along with blueberries from now through mid-September. Early varieties of Michigan blueberries were hurt by frosts, but the overall crop looks good.

Of the July crops, red tart cherries were the hardest hit so there will be very few available and even fewer canned and frozen cherries and cherry products for the remainder of the year with obviously higher prices on the processed products the rest of the year.

Damage to sweet cherries was far less severe so they will be in fairly good supply at roadside markets, farmers' and city markets as well as some retail stores. The best place to find other small fruits, available in limited supply always, is at roadside or farmers' markets primarily.

Peach lovers will delight in the news that July will be a good month for southern peaches, where production in nine states is up 38 per cent from last year.

Quality and color are reported as good to excellent and sizes are getting larger.

Look Pretty By Smiling

Pretty make-up loses its appeal if you wreck the effect by grimaces and other facial ticks. You'll look prettier if you remember to relax facial muscles and smile or keep a pleasant expression. This also cuts down on future wrinkles.

Exchange Vows In Summer Ceremonies

Miss Maureen Moffo and Tim Shindeldecker were married June 12 at Queen of All Saints Catholic church in Michigan City, Ind.

The Rev. Fr. Anthony Ficko performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Moffo of Michigan City and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shindeldecker, 2512 Coloma road, Benton Harbor.

The bride wore a chiffon gown designed with a chantilly lace yoke, a cummerbund at the waist and a flounce at the hemline. Her picture hat was edged in chiffon and matching lace and she carried white roses and baby's breath.

Miss Jennifer Moffo, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Barbara Moffo, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid.

Serving as best man was Frank Kerrill. Ushers were Joe Petlick, and Dominic Moffo Jr. and Thomas Moffo, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held at the Holiday Inn, Michigan City.

The couple is making their home in Sister Lakes until August, when they will reside in Michigan City.

The bride is a graduate of Marquette high school, Michigan City, and received her bachelor of arts degree in English from St. Joseph's college. She received her master of science degree in education administration and supervision from Chicago State university. She will begin duties Aug. 1 as assistant principal of Portage, Ind., high school. Her husband is a graduate of Lake Michigan Catholic high school and received his bachelor of science degree in business administration from St. Joseph's college. He is an accountant for

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Column Shares Troubles

Dear Ann: Love you. Love your column. Heard you speak in Huntington, Long Island, and can attest to the fact that you are a Dynamite Lady. Let there be no mistake about it. I'm on your side. But — I wonder if you have a clear picture of what your column is all about? Your response to "Tell Someone Else" raises some serious questions in my mind.

You said, "Superior people talk about ideas. Mediocre people talk about other people." Surely you must realize that each and every one of us enjoys a little gossip. In fact, your column is the most widely read gossip column in the world. People can't wait to see what their neighbors, friends, relatives, colleagues and fellow workers are up to. The saving grace is that all who write in are protected by the merciful cloak of anonymity. At least nobody is hurt. Just sign me — A Little Person Who Likes To Talk About Other People.

Dear Person: If one considers other people's problems "gossip" then I am guilty as charged, but I view this column in quite a different light. To me it represents an opportunity for anyone and everyone to unload anger, fear, hostility, guilt, frustration — the full gamut of human emotions.

I try to print letters that deal with every aspect of life. Although some of them may seem bizarre, let me assure you nothing is so outrageous or crazy that somebody won't do it.

The service aspect of this column is the most important. We have on file in Chicago the names and addresses of the agencies and self-help groups in every one of the nearly 850 cities that print this column. We offer guidance to thousands of people every month so they can get the continuing help they need.

Of course there are those who read Ann Landers for laughs, and I have no objection to this. (It may be their ONLY laugh for the day.) Humor can take the sting out of misery. Laughter can be good medicine.

Anyone who reads this column regularly cannot help but recognize himself — or his son, or his wife, or his daughter or his boss — eventually. Trouble is the common denominator of living. It is also a great equalizer. When we share the same kind of trouble we become brothers and sisters under the skin. That, to me, is what this column is all about.

Imaginary Friend

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old girl who wonders if she is a little crazy. When I am alone I always imagine I am with certain people (mostly movie stars). It's gotten much worse lately — especially at bedtime.

When I was little I was afraid to sleep by myself so I invented these "friends." My current bed partner is Dustin Hoffman. Am I normal? — Des Moines

Dear D.M.: Very. There is

ANN LANDERS

Dr. Lester Coleman

Is it safe for children to use contact lenses? — Mrs. G.A., R.I.

Dear Mrs. A.: Eye specialists are using contact lenses for children who have severe types of shortsightedness, astigmatism and for some eye birth defects.

Very young children are remarkably reliable, even at the age of five, in inserting or removing contact lenses without doing damage to their eyes.

Can an infant who is known to be allergic to cow's milk grow normally with milk substitutes? — Mrs. R.R., Ore.

Dear Mrs. R.: Milk, of course, is considered to be the perfect food. It has all of the vitamins and minerals for normal growth.

But so frequently is there an allergy to milk that nutritionists have sought and found many excellent substitutes that fulfill all the infant's requirements for healthy growth.

Goat's milk and synthetic soy bean milks with additives contain excellent nutrients. It is not unusual for a milk allergy to disappear when the child is two or three years old.

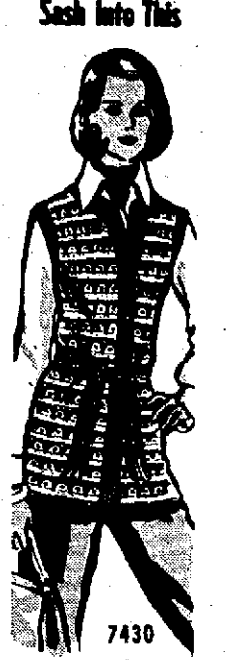

Even after a good night's sleep I suddenly become drowsy and can barely keep my eyes open at work. I don't take any drugs and don't understand why this happens. — Miss S.V.L., Va.

Dear Miss L.: A temporary feeling of drow-

nothing crazy about fantasizing. In fact it serves a very useful purpose. Enjoy yourself, honey, and stop worrying.

CONFIDENTIAL: To Who Pays for the Replacement? You do. People who have help in their homes should expect breakage over a period of time. Even smart and careful housewives have been known to drop things.

How young is too young for a child to learn about sex? That's just one thing you'll find in Ann Landers's new booklet, "How, What and When to Tell Your Child About Sex." Send 50 cents in coin, along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

Brand X Of Fashion

If you ever hear that I jumped into a jump suit, don't believe it. I was pushed.

This has to be the Brand X of the fashion industry. There are only six women in this country who look well in jump suits. Five of them are terminal and the other was sired by a Xerox machine.

Our of sheer curiosity, I was rummaging through a rack of them when a saleswoman approached and asked, "Which size are you? 12? 14? 16?"

"Yes," I said. "Which?" she pursued.

"All three. My bust is a 12, my waist a 14, and my hips 16."

"Try the 14," she said dryly. "The fitting room is behind better dresses."

The fitting room was something I had never seen before. It was a community deal — a large room with 16 mirrors on the wall, a rack in the center to hang discarded and a woman by the door to make sure you didn't wear out any more than you wore in.

A fitting room to me has always been like a confessional — where my body and my contribution take up the entire room. There is no room for anyone else. I looked around. All eyes seemed to be focused on one woman. She weighed about six pounds and was trying on a jump suit ... one of the six women mentioned above. It slid on easily, up over her hips and onto her arms. I winced as she distributed the cloth left over around her waist.

I looked at the crowd who could not take their eyes off her. I had seen that look of recent-ment and pain on only one other occasion. It was a Charlton Heston movie just before the door slid back between the Christians and the lions.

Inching closer, I whispered, "Lady, you better get out of here before they tear you to shreds."

It was my turn. For 15 minutes, I lagged and inched my way into the jump suit and looked into the mirror. The chest was disguised as a back, the stomach strained at the buttons, the legs were numb without circulation and the hems swirled around the floor.

"How do you ..."

"You get a carton of water pills with every suit," offered the salesperson.

Tennis Star Topic For BH Library Film

Billie Jean King, the first woman in any sport to win over $100,000 in the first full year of a women's tour, will be subject of a film of the same name shown Monday, July 12, at 12:15 p.m. in the Benton Harbor public library auditorium.

Included in the film is a match in which she is defeated by Chris Evert.

The public is invited and anyone wishing to bring a lunch may do so.

Books added to the library collection include "The Control of Candy Jones," Donald Bain; "Heroes," Joe McGinniss; "Lost Profile," Françoise Sagan; "The Whisper of the Axe," Richard Condon; "Scoundrel Time," Lillian Hellman; "In My Father's House," Corrie ten Boom; "The Creative Balance," Elliot Richardson, and "Personal Freedom," Arthur Deikman, MD.

Benefit Balloon Sale

NEW BUFFALO — "Wizards of Education," a teacher organization of the New Buffalo and River Valley area schools, will sponsor a balloon sale during the New Buffalo Heritage Days, July 16, 17 and 18.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to initiate a scholarship fund for a New Buffalo or River Valley student. Officers of "Wizards of Education" are Lou James, president, Gailen; Alyce Scott, vice president, New Buffalo; Anna Lee Abendshien, secretary, Sawyer, and Ingrid Cooney, treasurer, Sawyer.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't do anything today that could jeopardize your image or standing in the community. You're out on a shaky limb.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Certain views you support will not be popular with your friends today. Don't espouse causes that will arouse their ire.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you're not careful today you're likely to come out on the short end in business, especially if trading with unfamiliar firms.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Do all you can to appease your mate today if you want to keep peace at home, even though his demands are apt to be unreasonable.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're likely to fall heir to the problems of others today, causing you to contend with more duties than usual.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A well-meaning friend may tout you on to something today she thinks is a good deal. Realistically, it's anything but a bargain.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Look out for those in your charge today to see that they're not taken advantage of by someone who is unscrupulous.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) If you read more into things today than others intend, you're likely to create a problem that could be avoided. Give the other guy the benefit of doubt.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) You're not likely to be at your best today in managing your resources or those of others. Watch your step.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be tactful in handling companions and associates today. Wrong moves could alienate them quicker than you may think.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Because you're apt to keep to yourself things that disturb you today, others will not know how to snap you out of your doldrums.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Avoid social situations where there will be people present whose company you don't enjoy. They could be especially irksome today.

West opened the ace of hearts and continued to his partner's king. East led a third heart and cleared the suit.

Things didn't look at all good for South. The defense had two tricks in with two more hearts set up as winners. Of course, there was a diamond finesse available but South knew it just wasn't going to work. East needed the king of diamonds for his bid and furthermore West would have responded with an ace and a king.

So South played dummy's ace of diamonds and was well rewarded when the singleton king dropped.

NEW YORK (AP) — Two pennies can make all the difference between a good photograph of your child — and a great one, says Dino Semprini, the owner of a portrait studio here and a noted photographer of children.

According to him, the pose conveys the feeling you want to impart in your photograph. Since the difficulty lies in coaxing an active youngster to maintain one position the few seconds, needed for the photograph, Semprini plays games.

"I place two bright, shiny pennies on the floor," he says, "and I challenge the child to keep each covered with a foot. It works every time."

He has other methods for achieving good results. Since "involved" children are more photogenic, he has toys and games on hand to help strike lively, responsive moods. He also has tall props, such as stuffed animals, so the child remains preoccupied.

The parent is another attention-getter he uses to maintain interest. "The presence of mother or father reduces fears of unfamiliar surroundings," he says. "At the same time, the parent can coax different facial expressions, if they are needed."

And he takes plenty of poses. "The amateur often stops clicking when he thinks he has it. The pro keeps on shooting until he knows he has it," he declares.

Gone are the days when well-scrubbed children, primed in starched sartorial splendor, stared stiffly out of a photograph with waxen expressions engraved on their young faces, Semprini points out.

"Modern lighting and fast film have changed all that," he explains. "Today, children look more casual in realistic portraits that are every bit as appealing."

"And apparel no longer makes a difference. Children look just as well in everyday-school clothes as in Sunday-best outfits."

Semprini recommends that small boys wear trousers or short pants with knit tops and that girls wear one-piece dresses or play clothes. Since the photos will be in color he suggests parents bear that in mind as they select the outfit.

"But unless there is a strong preference, avoid dressing the child in plaid clothes, or ones patterned with stripes or polka-dots," he advises. "In a photograph, a busy print draws the eye away from the face of the child."

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Column Shares Troubles

Dear Ann: Love you. Love your column. Heard you speak in Huntington, Long Island, and can attest to the fact that you are a Dynamite Lady. Let there be no mistake about it. I'm on your side. But — I wonder if you have a clear picture of what your column is all about? Your response to "Tell Someone Else" raises some serious questions in my mind.

You said, "Superior people talk about ideas. Mediocre people talk about things. Little people talk about other people." Surely you must realize that each and every one of us enjoys a little gossip. In fact, your column is the most widely read gossip column in the world. People can't wait to see what their neighbors, friends, relatives, colleagues and fellow workers are up to. The saving grace is that all who write in are protected by the merciful cloak of anonymity. At least nobody is hurt. Just sign me — A Little Person Who Likes To Talk About Other People in quite a different light. To me it represents an opportunity for anyone and everyone to unload anger, fear, hostility, guilt, frustration — the full gamut of human emotions.

Dear Person: If one considers other people's problems "gossip" then I am guilty as charged, but I view this column

I try to print letters that deal with every aspect of life. Although some of them may seem bizarre, let me assure you nothing is so outrageous or crazy that somebody won't do it.

The service aspect of this column is the most important. We have on file in Chicago the names and addresses of the agencies and self-help groups in every one of the nearly 850 cities that print this column. We offer guidance to thousands of people every month so they can get the continuing help they need.

Of course there are those who read Ann Landers for laughs, and I have no objection to this. (It may be their ONLY laugh for the day.) Humor can take the sting out of misery. Laughter can be good medicine.

Anyone who reads this column regularly cannot help but recognize himself — or his son, or his wife, or his daughter or his boss — eventually. Trouble is the common denominator of living. It is also a great equalizer. When we share the same kind of trouble we become brothers and sisters under the skin. That, to me, is what this column is all about.

Imaginary Friend

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old girl who wonders if she is a little crazy. When I am alone I always imagine I am with certain people (mostly movie stars). It's gotten much worse lately — especially at bedtime.

When I was little I was afraid to sleep by myself so I invented these "friends." My current bed partner is Dustin Hoffman. Am I normal? — Des Moines

Dear D.M.: Very. There is

ANN LANDERS

nothing crazy about fantasizing. In fact it serves a very useful purpose. Enjoy yourself, honey, and stop worrying.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WHO PAYS for the Replacement? You do. People who have help in their homes should expect breakage over a period of time. Even smart and careful housewives have been known to drop things.

How young is too young for a child to learn about sex? That's just one thing you'll find in Ann Landers's new booklet, "How, What and When to Tell Your Child About Sex." Send 50 cents in coin, along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

Is it safe for children to use contact lenses? — Mrs. G.A., R.I.

Dear Mrs. A.: Eye specialists are using contact lenses for children who have severe types of shortsightedness, astigmatism and for some eye birth defects.

Very young children are remarkably reliable, even at the age of five, in inserting or removing contact lenses without doing damage to their eyes.

Can an infant who is known to be allergic to cow's milk grow normally with milk substitutes? — Mrs. R.R., Ore.

Dear Mrs. R.: Milk, of course, is considered to be the perfect food. It has all of the vitamins and minerals for normal growth.

But so frequently is there an allergy to milk that nutritionists have sought and found many excellent substitutes that fulfill all the infant's requirements for healthy growth.

Goat's milk and synthetic soy bean milks with additives contain excellent nutritives.

It is not unusual for a milk allergy to disappear when the child is two or three years old.

Even after a good night's sleep I suddenly become drowsy and can barely keep my eyes open at work. I don't take any drugs and don't understand why this happens. — Miss S.V.L., Va.

Dear Miss L.: A temporary feeling of drow-ness in the absence of any drugs may be the result of a poorly ventilated room, excess humidity, or a room that is too warm.

Many people have a lethargic feeling after lunch, especially if they have eaten too much.

Alcohol, wine or beer may also add to the drowsiness.

Low blood sugar may be a factor, too.

Occupations where there are fumes and pollutants in the air can produce drowsiness.

A condition known as "narcolepsy" occurs in adolescents and young adults. This occurs more often in men than in women and is associated with an uncontrollable desire to sleep, even after a good night's rest.

Special studies of your sleep patterns may be necessary to track down the exact cause of your overwhelming sleepiness.

Brand X Of Fashion

If you ever hear that I jumped into a jump suit, don't believe it. I was pushed.

This has to be the Brand X of the fashion industry.

There are only six women in this country who look well in jump suits. Five of them are terminal and the other was sired by a Xerox machine.

Our of sheer curiosity, I was rummaging through a rack of them when a saleswoman approached and asked, "Which size are you? 12? 14? 16?"

"Yes," I said.

"Which?" she pursued.

"All three. My bust is a 12, my waist a 14, and my hips 16."

"Try the 14," she said dryly.

"The fitting room is behind better dresses."

The fitting room was something I had never seen before. It was a community deal — a large room with 16 mirrors on the wall, a rack in the center to hang discarded and a woman by the door to make sure you didn't wear out any more than you wore in.

A fitting room to me has always been like a confessional — where my body and my contrition take up the entire room. There is no room for anyone else. I looked around. All eyes seemed to be focused on one woman. She weighed about six pounds and was trying on a jump suit . . . one of the six women mentioned above. It slid on easily, up over her hips and onto her arms. I winced as she distributed the cloth left over around her waist.

I looked at the crowd who could not take their eyes off her. I had seen that look of resentment and pain on only one other occasion. It was a Charlton Heston movie just before the door slid back between the Christians and the lions.

Inching closer, I whispered, "Lady, you better get out of here before they tear you to shreds."

It was my turn. For 15 minutes, I tugged and inched my way into the jump suit and looked into the mirror. The chest was disguised as a back, the stomach strained at the buttons, the legs were numb without circulation and the hem swirled around the floor.

"How do you . . ."

"You get a carton of water pills with every suit," offered the salesperson.

I didn't buy the jump suit, but what the heck. For awhile seven women forgot about the Panama Canal.

The poet who may or may not have said, "Tis better to have finessed and lost, than never to have finessed at all" could not have been much of a bridge player.

One time when you should refuse to finesses is when you know that the finesse can't win. In such cases you can always hope that the missing honor will drop.

South's jump to three no-trump was a trifle ambitious. He really wanted to win and felt the way to win was to get to game and hope for the best.

Democrats To Plead For Money

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The television commercial interruptions of the Democratic National Convention next week will include advertisements of the Democrats, by the Democrats, for the Democrats.

The message: Send money. The Democratic National Committee has bought eight television spots, two each on two networks, Monday and Wednesday night.

"We'll have primarily a Democratic audience," S. Lee Kling, the party finance chairman, said in an interview Thursday. "What better time to say to them, 'We'd like you to support us with small contributions.'"

The Democrats have raised money previously by staging telethons, but this will be the first time they've joined soap and deodorants to appeal for the dollar.

The commercials will cost in the neighborhood of $120,000, Kling said, and will star party chairman Robert S. Strauss and others not yet selected.

Officials wanted to have the contributions sent to Box 1878, in keeping with the year, but alas, someone else already has the magic number.

The federal government, through the dollar income-tax checkoff, is picking up the $2,182,000 convention cost. In past conventions, the Democrats raised the money by selling advertisements in their convention program. But the same law that gives them convention money prevents them from accepting advertising.

Thus, the program is a relatively slim 132-page book. With no convention costs to worry about, the Democrats are concentrating on raising $10 million for the campaign ahead.

The law allows individual contributions of no more than $1,000 to the candidate, but individual donations of up to $20,000 can be made to the party.

"The fat cat this year will really be the person who gives us $20,000," Kling says. He laughs and says, "I've been finance chairman since 1973 and I have never seen a contribution over $5,000."

The change in the law puts a lot more financial muscle into the political parties, often forgotten in the past because candidates received contributions directly. Richard M. Nixon's campaign people raised more than $60 million in 1972. The Republican National Committee, meanwhile, was treated like Cinderella.

The campaigns after the conventions also will be financed by the taxpayer to the tune of $21,820,000 each if the candidate does no fundraising on his own, but the parties can spend money in his behalf.

The Democrats want to help out their man with $3.5 million. Kling says if the $10 million goal is realized, the DNC will spend $2.5 million for voter registration, $1.5 million for a get-out-the-vote campaign and $1 million for training campaign workers, polling and such.

Drilling Review Sought

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Two Michigan environmental groups have asked the state Natural Resources Commission to reconsider a decision permitting limited gas and oil drilling in the Pigeon River Country State Forest. The West Michigan Environmental Action Council and Pigeon River Country Association threatened legal action if the commission refuses to review the decision. Roger Conner, executive director of the West Michigan group, said Thursday the decision was based on the faulty premise that the commission could not legally deny drilling rights to the oil companies. "The question of (the commission's) legal authority hung like a pall over this whole issue," said Conner. "We believe they had the legal right to deny drilling and should have invoked it."

Democrats To Plead For Money

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The television commercial interruptions of the Democratic National Convention next week will include advertisements of the Democrats, by the Democrats, for the Democrats.

The message: Send money. The Democratic National Committee has bought eight television spots, two each on two networks, Monday and Wednesday night.

"We'll have primarily a Democratic audience," S. Lee Kling, the party finance chairman, said in an interview Thursday. "What better time to say to them, 'We'd like you to support us with small contributions.'"

The Democrats have raised money previously by staging telethons, but this will be the first time they've joined soap and deodorants to appeal for the dollar.

The commercials will cost in the neighborhood of $120,000, Kling said, and will star party chairman Robert S. Strauss and others not yet selected.

Officials wanted to have the contributions sent to Box 1976, in keeping with the year, but alas, someone else already has the magic number.

The federal government, through the dollar income-tax checkoff, is picking up the $2,182,000 convention cost. In past conventions, the Democrats raised the money by selling advertisements in their convention program. But the same law that gives them convention money prevents them from accepting advertising. Thus, the program is a relatively slim 132-page book.

With no convention costs to worry about, the Democrats are concentrating on raising $10 million for the campaign ahead.

The law allows individual contributions of no more than $1,000 to the candidate, but individual donations of up to $20,000 can be made to the party.

"The fat cat this year will really be the person who gives us $20,000," Kling says. He laughs and says, "I've been finance chairman since 1973 and I have never seen a contribution over $5,000."

The change in the law puts a lot more financial muscle into the political parties, often forgotten in the past because candidates received contributions directly. Richard M. Nixon's campaign people raised more than $60 million in 1972. The Republican National Committee, meanwhile, was treated like Cinderella.

The campaigns after the conventions also will be financed by the taxpayer to the tune of $21,820,000 each if the candidate does no fundraising on his own, but the parties can spend money in his behalf.

The Democrats will help out their man with $3.5 million. Kling says if the $10 million goal is realized, the DNC will spend $2.5 million for voter registration, $1.5 million for a get-out-the-vote campaign and $1 million for training campaign workers, polling and such.

Drilling Review Sought

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Two Michigan environmental groups have asked the state Natural Resources Commission to reconsider a decision permitting limited gas and oil drilling in the Pigeon River Country State Forest. The West Michigan Environmental Action Council and Pigeon River Country Association threatened legal action if the commission refuses to review the decision. Roger Conner, executive director of the West Michigan group, said Thursday the decision was based on the faulty premise that the commission could not legally deny drilling rights to the oil companies. "The question of (the commission's) legal authority hung like a pall over this whole issue," said Conner. "We believe they had the legal right to deny drilling and should have invoked it."

Reagan To Woo Colorado Votes

CHICAGO (AP) — Ronald Reagan headed for potentially greener pastures in Colorado today after suffering his worst setback in several weeks in his campaign for the Republican nomination for president.

President Ford gained 23 delegates Thursday and Reagan picked up three in delegate elections in North Dakota and commitments from previously uncommitted delegates in six other states and territories.

That gave Ford 1,028 of the 1,130 delegates needed for the Republican nomination. Reagan, who had been steadily gaining in recent weeks, trails with 979 in The Associated Press' survey of GOP delegates.

And Reagan, while still predicting a first-ballot victory next month in Kansas City, devoted a significant portion of his day Thursday to trying to head off second-ballot slippage if the convention gets to that point.

He held several private meetings with about a dozen Indiana delegates — who are legally bound to him only on the first ballot — to solidify their support.

The former California governor planned to meet today with state convention delegates in Colorado. The state meeting was scheduled to elect 25 national convention delegates today and Saturday.

Jim Lake, Reagan's press secretary, said he hoped to win at least 19 of those delegates, which would balance some of Thursday's losses.

Reagan, who spent most of Thursday courting delegates from Illinois and Missouri, as well as those from Indiana, in a marathon series of private meetings at a Chicago hotel, did not comment on the North Dakota loss.

A number of the delegates pledging themselves to Ford Thursday had been expected by both campaigns to go that way.

But North Dakota, where

New Tax In NJ To Aid Schools

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Brendan T. Byrne has signed into law personal income tax legislation that will provide funds for the reopening of New Jersey's public schools.

The bill signed Thursday ended a 10-year battle over the income tax in New Jersey. It creates a new system of school aid for the state and will permit the schools to reopen Monday, providing the state Supreme Court lifts its injunction closing them.

The tax would expire June 30, 1978, under companion legislation not yet signed by Byrne.

New Jersey joins 40 other states that levy a personal income tax. The new law, retroactive to July 1, taxes earnings up to $20,000 a year at 2 per cent and anything beyond that at 2.5 per cent.

Payroll deductions will begin Sept. 1.

Byrne called the bill, passed narrowly in both houses of the legislature, the completion of "the toughest task approached by the legislature in this century."

"This does not represent a giant leap toward the ultimate in tax reform but it is a significant contribution and represents real tax reform and a more equitable system of public education," Byrne said.

The income tax will raise $775 million, including $375 million in school funds. After signing the bill, Byrne sent a letter to Chief Justice Richard J. Hughes asking the court to lift the injunction that closed the schools.

The court ruled on May 13 that if the state did not come up with new financing system by June 30, the schools would have to close.

The court held more than three years ago that reliance on local property taxes to finance schools violated the state constitution.

Nurses' Defense To Top $200,000

MANILA, The Philippines (AP) — Defending two Philippine nurses charged with killing five patients in an Ann Arbor, Mich., hospital will cost between $200,000 and $300,000, the lawyer who has volunteered to defend them said Thursday.

Estanislao Fernandez, a 71-year-old retired justice of the Philippine Supreme Court, made the estimate at the opening of a drive sponsored by several Philippine nursing organizations to raise defense funds for the two women.

The drive started with about $6,650 in cash and pledges and aims at raising one million pesos, about $133,000.

The nurses, Filipina Narciso and Leonora Perez, were charged last month with the deaths and are now free on $7,500 bond each.

Their case has attracted widespread attention in the Philippines, where the government officially protested to the United States over high bail originally required for the two.

Fernandez said the money would be used to produce special witnesses such as sociologists and psychologists. He said he thought the prosecution and defense would take about two months each to present their cases.

FUND TRUSTEES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five more Central States pension fund trustees are scheduled to be questioned during the next week by government investigators who interrogated Teamsters Union President Frank E. Fitzsimmons for two days about the huge fund.

Fitzsimmons' questioning at the Labor Department ended Thursday with Fitzsimmons, his lawyers and department officials all declining to comment.

CHICAGO (AP) — Ronald Reagan headed for potentially greener pastures in Colorado today after suffering his worst setback in several weeks in his campaign for the Republican nomination for president.

President Ford gained 24 delegates Thursday and Reagan picked up three in delegate elections in North Dakota and commitments from previously uncommitted delegates in six other states and territories.

Reagan campaigned in person, was a setback, although Lake claimed the opposite.

Reagan had said he hoped for a "rough split," and various aides had predicted winning six to nine of the North Dakota delegates. In voting Thursday, 18 legally uncommitted delegates were elected — 10 who declared for Ford, three for Reagan and five uncommitted.

After Colorado picks its delegates, there will be 55 still to be named, and Ford is the favorite to gain more ground.

Balloonist: I'm 'Stupid Evel Knievel'

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — Describing himself as “the stupid Evel Knievel,” Michigan balloonist Karl Thomas says he won’t try another trans-Atlantic balloon trip, but will dream up other worlds to conquer instead.

Thomas on Thursday luxuriated aboard the Russian vessel that rescued him and described his harrowing 32-hour balloon ride that ended when the balloon came apart in a storm and he fell 200 feet into the sea. Thomas spent four days on a raft before the Dekabrist sighted him and crewmen pulled him aboard.

“I’m the stupid Evel Knievel,” said Thomas. “I do this foolishness for nothing.”

With his wife, Michele, at his side, the balloonist said “there will be no next time. Much of what we got out of it was the five or six months preparation process. To repeat it would be like going through the same grade in school again.”

Thomas said he and his friends have attempted to have unique adventures every year. He has ridden a raft down the Colorado River and has fought bulls in Guatemala.

“We’ve got a picture with Karl moving onto the bulls’ horns,” said Michele. “His friends were up in a tree with a camera.”

“We have a whole winter to think up another project,” said the ex-balloonist.

Newsmen swarmed over the Russian ship Dekabrist to interview Thomas as he described his ordeal.

“We had a beautiful takeoff,” said Thomas, but added that he ran into a line of storms on Sunday which forced him down.

“I threw ballast and water overboard and prepared for a water landing. There seemed to be no way to stay up in the storm.”

He said four of the seven contact points for his ropes broke, tipping the gondola at a 90-degree angle.

“I hung on. I was looking for my parachute and life raft, and they were floating in the water. I wasn’t sure the rest of the releases would hold. So I let go and fell 200 feet.”

A finger was cut in the fall, his wrist was bleeding and his lung was hurt. “I was spitting blood,” he said.

NOT FOR DINNER: Babette, a 10-year-old poodle, plays mother two two abandoned newborn rabbits. Last year, Babette cared for an orphaned kitten. The dog’s owner, Mrs. Patricia Seaton of Omaha, Neb., says she “hopes nobody drops off a baby elephant.” (AP Wirephoto)

He said a turtle and some sharks poked his raft in the next few days, but he managed to hold them off with a sharp stick.

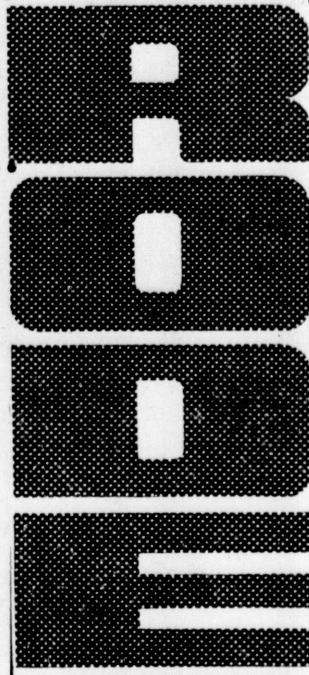

He spotted one nearby ship, which apparently did not see him, although he fired a flare.

On Wednesday, he spotted the Dekabrist, which rescued him after sighting his flares.

“I knew nothing about the balloon,” said Dekabrist Captain Vladimir Egorov. “Karl was very, very weak,” said Alexander Trofimov, who looked after Thomas in the ship’s infirmary. “He had no feeling in his hand. He had chest wounds and pain on the right side of the chest.”

Chuckie O'Brien Faces Charges

MIAMI (AP) — Charles “Chuckie” O'Brien, self-described former Teamsters President Jimmy Hoffa, was scheduled to appear before a U.S. magistrate in Miami today after his arrest Thursday on misdemeanor charges of violating the Taft-Hartley Act.

O'Brien, a Teamsters official, was arrested at the union's Hallandale office and freed on $10,000 personal recognizance bond, according to the U.S. Marshall's office.

The arrest came on a sealed federal indictment issued in Detroit alleging restrictions on payments to employee representatives, according to a Justice Department spokesman in Miami.

O'Brien said Thursday he will return to Detroit voluntarily early next week.

The indictment reportedly has no connection with the disappearance of Hoffa last July 30 but involves a charge that O'Brien accepted a gift from a car dealer he was trying to organize in metropolitan Detroit.

O'Brien came into prominence early in the Hoffa investigation when he admitted to the FBI he drove a car owned by the son of reputed Detroit Mafia figure Anthony “Tony Jack” Giacalone last July near the restaurant where Hoffa was last seen.

Hoffa believed he was on his way to a meeting with Giacalone, New Jersey Teamster Anthony “Tony Pro” Provenzano and another man when he disappeared.

Provenzano and Salvatore Briguglio have been charged in a New Jersey slaying 15 years ago. No one has been indicted in the Hoffa probe.

Buffalino Ruling Due Today

DETROIT (AP) — A federal judge was set to rule today on whether to block Teamster lawyer William Bufalino and his son from representing witnesses before the federal grand jury probing the disappearance of ex-union boss James R. Hoffa.

Teamsters local in Detroit, has represented Hoffa case witnesses Anthony “Tony Pro” Provenzano, Salvatore Briguglio, Gabriel Briguglio, Thomas Andretta, Stephen Andretta and others.

Provenzano is one of the men Hoffa believed he was on his way to meet last July 30, the day the ex-Teamsters leader vanished. The Briguglio brothers and Thomas Andretta have been named by a government informant as the men who abducted and presumably murdered Hoffa, according to federal prosecutors.

The Bufalinos most recent clients in the Hoffa case are Armand Castellito, Paul Ciampi, Karen Schnable, all employed at Provenzano's Local 560 in Union City, N.J., and Paul Formo, a member of the local. All appeared at the Hoffa grand jury this week and submitted affidavits saying they were satisfied with the Bufalinos as their legal counsel.

Crime Advisory Council Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal law enforcement agency has asked a multi-racial council of Americans for help in identifying and solving criminal justice problems that confront minorities and women.

Richard Velde, head of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, today announced the appointment of the 15-member National Minority Advisory Council on Criminal Justice.

CHAMP MEETS THE QUEEN: Queen Elizabeth II chats with heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali in the garden of the British Embassy Thursday night in Washington. The Queen mingled with guests in the garden following a dinner in honor of President Ford. (AP Wirephoto)

Queen Ends Washington Visit With Dinner, Party

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II gave a farewell dinner and a garden party for 1,500 guests as she ended the Washington leg of her Bicentennial tour and prepared to move on to New York and New Jersey today.

President Ford was the guest of honor at the Thursday night dinner at the British Embassy, but Mrs. Ford missed the colorful finale of the royal visit because of a head cold.

Aides said Mrs. Ford hoped to be well enough to dine with the queen and Prince Philip aboard the royal yacht Britannia at Newport, R.I., on Saturday.

Ford had arrived too early, reaching the embassy before the queen. So his motorcade had to drive around several minutes to give the queen a chance to get to the embassy so she could greet him on his arrival.

The queen's two days of fast-paced sightseeing and ceremonies in Washington ended at midnight Thursday with white-uniformed British royal guard musicians sounding retreat in a ceremony on the flood-lit embassy terrace.

The royal couple had invited 80 guests for dinner in the embassy ballroom with the Fords. Most of those invited were government officials, but there were such other notables as actress Elizabeth Taylor, comedian Bob Hope, Alfred Lunt and Lynne Fontanne and violinist Yehudi Menuhin, who played a solo after dinner with students from a music school in England that is named after him.

Outside, while the dinner was underway, the 1,500 guests invited to the reception gathered under three huge red-and-white striped tents for a buffet and drinks.

Queen Elizabeth was resplendent in an outfit of diamonds and a tiara. She wore the blue sash of the Order of the Garter on a gown of sea-green silk, with the bodice embroidered in gold.

The embassy had to cope with an early evening rainstorm. The weather cleared for the party, but left soggy grass that ruined many a pair of evening shoes for women in formal attire.

Among those at the reception was Muhammad Ali, world heavyweight boxing champion, who is recovering from leg injuries suffered in an exhibition bout with a Japanese wrestler.

Ali said the queen said "she hoped my leg was getting better." Ford asked about the boxer's injury, too, and warned Ali to look after his legs, saying, "I know about bad knees."

'We Could Do It Again,' Say Israelis

By FRANK CREPEAU
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — "We could do it again, if it happened again, in a couple of days or a couple of weeks," said Israel's chief of staff in a review of the commando rescue of 102 hostages from Uganda.

From the moment the hijacked French jetliner landed at Entebbe airport on June 28, the Israeli military began planning the rescue. Lt. Gen. Mordechai Gur told a news conference Thursday.

Plans were considered and rejected. Intelligence sources constantly provided new information. The commandos were assembled on Thursday, and the raid was rehearsed on Friday, apparently on a replica of the Entebbe airport.

Gur said he went before the cabinet Saturday and told it, "This time I'm showing you an implementable plan."

"When we told the troops it was actually going to happen, they couldn't believe their ears," he said.

Gur said he talked to "the four pilots and their navigators," in effect confirming that a fourth plane was used in addition to the three previously reported. A report from Kenya on Thursday said the fourth plane was a flying hospital that waited at Nairobi for the return of the hostages.

Gur said his chief of operations and the Israeli air force chief were also aloft over Africa, "somewhere on the way" between Tel Aviv and Entebbe. He said both commanders "could hear all the comments of all the forces."

The chief of staff gave this account of the rescue operation:

"The first strike force charged out in vehicles and raced to the old terminal building where the hostages were being held. Two Ugandan soldiers who challenged them were shot by Lt. Col. Yonatan Netanyahu. The commandos achieved "total surprise" and reached the terminal in "fantastically fast time. They had orders to split up and enter all doors of the building and kill any hijackers guarding the captives with one burst of fire."

Meanwhile, another force broke through two other doors into the building and ran upstairs to take care of the Ugandan soldiers there. Some were shot inside; others were hit on the runway outside.

From a distance of 150 yards, Israeli jets opened fire on MIG gun fighters lined up several dozen yards from the terminal. "One by one they caught fire and blew up," Uganda later reported about 10 were destroyed.

Meanwhile at United Nations, Diplomats predicted today that the Security Council debate on the Israeli rescue of hijacked hostages from Uganda will produce some of the angriest confrontations seen at the United Nations since the 1973 Arab-Israeli war.

The debate opens this afternoon, and observers expected it to be lengthy. Most of the 40 black and Arab African nations were reported planning to address the council. However, the debate was not expected to produce any concrete action against Israel, Uganda or terrorism.

African countries were readying a resolution strongly condemning Israel and demanding that it compensate Uganda for all damage done in the raid. U.S. officials said the United States would veto any resolution condemning Israel.

Israeli Ambassador Chaim Herzog planned to accuse Ugandan President Idi Amin of collaborating with the Palestinian and German hijackers. Israeli officials said he would also argue that saving the lives of the passengers and crew of the Air France jetliner took priority over respect for Ugandan sovereignty.

Lake Michigan Catholic Ups Athletic Budget To $36,502

The Lake Michigan Catholic board of education at its regular meeting Wednesday night approved the district's athletic association budget of $36,502 for the 1976-77 school year.

The budget, up from last year's $33,000, is raised by association members and is used for athletic programs in the LMC district.

In another athletic matter, the board elevated former junior varsity baseball coach Gary Boyce to varsity baseball coach.

Boyce has been with LMC for two years. He replaces Al Nixon who resigned the baseball post. The board also accepted the resignation of Mary Lou Pilley, a teacher at the elementary school.

A Word Edgewise

Those of us whose scars from the Indochina defeat have not yet fully healed found them extremely sore and itchy last week. Unless you follow the foreign press and shortwave you have probably missed the ominous developments in Thailand, events which recall, with a depressing sense of deja vu, the early years of our involvement in South Vietnam.

The problem of American news coverage itself deserves a few words. According to reliable French sources, the savages who run the Communist Cambodian regime have probably killed directly or indirectly 800,000 people since they took power. Agence Presse France (APF), the official news agency, puts this on its wire, and, with luck, it may get picked up by a few papers elsewhere. As far as the U.S. is concerned, unless there is a correspondent in Bangkok, or the Associated Press and United Press International piggyback the APF story, Cambodia is a non-place.

In contrast, probably because both of the American wire services, and various important newspapers have decided it's a "hot spot," not a police truncheon swings in South Africa without thorough coverage. I am dismayed by the deaths of 150 South African blacks at the hands of the security forces, but recall that the country is now bursting with reporters. The 800,000 dead Khmer in Cambodia have gone virtually unmentioned because the country — if that is the word for an abattoir which issues postage stamps — is closed.

Back to Thailand. The official word has gone out: Southeast Asia, in news terms, is off-the-map. The Thai government contributed to this by declaring unilateral neutrality and kicking out all American service personnel. After all, if the Thai officials considered the war to be over, why should anyone argue with them? Don't they know their customers?

In a word, the answer is "No." In the 19th century the Strike Forces Chrysler Cuts

By OWEN ULLMANN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — A strike at a critical Chrysler Corp. engine plant has forced three car assembly facilities to cut back to half shifts, with two truck plants slated to cut production in half on Monday.

A Chrysler spokesman said a walkout by some 4,400 members of United Auto Workers Local 372 at the Trenton engine plant in suburban Detroit has forced the firm to eliminate 1,700 cars and trucks from this week's production schedules.

Thousands of additional vehicles likely will be trimmed from next week's output, he said.

The workers struck Wednesday in a local dispute involving working conditions, particularly poor ventilation which union officials said has sent temperatures in the facility soaring above 100 degrees.

The company has labeled the walkout "unwarranted." Talks were to resume Thursday afternoon.

A lengthy strike could cripple Chrysler at a time when the industry is in the midst of an unexpectedly strong recovery in the new-car market. It also could provide a sour note for the start of talks between the company and the UAW on a new national labor agreement. The negotiations with Chrysler begin July 21.

Chrysler said its big-car assembly plants in Detroit and Windsor, Ont., began operating on four-hour shifts Thursday. Its Belvidere, Ill., full-size car plant was to go to a half-shift on Friday, while truck assembly plants in Warren, Mich., and Windsor would do the same on Monday, the firm said.

A company spokesman said all five plants would be on half shifts Monday even if the Trenton dispute were settled this week because the walkout "already has sucked our supply line so thin."

Meanwhile, another local strike has idled Chrysler's Verano tool and die shop in Detroit, where 400 members of UAW Local 212 struck Wednesday in a dispute over working conditions and the farming out of shop work to outside contractors.

No talks were scheduled for Thursday to resolve that dispute. However, company spokesmen said the walkout would have no immediate impact on current-model production.

Nine Indicted On Alaska Sex, Gambling Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A former federal prosecutor and eight other persons have been indicted in an alleged scheme to bring prostitution and gambling to workers along the trans-Alaska pipeline.

The indictment returned Thursday in U.S. District Court here outlined an alleged conspiracy to set up a multimillion dollar sex and gambling racket with operations near several construction work camps at Valdez, the pipeline's southern terminus.

Among those indicted were Richard L. McVeigh of Anchorage — a former U.S. attorney and onetime state legislator in Alaska — and Alexander Miller of Fairbanks — an executive with Alaskan International Airlines, an ex-Democratic national committeeman and once a legislative assistant to former Alaska Gov. William A. Egan.

The indictment followed a lengthy investigation that began with reports of widespread corruption aimed at tapping the high wages being paid pipeline workers.

The seven-count indictment includes charges of conspiracy, using interstate facilities in the aid of racketeering and interstate transportation of women for the purpose of prostitution. The San Francisco indictment said several meetings were held here as part of a plan to supply the pipeline workers with prostitutes from Northern California. The proposed venture was supposed to net the defendants from $80,000 a month to $1 million in six months, the indictment said.

An attorney for McVeigh and Miller, William Brockett of San Francisco, said Thursday, "We are going to enter pleas of not guilty because they are not guilty. We're looking forward to a jury trial."

Others named in the indictment were not available for comment.

Brockett said the indictment may have been prompted by a series of articles in the Los Angeles Times alleging corruption along the pipeline. "It may have put some heat on the Justice Department," he said.

The attorney said McVeigh, 43, had done nothing but help the proprietors of a Valdez bar called the Acres get a liquor license. "And two of the co-owners were undercover FBI agents," he said.

"Miller made an introduction but did nothing more," he said, declining to be specific.

Man Found Dead In Pool; Autopsy Slated

Berrien sheriff's officers said a man identified as John Christopher Sommers, 51, was found dead at the bottom of the pool at the Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge, 2699 M-139, South township, Thursday. Capt. Ronald Immoos of the sheriff's office said an autopsy was to be performed today to determine if death was caused by drowning. No foul play is suspected, he said.

Selection Of Jury Recessed

ALLEGAN — Jury selection in the first degree murder trial of Frederick Dixon, 35, Detroit, was scheduled to resume Monday in circuit court here.

Dixon is accused of shooting South Haven Patrolman Michael McAllister last Jan. 8, after McAllister stopped to question a man in Allegan county's Casco township just outside South Haven following a report of gunshots.

The jury selection part of the trial was recessed until Monday because today other court cases were to be heard.

Selection of jurors began Tuesday but has been slow because each juror is being questioned separately to see if he has any prior knowledge of the case.

The man was identified about 9:30 a.m. today through fingerprints at the Berrien county jail, Immoos said. No identification was found at the scene yesterday. Sommers' last address was listed as 1297 Colfax avenue, Benton Harbor.

According to sheriff's reports, the man was seen in the pool by Keith Traugbier, 12, who was at the pool with his mother, Mrs. Joan Traugbier, 1631 Berrien avenue, Benton township. Keith told officers he saw the man dive. He investigated when the man failed to return to the surface and saw him lying on the bottom of the pool where water is reported to be about 12 feet deep.

Keith said he called for help and a motel guest, identified only as Rev. VanEerden, Grand Haven, dove into the pool and pulled the man up on the pool deck. The incident occurred about 5:15 p.m., officers reported.

Immoos said officers confirmed the man was not a motel resident or a guest of a resident and had apparently come into the pool without a pass.

Immoos said the man's clothing was found in a large paper sack on a table near the pool, but said there was no identification of any kind.

Witnesses at the pool told officers the man had been talking to youngsters around the pool prior to the incident and reported he indicated that he did not swim well.

Assistant Lodge Manager Howard Stark told deputies he had asked a man believed to be the victim to leave the pool area about a half hour before. Stark said guests had complained the man was allegedly drinking. A nearly empty bottle of wine was found near the man's clothing, Immoos said.

In addition to the clothing, Immoos said they found a hat and woman's wig, a wristwatch and eyeglasses.

SKIING'S FINE: Ski instructor Liz Hodges sheds all but bikini and boots to try out Gatlinburg (Tenn.) Ski resort's new astro-turf ski slope. The 215,000 square foot slope opened Thursday in 80-degree weather in the heart of the Great Smoky Mountains National park. Tiny ball bearing-like beads covered with silicone solution cover the astro-turf to produce a surface that is 90 per cent as efficient as snow for skiing. (AP Wirephoto)

New Role Eyed For Old Ferry

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Department is studying a proposal to use the aging ferry Chief Wawatam to link the Upper Peninsula with Manitowish Island.

The Canadian government, which administers the island, has agreed to pay half of the study costs with the balance coming from the highway department, officials said.

Carter Finds Choice Tough

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — After back-to-back meetings with Sens. Walter Mondale and John Glenn, Jimmy Carter says he is having a more difficult time choosing a vice presidential running mate than he expected. Mondale, of Minnesota, flew to Carter's hometown in a private plane Thursday morning to meet with him as a vice presidential possibility. And Glenn, from Ohio, followed several hours later. The former Georgia governor said initially he would interview at least five vice presidential possibilities. He later lengthened that list to six or seven. He talked with Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine on Monday.

Christians Claim Victories

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Christian spokesmen claimed today that their forces were attacking 1,200 trapped Palestinians and leftist Lebanese Muslims in the northern coastal village of Enfe. "Their backs are to the sea," said one spokesman. "Our guns are pounding them from all directions and blocking their attempts to escape by boat." Bodies of attacking Christians, fleeing Muslims and villagers caught in the middle dotted the northern coast as the civil-war slaughter raged unabated for the fifth day in that part of the country. Security forces and other sources estimated that 285 persons were killed and 400 wounded in the past 24 hours, raising the estimated toll in 15 months of Moslem-Christian warfare to nearly 32,000 dead.

GI Bill Abuses Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is nearing passage of legislation halting most advance payments to veterans attending school under the GI bill. It is an effort to halt overpayments that have totaled more than $800 million in the past year. The proposal, which would not take effect until next year, is designed to eliminate all advance payments except in hardship cases. With 11 months of the past fiscal year tabulated, overpayments in the program totaled $813 million, nearly double the $446 million of the year before. Part of the increase was attributed by Veterans Administration officials to publicity that brought to light numerous unknown overpayments.

EPA Cracks Down On States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is ordering 45 states to revamp their antipollution programs to meet federal standards, even though clean air plans have reduced pollution levels by 5 per cent annually. Russell Train, who heads the Environmental Protection Agency, said Thursday that stricter compliance in meeting antipollution levels will be needed to ensure that clean air is maintained in the United States. The EPA formally notified 45 governors that their state plans were "substantially inadequate" to obtain or maintain clean air standards in at least one antipollution area: Alaska, Mississippi, Florida, Hawaii and Oklahoma were not affected by the EPA directive.

Defender Appointments

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has announced the appointment of John Stenger of Lansing and Benjamin Gibson of East Lansing to the Michigan Appellate Public Defender Commission. Stenger, a state court of appeals commissioner, succeeds Court of Appeals Judge George Bashara. Gibson, an attorney, succeeds Southfield attorney Seymour Posner. Milliken also reappointed five members to the commission, including Haddon Hargrove of Detroit; John Foley of Vicksburg; John Emery of Grosse Pointe Farms; William Walsh of Port Huron; and Donald Leonard of Detroit. The terms of all seven expire March 13, 1978.

Stunt Fails Again

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — Daredevil Don Viano was pulled from the St. Clair River Thursday after failing in his second try at escaping from an submerged strait-jacket. The 47-year-old escape artist blamed strong currents and high winds for the failure, and promised to try again Saturday night. Viano began his underwater tricks last Monday in a Bicentennial stunt, when he escaped underwater after being chained to a coffin-shaped board. Viano first tried escaping from the armless jacket on Tuesday, but didn't make it. The stunts are part of Port Huron's Blue Water Festival, which continues through Sunday.

A Tall, Tall Plan

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — A Detroit man says he wants to build a 1,700-foot-tall space needle overlooking the Straits of Mackinac. Albert Crist appeared before the Moran Township Board of Supervisors to make the request, saying the proposed project would cost $30 million. However, the board's attorney said the body cannot act on the request because the St. Ignace-area township, in Mackinac County, has no zoning ordinance. Crist said his planned space needle would have restaurants on the 400 and 500 foot levels and an observation deck at the top. Crist said he is having trouble locating the needed funds to build the towering needle.

Two Van Buren Crashes Hurt 3

Van Buren sheriff's deputies reported three people were injured in two separate auto accidents yesterday.

Philip J. Robischung, 74, Kalamazoo, was treated and released at Lake View Community hospital, Paw Paw, as the result of a two-car collision on M-43, northeast of Paw Paw at 2:10 p.m.

Deputies said a vehicle driven by Robischung crashed into the rear-end of a car driven by Carolyn Kuntzman, 32, Kalamazoo, as she was attempting to make a left turn onto 34th avenue. She was not injured.

Randy Routhaux, 17, Viking Trailer park, Hartford, was treated and released from Watervliet Community hospital as the result of an 8:55 p.m. crash on CR-637, south of Keeler.

Deputies said Routhaux was a passenger in a car driven by Timothy Lang, 17, 602 Cherry street, South Haven, which crashed into a telephone pole.

Deputies said Lang was attempting to pass another car when he saw a oncoming vehicle and swerved to get out of the way.

He received cuts from flying glass but was not treated. Both accidents remain under investigation.

Proposed Bail Ban Triggers Heated Debate

By MARY STEVENSON
Associated Press Writer

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Dressed in business clothes instead of boxing shorts and armed with words instead of gloves, two lawmakers battled Thursday over banning bail for certain ex-convicts. "It's time we started protecting society's rights," State Rep. Paul Rosenbaum, D-Battle Creek, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee said at a taping of "Off The Record" on WKAR-TV.

"I say you have a right to bail in all cases," retorted State Sen. Basil Brown, D-Detroit, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The two lawyers debated a proposed constitutional amendment — dead for this year — sponsored by Rosenbaum. The measure, which would have required voter approval, passed the House but never was acted on in Brown's committee.

Rosenbaum accused Brown of stalling the measure, while Brown said he received it too late for a thorough hearing. Brown said he will hold a hearing this summer, although the legislature is recessed and can't act on the proposal in time for the November election.

"I have no intention of going (to the hearing), especially on a moot issue," Rosenbaum said. "I'll set up an empty chair with a dunce cap," Brown replied.

Brown accused Rosenbaum of pushing the proposal "to further his political ambitions." But Rosenbaum replied, "When you do something you think will benefit society, they say it's for political ambitions."

Rosenbaum's proposal, which the governor and the state bar association oppose, would deny bail to those charged with a felony punishable by a maximum of five years to life, who have been convicted of three or more felonies in the preceding 15 years.

The state constitution now prohibits bail only for those charged with first degree murder or treason.

"The basic premise of law is that you're presumed innocent till proven guilty," Brown said. "Nowhere do we lock a man up without proving him guilty first." He said the provision amounts to an unconstitutional preventive detention.

But Rosenbaum said "there is no federal right to bail in all cases."

The measure would also deny bail to persons indicted or arraigned on charges of first-degree murder, treason, criminal sexual conduct, armed robbery or kidnapping with intent to extort, unless the court determines that the person is not likely to be a threat to society.

Brown said this section is so broad that "Everytime any woman screams rape of any kind he (the accused man) becomes unailable."

He added that under this section, well-to-do people with established reputations will have a better chance of getting bail than minorities and poor people.

Rosenbaum denied that, saying the section leaves the question of bail to a judge's discretion.

Brown said that under the proposal, a person convicted three times of stealing shoes from a store could not get bail if he were charged with a fourth felony, while Charles Manson, convicted of the Sharon Tate murders, could commit a felony in Michigan and get bail because he'd have only two felonies on his record.

Berrien Springs Schools To Cut Spending $68,459

BERRIEN SPRINGS — The Berrien Springs school board last night voted to cut $68,459 worth of programs from the 1976-77 school year.

Supt. Jon Schuster said the cuts were necessary if the school district is to remain "economically viable."

He said that even though voters in June had approved levy proposals totaling 6.2 mills, the cuts are still necessary. "We said all through the millage election that even if we won we would still have to eliminate $50,000 to $100,000 in operating expenses," Schuster said.

Programs cut include several middle school courses, several sections of high school home economics, all high school woodshop courses, one English teaching position, a half-time instrumental music position, and a variety of extra-curricular activities.

In other areas, the board elected William Boyd president for the next school year. Last year, Boyd was secretary of the board. He replaces Peter Rudell who lost his bid for re-election in June.

George Bennett was re-elected vice president, Edwin Kerlikowske was elected secretary and James Bettsch was re-elected treasurer.

The board was informed that the intermediate school district had approved the transfer of nearly an acre of land from the Lakeshore school district to the Berrien Springs district. The land, located on Snow road in Oronoko township, belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mitchell. They had requested the transfer.

The board voted to rehire 12 of the 19 teachers who had been given pink slips earlier this year when it was believed funds might not be available to rehire them in the fall. Schuster said four of the pink-slip teachers had resigned and three remain unhired.

The board voted to continue holding regular meetings on the second Thursday of each month at the middle school beginning at 8 p.m.

A special meeting was scheduled for July 22 at 8 p.m. in the middle school. The board will consider noncertified employee salaries. Schuster said.

The board appointed Bruce E. Taiclet as assistant principal and athletic director at the high school. Taiclet was athletic director last year.

The board decided to contribute $143 toward the defense of a class-action suit filed in federal district court in Grand Rapids against all school districts in Michigan.

last Republican leaders to call for Nixon's resignation.

During her husband's nearly six years in office, Mrs. Nixon maintained a smiling but low-key profile.

She prided herself on her stamina and good health. Rarely did she miss an appointment because of illness and her only ailments were occasional attacks of the flu.

She stood beside her husband at countless public functions but almost never spoke out on issues. During Nixon's last years in office, protocol officials estimated she had gripped 100,000 hands and greeted 53,000 guests who passed along White House receiving lines.

The former first lady was born Thelma Catherine Ryan in the small mining town of Elv, Nev., but like her husband, spent most of her early years in Southern California farming areas.

Her name was changed, at least informally, from Thelma to Pat, because she was born on the eve of St. Patrick's Day. She married Nixon at a Quaker ceremony on June 21, 1940. She had met the young lawyer while trying out for a part in an amateur theater two years earlier.

$2 Bill A Flop

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a lot of huck-passing when it comes to the $2 bill. Despite government predictions that "the two" would be warmly received by the public as a partial substitute for the $1 bill, it so far has been a flop — hoarded but not spent. More than 210 million two's have been delivered by the government to banks, but relatively few have found their way into general circulation, officials say. Millions of dollars worth apparently are being hoarded as collectors' items, especially those issued April 13, the first day.

Man Found Dead In Pool; Autopsy Slated

Berrien sheriff's officers said a man identified as John Christopher Sommers, 51, was found dead at the bottom of the pool at the Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge, 2699 M-139, Sodus township, Thursday. Capt. Ronald Immoos of the sheriff's office said an autopsy was to be performed today to determine if death was caused by drowning. No foul play is suspected, he said.

Selection Of Jury Recessed

ALLEGAN — Jury selection in the first degree murder trial of Frederick Dixon, 35, Detroit, was scheduled to resume Monday in circuit court here.

Dixon is accused of shooting South Haven Patrolman Michael McAllister last Jan. 8, after McAllister stopped to question a man in Allegan county's Casco township just outside South Haven following a report of gunshots.

The jury selection part of the trial was recessed until Monday because today other court cases were to be heard.

Selection of jurors began Tuesday but has been slow because each juror is being questioned separately to see if he has any prior knowledge of the case.

The suit was brought by the Michigan Education association and seeks the assessment of fines on all school boards for discrimination involving maternity leaves, Schuster said. If the MEA is successful, it would mean a cost of up to $100 million to Michigan taxpayers, Schuster added.

Carter Finds Choice Tough

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — After back-to-back meetings with Sens. Walter Mondale and John Glenn, Jimmy Carter says he is having a more difficult time choosing a vice presidential running mate than he expected. Mondale, of Minnesota, flew to Carter's hometown in a private plane Thursday morning to meet with him as a vice presidential possibility. And Glenn, from Ohio, followed several hours later. The former Georgia governor said initially he would interview at least five vice presidential possibilities. He later lengthened that list to six or seven. He talked with Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine on Monday.

Christians Claim Victories

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Christian spokesmen claimed today that their forces were attacking 1,200 trapped Palestinians and leftist Lebanese Moslems in the northern coastal village of Enfe. "Their backs are to the sea," said one spokesman. "Our guns are pounding them from all directions and blocking their attempts to escape by boat." Bodies of attacking Christians, fleeing Moslems and villagers caught in the middle dotted the northern coast as the civil-war slaughter raged unabated for the fifth day in that part of the country. Security forces and other sources estimated that 285 persons were killed and 400 wounded in the past 24 hours, raising the estimated toll in 15 months of Moslem-Christian warfare to nearly 32,000 dead.

GI Bill Abuses Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is nearing passage of legislation halting most advance payments to veterans attending school under the GI bill. It is an effort to halt overpayments that have totaled more than $800 million in the past year. The proposal, which would not take effect until next year, is designed to eliminate all advance payments except in hardship cases. With 11 months of the past fiscal year tabulated, overpayments in the program totaled $813 million, nearly double the $446 million of the year before. Part of the increase was attributed by Veterans Administration officials to publicity that brought to light numerous unknown overpayments.

EPA Cracks Down On States

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is ordering 45 states to revamp their antipollution programs to meet federal standards, even though clean air plans have reduced pollution levels by 5 per cent annually. Russell Train, who heads the Environmental Protection Agency, said Thursday that stricter compliance in meeting antismission levels will be needed to ensure that clean air is maintained in the United States. The EPA formally notified 45 governors that their state plans were "substantially inadequate" to attain or maintain clean air standards in at least one antipollution area. Alaska, Mississippi, Florida, Hawaii and Oklahoma were not affected by the EPA directive.

Defender Appointments

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has announced the appointment of John Stenger of Lansing and Benjamin Gibson of East Lansing to the Michigan Appellate Public Defender Commission. Stenger, a state court of appeals commissioner, succeeds Court of Appeals Judge George Bashara. Gibson, an attorney, succeeds Southfield attorney Seymour Posner. Milliken also reappointed five members to the commission, including Haddon Hargrove of Detroit; John Foley of Vicksburg; John Emery of Grosse Pointe Farms; William Walsh of Port Huron; and Donald Leonard of Detroit. The terms of all seven expire March 13, 1978.

Sen. Brown Will Fight Pot Charge

SEN. BASIL BROWN
To Fight Pot Charges

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State Sen. Basil Brown, Highland Park, has withdrawn his no contest plea to a charge marijuana possession in order to fight the case.

His decision was prompted by a recent state court of appeals ruling on marijuana searches. In January 1975, Brown's case was stopped by an Eaton County sheriff's deputy who said a car was being driven erratically. A search of the car allegedly turned up a small amount of marijuana.

Brown argued that the stopping and search were illegal. When those arguments failed, he entered a no contest plea.

Brown was to have been sentenced Thursday. Instead, he withdrew his plea of no contest, which is treated as guilty plea though not an admission of guilt.

Brown said he based his motion on a recent Court of Appeals decision that the odor of marijuana alone is not grounds for searching a vehicle.

"That's what we have been arguing all along," Brown said. "Based on that (Court of Appeals) case we applied to get rehearing on my original motion to quash the results of the search."

No date has been set for a new hearing, he said.

Area Gets $146,000 In Anti-Crime Grants

BY SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Federal anti-crime grants totaling $146,047 have been awarded to programs in Benton Harbor and Cass and Van Buren counties through the Michigan Office of Criminal Justice Programs.

Three of the grants are for third-year programs while another is for a second-year program for the Cass Metro Crime unit. Receiving third-year funding were the Benton Harbor police department's crime prevention unit, the Cass drug enforcement unit, and the Van Buren youth services bureau.

The Berrien Metro Crime unit had been designated for a grant of $113,626 but was unable to accept because the unit went out of business June 30. The Berrien board of commissioners would not obligate the county to partial funding of the unit this year. That would have meant the county would fund the entire cost of the unit next year.

The Benton Harbor crime prevention unit, directed by Lt. Alfred Edwards, received $17,639 in federal funding to run until March 31, 1977. The program will receive state funds of $960 and a local match from the city of $18,619.

The program is designed to reduce crime through use of projects such as neighborhood watch groups, public presentations, and security surveys.

The Cass Metro Crime unit received a second-year grant of $61,955 from the federal government to run to Sept. 30. The state contributes $3,445, with a match from Cass county of $10,646.

The goals of the project are to deter or reduce crime in high-crime areas and attempt to suppress street crimes such as robbery, assault, and motor vehicle theft. The unit will also attempt to increase the response to crimes in progress and establish coordination with other law enforcement agencies.

Cass' narcotics squad received a third-year grant from the federal government of $40,227, with $19,963 coming from the county and $2,235 from the state. The third-year program is slated to run until June 30.

The unit objectives are to reduce narcotic-related crimes by six per cent and increase drug-related arrests by eight per cent.

Both Cass projects are under the direction of Sheriff James E. Northrop.

The Van Buren youth services bureau was awarded a third-year grant of $26,826 by the federal government to run until June 30, with a local match of $28,317 and $1,491 coming from the state. Project director is Sheryl Daines.

The project attempts to reduce criminal behavior by juveniles through a program offering diagnostic, referral, and social work services.

Four Sue To Halt Lake Weed-Cutting

BY SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Two couples who own property along Paw Paw lake have filed suit in Berrien Circuit court seeking an injunction which would stop the cutting of weeds in the lake.

The plaintiffs, Henry and Clarence Vanderwal and Joseph and Ruth Hassle, claim weeds which have been cut are not picked up and the weeds drift onto their property. Both plaintiffs own property on the southeast corner of the lake.

Named defendant in the suit was Rocco Bertuca Jr., who has contracted privately to harvest some weeds in the lake. Judge William S. White has ordered Bertuca to appear in court July 13 to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued.

The suit contends Bertuca mechanically cuts the weeds below the water's surface, but most of the weeds are not gathered up and are allowed to drift. The suit claims the wind blows the cut weeds onto the plaintiffs' beaches, which must be removed by the property owners.

The suit contends the Vanderwals and Hassles have lost the enjoyment of their property because of the weeds and claims there is a health problem because of the decaying vegetation.

In addition to the injunction which would prohibit the harvesting or cutting of weeds, the suit asks the court to assess costs against Bertuca for damages the plaintiffs have already incurred.

Although Bertuca is harvesting weeds, it is under private contract and not part of a weed-control plan proposed by the Paw Paw Lake Improvement board. Bertuca had been awarded a contract by the board for its weed-control program, but he has been unable to begin cutting because of a previous restraining order issued by White.

The order says no weed harvesting can begin until the improvement board adopts tentative assessments for the project.

Cass Airport Plans Hit Flak

DOWAGIAC — A proposal to expand Dowagiac's Cass county Memorial airport met with some opposition last night at a meeting of Silver Creek township officials and residents.

Both residents and officials agreed they would file formal written objections to the proposal which calls for purchasing 215 acres of land in the township and annexing it to Dowagiac city.

Supervisor John Jerue told the 23 residents who came to the session that the annexation of this land to the city could spark an eroding effect on the township's tax base.

"I think this is a move to get land out of the township with a view to annexing more," Jerue said.

Plans for the airport enlargement, revealed at an environmental impact hearing June 30, call for widening and lengthening the main east-west runway and construction of a secondary, north-south runway.

Residents last night said they were concerned about the effects the proposed expansion would have on their homes. They said new landing patterns might make their homes less safe.

Construction of the secondary runway will result in a need to reroute a half mile section of Yaw street which borders the airport on the north, said Daniel French, the township's attorney.

Completion of the project is still a long way off, though, he said. Congress has not yet passed the necessary legislation to fund it, but it could happen in about two years, French said.

He charged that the increased size would only benefit a few corporations owning business jets.

He claimed the environmental impact study made by a private firm of aviation consultants contained errors, especially as to the location of industrial property in the township.

"In view of these mistakes, it makes us wonder about the accuracy of the rest of the report, particularly about the projection of airport use," French continued.

He said he did not think industries could accurately project their airport usage 20 years hence.

"We must also weigh the value of increased airport usage against that of having a good place to live," he said.

Homeowner Kenneth Ropp, whose property would border the proposed new airport boundaries, said he was annoyed at not having a say in the planning process.

"We spend money on a planning commission out here," Ropp said. "It designates residential areas. Now, someone over whom we have no control, against whom we cannot vote, says we've been doing it all wrong."

Jerue indicated the board would file formal objections with the consulting firm that prepared the environmental impact study, R. Dixon Speas, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minn.

Three Oaks Seeks U.S. Grant To Find Sewer System Leaks

THREE OAKS — The Three Oaks village council last night agreed to apply for a federal grant to help finance the cost of testing the village's sewage collection system for storm water leaks or hook-ups.

The inspection was recommended after the village's engineering firm, Wightman and Associates, St. Joseph, reported there is a large amount of storm water draining into sanitary sewer collection lines.

Thomas Deneau, an engineer for Wightman, told the council the smoke testing and television inspection would locate leaks and illegal connections to the sanitary system.

Deneau said he expected the study would find several roof drains and field tiles draining into sanitary sewers.

The study is estimated to cost about $55,000, of which state and federal sources would pay up to 80 per cent, or $44,000, according to Deneau.

The sewer inspection was found to be needed after the Wightman firm discovered the storm leakage during a $9,000 infiltration study of the sewer lines. Completion of both studies is required before the village or township can receive further construction grants for sewers, Deneau said.

The village currently has about 56,000 lineal feet of sewers, Deneau said.

He said an $11,000 study of proposed improvements to the sewage treatment lagoons would have to wait until the developers of the proposed horse racing track in Three Oaks township decide how they are going to provide sewage.

Accounting Asked Of American MIAs

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Urging Michigan residents to "adopt an MIA," a small group rallied Thursday at the state Capitol to urge Washington to pursue the fate of servicemen missing in action.

About 75 veterans, relatives and friends of men still unaccounted for in Southeast Asia turned out for the mid-day rally. A spokesman said the sparse attendance reflected the disregard with which they claim, they are treated by the federal government.

"These men, dead or alive, should be accounted for — their families have a right to know," said Thomas Farley of Berkeley, state POW-MIA chairman. "We're interested in human beings who are missing."

Farley said 47 men from Michigan are among those who are unaccounted for. MIA organizations believe there are 1,400 nationwide whose fate is not known, and feel communist forces in Southeast Asia are either holding them or failing to disclose their deaths.

Several supporters of the drive to gain national attention for the servicemen spoke from behind a huge banner stretched across the Capitol steps: "MIAs — I want them accounted for."

State Rep. Charles Harrison, D-Pontiac, who sponsored a resolution for "Adopt an MIA Day," urged Michigan families to "adopt" an MIA and pressure Washington for information on his fate.

"I am appalled by the inhumanity of politicians here and abroad who are using (MIA) families for political leverage," he said. He said the federal government is attempting to avoid the issue by reclassifying the missing men, and said both the Nixon and Ford administrations have virtually ignored the issue.

"Our men must not have sacrificed in vain. We cannot sit back and do nothing," Harrison said. "This is a continuing obligation of the government of the United States and all its citizens."

Harrison said a congressional task force investigating the problem of the MIAs, due to report its findings in September, has made some headway. "We could consider it a success if we could locate just one MIA," he said.

Bathing In Buff A No-No

An Illinois man, who "shucked off his clothes and went skinny dipping" in the Lake Michigan waters off Warren Dunes state park Tuesday, was sentenced to fine and costs of $32 or 10 days in jail yesterday.

James P. Durr Jr., 23, of Brookfield, pleaded guilty before Berrien District Court Judge John T. Hammond to a charge of disorderly person, creating a disturbance.

Conservation Officer Robert D. Ingraham reported he was called to the Dunes at 9 a.m. because of a naked man walking on the beach. Ingraham said he gave the man a blanket and arrested him.

According to Ingraham's report, there were approximately 80 people present, about 20 of them young women or girls, and Ingraham said the man had "shucked off his clothes and went skinny dipping," before the arrest.

NEW BUFFALO — Pay checks will be issued today to New Buffalo school teachers, administrators and summer employees as a result of the New Buffalo township board meeting last night.

Joseph Svehla, township supervisor, presented a check for $36,844 to Walter Schwarz, school superintendent. The money was an advance from Berrien county on the township's delinquent taxes which the county had collected, but not yet disbursed.

Paychecks were withheld on July 2, because of a lack of cash in the school treasury. The school board has asked the state education department to borrow up to $100,000 in anticipation of state school aid and to borrow funds in anticipation of local tax revenue as well to offset the cash pinch until 1976-77 tax funds are received.

In other areas, the board by a 3-2 vote, approved another increase for township election workers. The board raised election workers pay from $2.50 to $2.65 per hour. Voting for the pay hike were Edward Ohlme, clerk; Mrs. Joann Fleck, treasurer, and Stanly Kanger, trustee. Voting against the increase were Svehla and Casimer Krycka, trustee. Last month, the board approved a pay hike from $2.30 to $2.50 for election workers.

The board approved advertising to notify residents planning to hook into the township sewer service to contact the field office of engineers R.W. Petrie as to location and depth of sewer lines at their residence.

Camp Sokol off Riviera road, was granted permission to hold a Czech Fair on its grounds, July 31.

The board voted to proceed with chemical treating three township roads to help control dust after receiving cost figures from the county road commission. The township's share of the cost will be $283 for Shedd road, $345 for Klover road, and $260 for Lakeside road.

A request from a group representing the International Meditation society to use the township hall, July 22 and 23, was denied. The board questioned its liability coverage for such a township hall use.

The board scheduled a meeting with the county planning commission for 8 p.m. July 20, to discuss a timetable and cost for rewriting the township land use and zoning ordinance.

Area Gets $146,000 In Anti-Crime Grants

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON

Federal anti-crime grants totalling $146,647 have been awarded to programs in Benton Harbor and Cass and Van Buren counties through the Michigan Office of Criminal Justice Programs.

Three of the grants are for third-year programs while another is for a second-year program for the Cass Metro Crime unit. Receiving third-year funding were the Benton Harbor police department's crime prevention unit, the Cass drug enforcement unit, and the Van Buren youth services bureau.

Blue-Gold Game Opening Berrien Olympian Week

Final schedules for the Berrien County Olympian Games, which start next week at sites throughout the county, have been announced.

The Olympian Games, which are a prelude to the CanAm Games here against the Canadians Aug. 6-8, are officially slated for July 16-23, but golf competition gets underway early (Monday, July 12).

Interested Berrien county youngsters can obtain registration forms for the Olympian and CanAm Games throughout the county at sports stores, YMCAs, YWCAs, the CanAm Office (room C-103C at Lake Michigan College) and from trainers in the various sports.

The eighth annual Blue and Gold basketball game at 6:30 p.m. Friday, July 16, at Benton Harbor high school will officially open Olympian activities. There will be a $1 admission donation for the game, which will include all-staters Ken Garrett of Buchanan and Don Kooy of Galien.

Olympian golf competition will be for boys and girls 9 through 18, with the first 18 holes to be played at 7:30 a.m. next Monday at the Paw Paw Lake course in Watervliet. The final 18 holes are scheduled for Monday, July 19, at 8 a.m. at Brookwood Country Club in Buchanan. Velma Ripco is in charge of the golf event, and she may be contacted at 926-5372 for further information.

On Saturday, July 17, boys basketball competition will get underway, and finals will be held in track, swimming and soccer.

Action in girls basketball, girls volleyball, table tennis, chess, girls' softball and tennis is slated for Monday, July 19; bowling is scheduled for Wednesday, July 21, and wrestling competition will be held Saturday, July 24.

Boys' basketball will be held at Brandywine high school in Niles, Fairplain Junior high and Lake Michigan Catholic high school in St. Joseph.

The first round for 15-16 year olds starts Saturday, July 17, at 10 a.m. at Brandywine. The 13-14 competition gets underway at noon Monday, July 19.

Second round action is set for 2 p.m. Tuesday, July 20, for 13-14 boys and 2 p.m. Wednesday, July 21, for 15-16 year olds. Finals for both age groups are set to start at 2 p.m. Thursday, July 22.

Team rosters are to be in the hands of Dave Rose at Brandywine high school by July 17. Rose may be reached at 683-4800 for more information.

Basketball for boys ages 9 to 12 will be at Fairplain junior high July 19 under the direction of John Hunt.

Boys' basketball for 17-18 year olds will be held at Lake Michigan Catholic, but no dates or times have been set.

Track and swimming finals will be at St. Joseph high school, with track starting at 8 a.m. and swimming 8:30. Oliver Edwards (429-1944) is in charge of track, and Jill Bowser (429-9200) is handling the swimming. Diving competition starts at 1 p.m.

Cundiff's 62 Smashes Indian Lake's Record

EAU CLAIRE — Ted Cundiff of Berrien Springs smashed the Indian Lake Hills golf course record here Wednesday with a nine-under-par 62.

Cundiff, a former golf club professional who now has his amateur status back, carded rounds of 31-31 on the course which plays to a par 35 on the front nine and 36 on the back.

"The second shots were the secret," declared Cundiff after placing several within a couple of feet of the cups. "And the guys were cheering me on. On the back they really got after me to bear down and stay with it, which I did."

Cundiff, 36, an aluminum products salesman for Norand in Niles, had birdies on 10, 12, 14, 15 and 17 on the back nine. On the front nine, he had birdies on 1 and 3, plus an eagle on the 465-yard dogleg left par five No. 4 hole.

Cundiff, who shared the previous Indian Hills record of 66, also owns the course's nine-hole records with a 29 on the front and a 28 on the back.

Cundiff, who has lived in southwestern Michigan the past 12 years, was playing in the Berrien Springs Men's League on the front nine Wednesday. He finished up his record round on the back nine with Philip Upp, owner of the Indian Lake Hills course.

Cundiff, who is currently on a hot streak with a 67, three 69s and a 70 in the last week, along with his record 66, is planning to try to qualify for the Western Amateur which starts Aug. 4 at Point O'Woods Golf & Country Club in Benton Harbor.

Cundiff hails from West Virginia. He earned a golf scholarship to Marshall University at Huntington and later served as a club professional for a couple of years.

As indicated by the golf scholarship, Cundiff's golf talents aren't something that developed in recent years. In fact, he once made a 327-yard hole-in-one in West Virginia.

handshake agreement to a legally binding contract.

Those problems are serious enough for the NBA to tell the members of its five-man advisory committee to set aside July 19 for a special meeting to deal with the issues, should they not be resolved by then.

One issue is the status of a number of former ABA players who are not on the list for the NBA dispersal draft. NBA owners say the four ABA teams seeking to enter the merged league had agreed to settle any legal disputes which might arise involving these players, but this has not yet been achieved.

One of the players involved is Lonnie Shelton, the New York Knicks' top draft pick. The Knicks had called a news conference Wednesday, reportedly to announce the signing of Shelton. But because they have not yet received full legal clearance, the conference was not held.

Shelton played college ball at Oregon State last season after signing a disputed contract with the ABA's Utah team. When that club folded, his contract was assigned to St. Louis. The owners of the St. Louis team — which had been moved to Salt Lake City and renamed the Utah Rockies — contend he still is their property, and are demanding compensation similar to that set up for the other players from the two ABA teams not included in the merger, Utah and Kentucky.

"I had an agreement for the other ABA teams to buy me out," said one of the Utah owners, Ozzie Silna. "One of the procedures was that I would be able to sell my ballplayers, including Shelton. It is my legal position that I can call off the entire agreement I made with the ABA to buy me out."

"I don't think Shelton is a major problem at all," said Knicks President Mike Burke. "When the agreement was announced, one of the provisions was that the ABA teams entering the NBA would work out any legal settlements with Kentucky and St. Louis."

Silna plans to meet with owners of the four teams going from the ABA to the NBA — Denver, Indiana, New York Nets and San Antonio — early next week in hopes of settling the matter.

Those clubs, according to the agreement, were to pay $3.2 million each to join the NBA, with $1 million due July 15.

Blue-Gold Game Opening Berrien Olympian Week

Final schedules for the Berrien County Olympian Games, which start next week at sites throughout the county, have been announced.

The Olympian Games, which are a prelude to the CanAm Games here against the Canadians Aug. 6-8, are officially slated for July 16-23, but golf competition gets underway early (Monday, July 12).

Interested Berrien county youngsters can obtain registration forms for the Olympian and CanAm Games throughout the county at sports stores, YMCAs, YWCAs, the CanAm Office (room C-103C at Lake Michigan College) and from trainers in the various sports.

The eighth annual Blue and Gold basketball game at 6:30 p.m. Friday, July 16, at Benton Harbor high school will officially open Olympian activities. There will be a $1 admission donation for the game, which will include all-staters Ken Garrett of Buchanan and Don Kooy of Galien.

Olympian golf competition will be for boys and girls 9 through 18, with the first 18 holes to be played at 7:30 a.m. next Monday at the Paw Paw Lake course in Watervliet. The final 18 holes are scheduled for Monday, July 19, at 8 a.m. at Brookwood Country Club in Buchanan. Velma Rippeo is in charge of the golf event, and she may be contacted at 926-5372 for further information.

On Saturday, July 17, boys basketball competition will get underway, and finals will be held in track, swimming and soccer.

Action in girls basketball, girls volleyball, table tennis, chess, girls' softball and tennis is slated for Monday, July 19; bowling is scheduled for Wednesday, July 21, and wrestling competition will be held Saturday, July 24.

Boys' basketball will be held at Brandywine high school in Niles, Fairplain Junior high and Lake Michigan Catholic high school in St. Joseph.

The first round for 15-16 year olds starts Saturday, July 17, at 10 a.m. at Brandywine. The 13-14 competition gets underway at noon Monday, July 19.

Second round action is set for 2 p.m. Tuesday, July 20, for 13-14 boys and 2 p.m. Wednesday, July 21, for 15-16 year olds. Finals for both age groups are set to start at 2 p.m. Thursday, July 22.

Team rosters are to be in the hands of Dave Rose at Brandywine high school by July 17. Rose may be reached at 683-4800 for more information.

Basketball for boys ages 9 to 12 will be at Fairplain junior high July 19 under the direction of John Hunt.

Boys basketball for 17-18 year olds will be held at Lake Michigan Catholic, but no dates or times have been set.

Track and swimming finals will be at St. Joseph high school, with track starting at 8 a.m. and swimming 8:30. Oliver Edwards (429-1344) is in charge of track, and Jill Bowser (429-9209) is handling the swimming. Diving competition starts at 1 p.m.

Irwin Frank will conduct the soccer tryouts at 10 a.m. July 17 at the St. Joe Kickers field, located on US 31-33 at Arden. Frank may be reached at 429-3433 or 422-1966.

Girls basketball is slated for 10 a.m. July 19 at Lakeshore high school, under the direction of Denny Kniola (429-4729 or 429-6131).

Girls volleyball tryouts will be at 9 a.m. July 19, 20 and 22 at Ring Lardner junior high school in Niles. Nancy Durm is the trainer.

Table tennis and chess will be held at 10 a.m. July 19 at Berrien Springs high school. Ray McClinton is in charge of the chess competition.

Ship Hahn will be in charge of softball tryouts July 19 at Union Field in Benton Harbor.

Tennis matches will be at Plym Park in Niles from July 19 through 23 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. for nine to 15 year olds and 6 to 10 p.m. for 16 to 18 year olds. Jim Vanderputte and Nadin Bibi are in charge.

Young Wynegar On AL Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Butch Wynegar, who would become the youngest All-Star participant if he plays, and Willie Randolph, the first rookie ever listed on an All-Star ballot, were among the 11 reserves named today to complete the 28-man American League All-Star team.

Wynegar, the Minnesota Twins' prize catcher, will be 20 years, three months, 29 days old Tuesday night, when the AL meets the National League at Philadelphia in the 47th All-Star Game.

Randolph, second baseman for the New York Yankees, already broke ground when he was listed on the ballot. He finished second to Baltimore's Bobby Grich in the fans' voting.

Boston Manager Durrell Johnson named two other Yankees, frontrunners in the AL East, to the squad — first baseman Chris Chambliss and outfielder Mickey Rivers. He also named a trio of players from Kansas City, the leader in the AL West — outfielders Hal McRae and Amos Otis and shortstop Fred Patek.

Also selected for the AL team, which has lost 12 of the last 13 midseason games, were catcher Carlton Fisk and first baseman Carl Yastrzemski of Boston, Baltimore shortstop Mark Belanger and Milwaukee third baseman Don Money.

Six of the 11 reserves have been selected for the All-Star Game in the past. Patek was on the team in 1972, Money in 1971 and McRae in 1975. Otis has made the All-Star team four times, Fisk has been given the honor three times and Yastrzemski will be participating in the game for the 13th time.

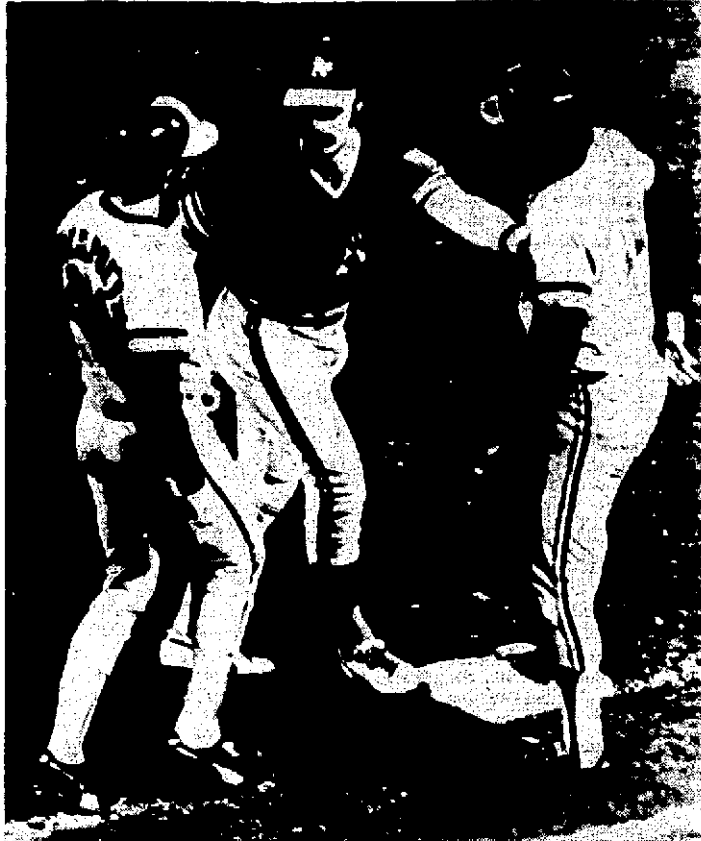

Johnson mainly selected runner-ups from the All-Star balloting, with the exception of McRae, who finished eighth in the outfield voting but is the AL's leading designated hitter at .338, and Wynegar, who was fifth in the balloting for catchers. But Wynegar led all write-in candidates in both leagues with 561,488 votes.

Six Yankees are on the complete AL squad, which consists of the reserves, pitchers chosen by Johnson, and eight starters selected by the fans. Yankees catcher Thurman Munson was the fans' choice, while pitchers Catfish Hunter and Sparky Lyle were two of Johnson's nine pitching picks.

The other pitchers on the squad are Mark Fydrich of Detroit, Rollie Fingers of Oakland, Rich Gossage of the Chicago White Sox, Dave LaRoche of Cleveland, Frank Tanana of California, Luis Tiant of Boston and Bill Travers of Milwaukee.

George Brett of Kansas City, the AL's top hitter, was picked by the fans as the starting third baseman. The other electees were first baseman Rod Carew of Minnesota, second baseman Grich, shortstop Toby Harrah of Texas and outfielders Fred Lynn of Boston and Ron LeFlore and Rusty Staub of Detroit.

BOTH WERE OUT: Two Baltimore Orioles were out on this unusual play during Thursday night game at Oakland. Rich Dempsey (left) lined a ball that was short hopped by A's Phil Garner, who threw to teammate Gene Tenace (center) at first. Tenace nabbed Dempsey and Doug DeCinces (right), who had remained at first on the play. (AP Wirephoto)

Star Red, Phil Hitters Pack NL's Roster

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cincinnati's Big Red Machine and Philadelphia's power-packed Phillies played a combined 12 players on the National League All-Star team. Surprise — they're all hitters.

The Phillies, way out in front in the NL East, will have five players competing in front of their home fans at Veterans Stadium Tuesday night for the 47th All-Star Game. The Reds, leaders in the NL West, added two reserves to the five Cincinnati starters the fans had chosen earlier.

Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson Thursday picked 11 reserves, including four Phillies, to fill his NL roster to 28 players. The four Phillies were catcher Bob Boone, second baseman Dave Cash, shortstop Larry Bowa and third baseman Mike Schmidt. Earlier, the fans had selected Philadelphia outfielder Greg Luzinski as an All-Star starter.

Anderson also named two of his own players, outfielder Ken Griffey and first baseman Tony Perez. With the fans' previous selections of Cincinnati's three other infielders, second baseman Joe Morgan, shortstop Dave Concepcion and third baseman Pete Rose, the NL could field an all-Cincinnati infield sometime in the game. The fans also named Cincinnati outfielder George Foster to the starting lineup.

The other reserves chosen by Anderson were third baseman Ron Cey and shortstop Bill Russell of Los Angeles, catcher Steve Swisher of the Chicago Cubs and outfielders Cesar Cedeno of Houston, Al Oliver of Pittsburgh and Bake McBride of St. Louis.

Anderson agreed with the fans' overall balloting, choosing the runners-up in the voting at each position. At shortstop, Bowa, the second choice, and Russell, the third pick, were both named to the squad. Boone was the second leading vote-getter at catcher, while Swisher, the Cubs' mandatory one representative on the squad, was the seventh choice in the fans' balloting.

In the outfield voting, McBride, hitting .342, and Griffey, batting .334, were the top runners-up. Oliver finished ninth in the balloting but leads the major leagues in hitting with a .363 average. Anderson passed over Lou Brock of St. Louis, Rick Monday of Chicago and Garry Maddox of Philadelphia to get to Oliver, the one Pittsburgh representative on the team.

Anderson didn't name any Cincinnati or Philadelphia

Unknown Leads Ladies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Connie Chillemi had a tough time recounting her round.

But that was her only problem Thursday as she shot a two under par 69 for a one-stroke lead in the rain-delayed first round of the U.S. Women's Open Golf Championship.

Once Miss Chillemi struggled through describing her three-birdie, one-bogey performance, it was clear sailing for the supremely confident 18-year-old from Orlando, Fla.

She turned to the assembled media and began, "I'm Connie Chillemi. I turned pro on my 18th birthday last December."

Then, without urging, the comparative unknown who grabbed a one-stroke lead over defending champion Sandra Palmer and veteran pro Mary Lou Crocker proceeded to make herself known.

She started playing golf at the age of 10, taking lessons from her father Nick, a pro at Cypress Creek in Orlando. After graduation from high school she entered the University of Miami on a four-year golf scholarship. She stayed one semester.

"My golf started to deteriorate," she explained. "I decided to turn pro. You need a skill, not an education. A lot of people with good educations don't have jobs."

She wasn't about to give up golf for books. So she joined the women's satellite tour and won eight events, finished second twice and third once, earning enough money to send her to the Open at Rolling Green Golf Club in suburban Philadelphia.

Sensing that some in her audience thought her first round was a fluke, Miss Chillemi said calmly, "I'm not surprised at my score. You can expect a couple more of those rounds. I prepared properly for this tournament. I'm ready and I want it very badly."

Before a torrential rain accompanied by lightning delayed the round one hour, 45 minutes at 4:30 p.m., Miss Palmer and Miss Crocker finished with their one-under-par 70s.

JoAnne Carner, second leading money winner this year on the LPGA tour, carded a 72, equalled by amateur Carol Semple of Sewickley, Pa., a former British Amateur winner.

Zoeller Fires 63 For Quad Lead

MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — Unheralded Fuzzy Zoeller, a 24-year-old pro who has won less than $8,000 on the golf tour this year, carded eight consecutive birdies on the back nine en route to a course-record 63 and held a one-stroke lead over veteran George Archer after the first round of the $100,000 Quad Cities Open.

Zoeller, who turned pro in 1974, tied a tour record with his string of eight birdies on the back nine of the 6,395-yard Oakwood Country Club course. Bob Gaulty set this mark in the 1961 St. Petersburg Open.

Bunched at 65 were Mike McCulough, Gene Frank, Carlton White and Bob Dickson. Joe Porter, Gary McCord and Rex Caldwell were at 66.

Defending champion Roger Maltbie, seventh on the Professional Golfers Association money chart this year with $115,36, came in at two-under-par 68 — a score posted by 19 other players. The 1974 Quad Cities title, Dave Stockton, was among nine players at 68.

Of the 147-man field, 70 had sub-par scores and another 14 were at par after the opening round.

Most of the tour pros are in the British Open, but Maltbie said he entered here "because as defending champion I had a responsibility, but more than that, because I wanted to."

Maltbie had been idle for three weeks and said "concentration is one of the toughest things to get back. At no time today could I build a head of steam. It was a struggle."

He believed the Oakwood greens were "holding better than last year. They were firmer last year and that made it more difficult because the ball would trickle off."

"This year, if you get close and have a pretty good lie, you can save yourself. There won't be as many bogeys this year."

Archer, who underwent wrist surgery in April 1975, said he's beginning to put his game together again. "I've shot three good rounds in the last three weeks," he said. "That's very encouraging."

Maltbie set the previous course record at 64 in the final round a year ago. He started that round seven strokes behind leader Dave Fitchberger but took the title by one stroke.

In his next tournament, the Pleasant Valley Classic, Maltbie was eight strokes off the pace, but his final-round 66 again gave him the victory.

The field was to be cut to the low 70 players, plus ties, following today's second round. The 72-hole event ends Sunday, with the winner taking home $20,000.

SJ Legion Wins 7th Straight

The St. Joseph Legion baseball machine just keeps on rolling.

St. Joseph won its seventh straight Blue-Gray league game Thursday, downing Three Oaks Legion 5-2 at Three Oaks. In the only other action, Dowagiac downed Benton Harbor 8-0.

After St. Joe, now 7-1 and leading the Blue division, scored on an error in the first inning, Randy Chase tied up the contest with a RBI double in the third inning.

St. Joseph took the lead for good in the sixth when Carey Ross and Gary Meek both scored on a throwing error by the shortstop. Mike Collier and Kurt Felgner helped ice the game in the seventh as each singled home a run.

Roger Sherman singled in the last Three Oaks' run in the seventh.

Gary Meek got the win as Ross smacked a pair of singles.

Jeff Lenard was tagged with the loss as Three Oaks drops to a 5-3 record in league play.

Larry McLaughlin hurled a four-hit shutout for Dowagiac. He struck out eight and walked just one batter.

Jeff Nate drove in two runs for Dowagiac, now 5-3 in the league, with a hit and McLaughlin helped his own cause with a pair of hits.

Vern Reynolds had two hits for Benton Harbor and Maurice Bowman was tagged with the loss. Benton Harbor is now 1-6 in league play.

Camp Warren Gives Last Call For Registration

Camp Warren has issued a final call for registrations for its annual week-long camping session for all children who have just completed the fourth, fifth or sixth grade. The camp session will be held July 16-24 and registration forms may be obtained by calling the Berrien County Council of Churches at 963-8535 or Camp Warren at 925-5928 from 8:30 a.m. until noon. Camp Warren, located eight miles north of the Twin Cities on the shores of Lake Michigan, is operated by the Council of Churches. Activities at the camp include a variety of sports and games, swimming under supervision of lifeguards in the heated camp pool and in Lake Michigan, arts and crafts, cookouts and picnics and singing. Campers sleep in comfortable cabins supervised by adult counselors and are directed during the day by a staff of selected leaders with many years of camping experience. Cost of the camp, which includes all meals, is $40 per camper. Some funds are available to help those who are unable to pay the entire fee, but each camper must pay a minimum of $25. Arrival time is Sunday afternoon, July 16, and checkout time is the following Saturday morning.

Berrien Invokes Little-Used Law

A Kalamazoo building contractor who allegedly withheld more than $5,700 in payments owed to a Caloma excavating company demanded preliminary examination yesterday in Berrien District court on a charge of violating a seldom-used state law.

Freed on $3,000 personal recognizance bond following arraignment on a charge of violation of the Building Contract Fund Act was William Kokmeyer, 41, reportedly the owner of Kamar Enterprises.

Asst. Prosecutor Paul Maloney said Kokmeyer was the main contractor for Jeno's, Inc., a Sodus fruit processing firm that has recently expanded its operations.

One of his subcontractors was Rocky Bertuca, owner of Contractor's Limited, of Caloma. Maloney said Jeno's allegedly gave money to Kokmeyer which was to be paid to Bertuca, but Maloney said only a part of the money was paid.

According to the warrant, Kokmeyer withheld $2,800 from Bertuca on Dec. 28 and $2,941 on March 13. Bertuca was listed as the complainant.

Maloney said the Building Contract Fund Act was passed in 1931 to protect subcontractors. It states that if the general contractor on a job receives money for the purpose of paying a subcontractor, the money must in fact be paid to the subcontractor, he explained.

Maloney said that as far as he knows the law has only been invoked once before in Berrien county.

Indiana Driver Is Charged With Carrying Stolen Guns

Berrien sheriff's deputies said an Indiana man was arrested Thursday on four charges after a car was stopped in Lincoln township and two allegedly stolen guns confiscated.

Deputy Don DeFord said a computer check showed a .22 caliber pistol and a .22 caliber rifle were reported stolen in Indiana earlier this month. DeFord also said the man allegedly attempted to use another man's driver's license when the car was stopped shortly before 11 p.m. on Glenford road east of Ridge road.

Booked at the Berrien county jail on charges of carrying a concealed weapon, having no operator's license, disguise with intent to intimidate and receiving and concealing stolen property was Gary D. Loudon, 18, Indianapolis, Ind. No charges were filed against other passengers in the car, DeFord reported.

State police of the Benton Harbor post arrested John J. Roberts, 52, Gary, Ind., early today on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon after stopping his car for speeding on I-94 in Watervliet township. He was booked at the Berrien county jail. Troopers said they confiscated a loaded .22 caliber pistol.

Benton Harbor and Benton township police said six thefts of goods valued at more than $1,800 were reported Thursday.

Thefts reported to township police were:

—A television and stereo component system, all valued at $800, from the home of Charlene Burnett, 1340 Hurd avenue.

—Four tires and rims, valued at $200, from the car of Leo Vaughn, 1153 Chicago avenue, parked in a lot on Fair avenue.

—Two tires, rims and disc brakes, all valued at $170, from a car at Mary's Used Cars, 1358 Territorial road.

—A CB radio, valued at $151, from the car of Chester Pipkins, 1032 South Crystal avenue, Benton township, parked at the Market Grill, 1581 Territorial road.

Thefts reported to city police were:

—A stereo component system, valued at $450, from the residence of Vera Gusic, 710 Buss street.

—A $60 television from the apartment of Johnnie Mae Maxie, 629 Green street.

Farm Workers Ask Pot Count Hearings

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Two Hartford farm workers were released on their own recognizance following arraignment Thursday in Van Buren Seventh District court here on charges of possession of marijuana with intent to deliver.

Demanding preliminary examinations were Steven H. Kerr, 22, and Timothy A. Alt, 20, both of route 2, Brown lake, Burnett Farms, Hartford. Hearings were scheduled for July 20.

State police at Paw Paw said the arrests came after troopers were called to the farm to investigate a report of a drunken man and were told something unusual was being grown in a garden. About nine and a half pounds of suspected marijuana were seized, police said.

In other cases, Steven W. Hunt, 19, route 2, Hartford, was ordered held on $2,500 bond after demanding preliminary examination on a charge of resisting arrest. A July 14 hearing was ordered.

Hunt was taken into custody Wednesday after he allegedly scuffled with Sgt. John Gaborik of the Van Buren sheriff's department at the Virgil Holloman residence in Keeler township. Deputies said Gaborik had gone to the house to investigate a report that a party was going on at the house while the Hollomans were out of town.

Brian Champion, 18, 31st street, Gables, demanded preliminary examination on a charge of breaking and entering a Pine Grove township home last Aug. 23. He was not arrested until this week.

Champion was released on his own recognizance pending a July 14 hearing.

Man Released On $2,000 Bond

A Benton Harbor man was released on his own recognizance Thursday in Berrien District court after his arraignment on a charge of carrying a concealed pistol in an auto June 13 in Benton township.

Freed on a $2,000 personal recognizance bond was Thomas Catchings, 35, of 716 McAllister avenue, Benton Harbor.

Bound over to Circuit court yesterday were:

Charlotte A. Coburn, 18, of Caloma, charged with possession of the drug Dilaudid June 25 in St. Joseph township. She remained jailed under $10,000 bail.

Roberto Reyes, 17, of Manistee, accused of receiving and aiding in the concealment of stolen property, a van truck, June 26 in New Buffalo. He waived examination and was jailed under $10,000 bond.

Sentenced were:

Leon M. Sanez, 17, of 210 South Mart street, Hartford, six months in jail for attempted aggravated assault against J.T. Mabry June 28 at the Topper Bar, Berrien Springs.

Lester G. Vincent, 20, of 1139 Lavette, Benton Harbor, one year in jail for possession of marijuana Jan. 9 in Caloma. Court records showed that the charge was reduced from delivery of marijuana. A second charge, delivery of amphetamines, was dismissed.

Shelia J. Lute, 17, of 315 Timber drive, Caloma, fine and costs of $125 or 20 days in jail for petty larceny of cosmetics from Goldblatts, Benton township, Nov. 28.

Daniel Mathison, 22, of 638 Paycoe, Benton Harbor, 10 days in jail, $122 and six months probation for entering a Benton township home without permission — reduced from breaking and entering — June 26.

William Bowers, 31, of 411 Cable street, South Haven, five days in jail, $122 and six months probation for receiving and concealing a stolen citizens' band radio valued under $100 in Benton Harbor June 25.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Disorderly person — Terry O. Kyles, 21, of 142 East Britain, apartment 2, Benton Harbor, $75 for gambling; Albert C. Jones, 28, of 490 Cherry street, Benton Harbor, $50 for gambling.

Use of marijuana — James Weyandt, 23, and Stanley J. Yoder, 22, both of Archbold, Ohio, $50 or 10 days in jail each.

Driving while license suspended or revoked — Franklin W. White, 27, of Detroit, three days in jail and $100; Terry L. Callahan, 19, of New Buffalo, three days in jail and $100; Michael Lee Fish, 21, of Watervliet road, Watervliet, three days in jail and $63.

Impaired driving — Paul E. Duncan, 47, of Gary, Ind., and Bernard P. Novak, 22, of 3200 Johnson road, Stevensville, $135 each.

Camp Warren Gives Last Call For Registration

Camp Warren has issued a final call for registrations for its annual week-long camping session for all children who have just completed the fourth, fifth or sixth grade. The camp session will be held July 18-24 and registration forms may be obtained by calling the Berrien County Council of Churches at 983-6535 or Camp Warren at 925-5920 from 8:30 a.m. until noon. Camp Warren, located eight miles north of the Twin Cities on the shores of Lake Michigan, is operated by the Council of Churches. Activities at the camp include a variety of sports and games, swimming under supervision of lifeguards in the heated camp pool and in Lake Michigan, arts and crafts, cookouts and picnics and singing. Campers sleep in comfortable cabins supervised by adult counselors and are directed during the day by a staff of selected leaders with many years of camping experience. Cost of the camp, which includes all meals, is $40 per camper. Some funds are available to help those who are unable to pay the entire fee, but each camper must pay a minimum of $25. Arrival time is Sunday afternoon, July 18, and checkout time is the following Saturday morning.

'Gras Price Hit 37 Cents Before Harvest Was Over

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer
Before harvest of Michigan's freeze-damaged asparagus crop was over, the price was bidded up as high as 37 cents a pound for Select spears, according to the manager of the Michigan Asparagus Growers. Harry Foster, also the manager of the Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association, said that when the final figures are in they will show that spring freezes cut the size of the asparagus crop by one-third.

Foster said that processors received around 15.5 million pounds of Michigan asparagus. Another two or three million pounds were sold on the fresh market.

This 17.5 or 18.5 million pound production total compares with the 25 million pound crop that Foster and others were predicting in the spring, before the freezes struck.

Mike Pfeuffer, reporter with the United States Department of Agriculture's market news service, said that as of July 1 Michigan processors had received 15.1 million pounds of asparagus. Of that figure, Pfeuffer said, 10.5 million pounds were canned and 4.6 million pounds were frozen.

Pfeuffer, who works out of the Benton Harbor office, added that the 1975 crop was 17.4 million pounds, and the 1974 crop was 22.3 million pounds. Final figures from 1976 should be published next week, he said.

The Asparagus Growers is the bargaining agent for Michigan's commercial growers. In April the Growers and Michigan's 15 asparagus processors agreed on prices of 27 1/2 cents a pound for No. 1 Grade and 33 cents a pound for Select Grade.

Foster said this week that after the first few nights of frost, processors increased both prices a penny. Then, as harvest progressed and the extent of the freeze damage became apparent, growers began picking more of the short, Select spears, and processors began bidding up the price.

The price hit 37 cents a pound during the week of June 21 in Oceana county, said Foster.

Foster optimistically pointed out that this year's short crop sets the stage for a good year in 1977.

111 Million More Acres Could Be Crop Land

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States could expand its crop-growing land by as much as one-third if the extra output is needed, a new government study says.

Much of this land appears to be in the South and Midwest, the study said.

The U.S. Soil Conservation Service said an estimated 111 million additional acres could be used for crops. Last year, farmers planted about 333 million acres with crops ranging from wheat, corn and soybeans to cotton, tobacco and peanuts.

Previous estimates of potential "new" crop land have run as high as 266 million acres. The agency said those estimates now appear much too high.

Officials of the Agriculture Department agency said that the study was started in May of last year and involved surveys by SCS employees at 41,000 sites in 506 counties selected at random. The surveys included sites in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands but did not include any federally owned land.

The report identified three kinds of acreages of potential crop land that could be switched from present use with "varying degrees of difficulty and expense."

About 24 million acres of "prime farm land" could be converted to crops simply by beginning tillage. Those soils "would require little or no protection from erosion and, with normal rainfall, should produce high yields," the agency said.

Another 54 million acres of high-potential land could be used for crops, but would require some soil and water conservation management.

Finally, about 33 million acres of medium-potential land could be converted. Those acres "pose more serious erosion hazards and water disposal problems" and would be more costly to put into production.

'Lenient' Grading Here

Statewide Cherry Price Will Be 25 Cents A Pound, MACMA Says

It appears that processors all the way up the state will pay 25 cents a pound for Michigan's extremely short tart cherry crop, according to Harry Foster, manager of the Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association (MACMA).

Jeno's, Inc., on Wednesday became the first processor to announce the quarter-a-pound price, according to Sam Ebbert, general manager of the Sodas plant. He said the price will be paid "for average grade cherries." Tarts are now being delivered to Jeno's, he added.

According to Foster, several Southwestern Michigan processors will pay 25 cents "at no grade." If the cherries are acceptable for canning or freezing the price will be 25 cents a pound, he said.

"Processors will be lenient in grading to encourage growers to go out and pick the short crop," said Foster. Foster said that an average Southwestern Michigan tart crop picks out at 60 to 70 million pounds; this year freeze-damaged orchards in this corner of Michigan will produce "hardly 5 million pounds."

Foster said that in the West

Central and Northwest districts of Michigan, where growers still have approximately 60 per cent of a full crop, a 92-score grade will probably be enforced. Although processors in those districts haven't announced prices, Foster thinks that they too will pay 25 cents.

Harvest will be in full swing by this week end in Southwestern Michigan and will last only about a week, Foster predicted.

Noting that the highest price previously ever paid in Michigan for tarts was 19.5 cents a pound in 1973, Foster earlier said that "it will take a good price to get growers to pick the very light crop, particularly in Southwestern Michigan."

Last month the United States Department of Agriculture estimated that this year's sour cherry crop would be the smallest since 1945. Some 142 million pounds of cherries are on the trees nationwide, compared to last year's 280 million pound crop, USDA said. Michigan produced 230 million pounds of cherries last year, and USDA pegged 76 production at 80 million pounds.

Chicago Stock Show Cancelled

The 1976 International Live Stock Exposition, scheduled for Chicago this fall, has been cancelled.

In a joint announcement, Patrick L. O'Malley, chairman of the exposition board, and Lewis B. Pierce, president, said that inadequate funds and diminishing support for the 75-year-old event forced cancellation.

Pierce said the cancellation of the show will create a noticeable void in agricultural education as well as in displays of the continent's finest livestock. The International has long been recognized as the Granddaddy of all livestock shows and the World Series of livestock competition.

Until last year, the show had been sponsored by the Union Stock Yard and Transit Co., owners of the International Amphitheatre, site of the show.

The show received premium support from the State of Illinois Agricultural Premium Fund.

However, according to Pierce and O'Malley, there were not enough funds available to continue the show this year.

The men expressed appreciation for past support to Mayor Daley, Governor Walker and private donors. Pierce also expressed hope that a committee can be appointed to explore possibilities of reviving the show in 1977.

OSHA Sets Back Date For Safety Standards

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has delayed the deadline for fitting safety guards to farm machinery from June 7 until Oct. 25, in effect taking most growers off the hook until next season.

Under the agricultural machine guarding standards, all tractors with power take-off splines have to have a shield covering the PTO. All exposed revolving shafts used to drive farm equipment must also be covered. New machinery must have protective covers at all nip points, the places where belt and pulley or chain and sprocket meet.

The standards apply to any piece of equipment operated by a hired worker, OSHA said. The deadline was delayed so that OSHA can issue information that will explain how farmers can make the necessary changes.

Holstein Show July 23

The Berrien County Holstein Breeders will host a district show July 23 at 10 a.m. at the Youth Fairgrounds, Berrien Springs, according to County Extension Director Clare Musgrove. Holsteins raised in Berrien, Cass, St. Joseph, Van Buren, Kalamazoo and Allegan counties will be exhibited at the District VI show, Musgrove said.

CA Clinic Scheduled

The annual Controlled Atmosphere Apple Storage Clinic will be held Aug. 19 at the Kenowa Hills high school auditorium northwest of Grand Rapids. According to Dr. Donald H. Dewey, of the Michigan State university Department of Horticulture, the predicted harvest dates for 1978 apples, selection of fruit for CA storage, revised scald control recommendations and research findings on "soft" McIntosh will be presented. He said the high school is located near the intersection of Hendershot and Four Mile roads, north of Walker avenue.

Beef Commissioners Reappointed

LANSING (AP) — Three farmers were reappointed recently to the State Beef Industry Commission for three-year terms. Gordon B. Andrews, Saul Ste. Marie, Milton J. Brown, Mount Pleasant, and Robert D. Zeeb, Bath, all have served on the panel since it was created in 1973. Gov. William Milliken made the reappointments. Andrews represents those who raise or breed cattle or calves for beef production, Brown the cattle feeders and Zeeb the milk producers.

Angus Association Preview Set

CHELSEA — Members of the Michigan Angus Association and the Junior Angus Association have announced plans for their annual preview shows on July 17 and 18 here at the fairgrounds. The junior organization will show Angus heifers and steers on July 17; the open show for Angus bulls and females will climax events on July 18.

Indemnity Payments Explained

When bee colonies are damaged by pesticides, beekeepers may be eligible for an indemnity payment through their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county office. According to the ASC, payments won't cover the entire loss. Rates are $22.50 for each destroyed colony, $15 for a severely damaged colony and $7.50 for each colony that was moderately damaged. When losses are discovered, they should be reported to the county ASC office within three days so an inspection can be made while the extent and cause of damage can still be determined. Congress authorized the Indemnity Payment Program in 1973 and it will be effective through 1977.

Christmas Tree Meet Aug. 10

At the National Christmas Tree Convention this summer in Holland, Mich., you can learn how a Christmas tree grower borrowed the U-Pick concept and turned it into U-Cut.

A visit to a U-Cut Christmas tree farm is one of four field tours planned for the Aug. 10 to 13 convention. During the three days morning seminars will provide background information for the afternoon tours.

At the U-Cut tree operation, tree merchandising and harvesting techniques, crowd control and pick-your-own sales management will be explained.

Other tours include a visit to two nurseries and trips to Christmas tree plantations. At the tree plantations biological and mechanical aspects of tree production will be explained.

'Gras Price Hit 37 Cents Before Harvest Was Over

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer
Before harvest of Michigan's freeze-damaged asparagus crop was over, the price was bidden up as high as 37 cents a pound for Select spears, according to the manager of the Michigan Asparagus Growers. Harry Foster, also the manager of the Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association, said that when the final figures are in they will show that spring freezes cut the size of the asparagus crop by one-third.

Foster said that processors received around 15.5 million pounds of Michigan asparagus. Another two or three million pounds were sold on the fresh market.

This 17.5 or 18.5 million pound production total compares with the 25 million pound crop that Foster and others were predicting in the spring, before the freezes struck.

Mike Pflueger, reporter with the United States Department of Agriculture's market news service, said that as of July 1 Michigan processors had received 15.1 million pounds of asparagus. Of that figure, Pflueger said, 10.5 million pounds were canned and 4.6 million pounds were frozen.

Pflueger, who works out of the Benton Harbor office, added that the 1975 crop was 17.4 million pounds, and the 1974 crop was 22.3 million pounds. Final figures from 1976 should be published next week, he said.

The Asparagus Growers is the bargaining agent for Michigan's commercial growers. In April the Growers and Michigan's 15 asparagus processors agreed on prices of 27½ cents a pound for No. 1 Grade and 33 cents a pound for Select Grade.

Foster said this week that after the first few nights of frost, processors increased both prices a penny. Then, as harvest progressed and the extent of the freeze damage became apparent, growers began picking more of the short, Select spears, and processors began bidding up the price.

The price hit 37 cents a pound during the week of June 21 in Oceana county, said Foster.

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States could expand its crop-growing land by as much as one-third if the extra output is needed, a new government study says.

Much of this land appears to be in the South and Midwest, the study said.

The U.S. Soil Conservation Service said an estimated 111 million additional acres could be used for crops. Last year, farmers planted about 333 million acres with crops ranging from wheat, corn and soybeans to cotton, tobacco and peanuts.

Previous estimates of potential "new" crop land have run as high as 266 million acres. The agency said those estimates now appear much too high.

Officials of the Agriculture Department agency said that the study was started in May of last year and involved surveys by SCS employees at 41,000 sites in 506 counties selected at random. The surveys included sites in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands but did not include any federally owned land.

The report identified three kinds of acreages of potential crop land that could be switched from present use with "varying degrees of difficulty and expense."

About 24 million acres of "prime farm land" could be converted to crops simply by beginning tillage. Those soils "would require little or no protection from erosion and, with normal rainfall, should produce high yields," the agency said.

Another 54 million acres of high-potential land could be used for crops, but would require some soil and water conservation management.

Finally, about 33 million acres of medium-potential land could be converted. Those acres "pose more serious erosion hazards and water disposal problems" and would be more costly to put into production.

'Lenient' Grading Here

Statewide Cherry Price Will Be 25 Cents A Pound, MACMA Says

It appears that processors all the way up the state will pay 25 cents a pound for Michigan's extremely short tart cherry crop, according to Harry Foster, manager of the Michigan Agricultural Cooperative Marketing Association (MACMA).

Jeno's, Inc., on Wednesday became the first processor to announce the quarter-a-pound price, according to Sam Ebbert, general manager of the Sodas plant. He said the price will be paid "for average grade cherries." Tarts are now being delivered to Jeno's, he added.

According to Foster, several Southwestern Michigan processors will pay 25 cents "at no grade." If the cherries are acceptable for canning or freezing the price will be 25 cents a pound, he said.

"Processors will be lenient in grading to encourage growers to go out and pick the short crop," said Foster. Foster said that an average Southwestern Michigan tart crop picks out at 60 to 70 million pounds; this year freeze-damaged orchards in this corner of Michigan will produce "hardly 5 million pounds."

Foster said that in the West

Central and Northwest districts of Michigan, where growers still have approximately 60 per cent of a full crop, a 92-score grade will probably be enforced. Although processors in those districts haven't announced prices, Foster thinks that they too will pay 25 cents.

Harvest will be in full swing by this week end in Southwestern Michigan and will last only about a week, Foster predicted.

Noting that the highest price previously ever paid in Michigan for tarts was 19.5 cents a pound in 1973, Foster

earlier said that "it will take a good price to get growers to pick the very light crop, particularly in Southwestern Michigan."

Last month the United States Department of Agriculture estimated that this year's sour cherry crop would be the smallest since 1945. Some 142 million pounds of cherries are on the trees nationwide, compared to last year's 290 million pound crop, USDA said. Michigan produced 230 million pounds of cherries last year, and USDA pegged 76 production at 90 million pounds.

Chicago Stock Show Cancelled

The 1976 International Live Stock Exposition, scheduled for Chicago this fall, has been cancelled.

In a joint announcement, Patrick L. O'Malley, chairman of the exposition board, and Lewis B. Pierce, president, said that inadequate funds and diminishing support for the 75-year-old event forced cancellation.

Pierce said the cancellation of the show will create a noticeable void in agricultural education as well as in displays of the continent's finest livestock. The International has long been recognized as the Granddaddy of all livestock shows and the World Series of livestock competition.

Until last year, the show had been sponsored by the Union Stock Yard and Transit Co., owners of the International Amphitheatre, site of the show.

The show received premium support from the State of Illinois Agricultural Premium Fund.

However, according to Pierce and O'Malley, there were not enough funds available to continue the show this year.

The men expressed appreciation for past support to Mayor Daley, Governor Walker and private donors. Pierce also expressed hope that a committee can be appointed to explore possibilities of reviving the show in 1977.

OSHA Sets Back Date For Safety Standards

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has delayed the deadline for fitting safety guards to farm machinery from June 7 until Oct. 25, in effect taking most growers off the hook until next season.

Under the agricultural machine guarding standards, all tractors with power take-off splines have to have a shield covering the PTO. All exposed revolving shafts used to drive farm equipment must also be covered. New machinery must have protective covers at all nip points, the places where belt and pulley or chain and sprocket meet.

The standards apply to any piece of equipment operated by a hired worker, OSHA said. The deadline was delayed so that OSHA can issue information that will explain how farmers can make the necessary changes.

U.S. Energy Policy Lacking Coal Is Still In Ground

By JOHN BRONSON
Associated Press Writer

Coal was supposed to be America's answer to the energy crisis. But three years after the Arab oil embargo, little has been done to take advantage of the nation's most abundant fuel.

An estimated 18.6 per cent of the U.S. energy needs will be met by coal this year. That's only a 1 per cent increase since the embargo.

With these statistics in mind, many experts predict that the drive to wean the nation from foreign oil will flop unless the government forges a clear energy policy that encourages more use of coal.

"Our political leadership has done absolutely nothing," said Carl Bagge, president of the National Coal Association. "There's been rhetoric and energy scenarios, and we have established a vast new bureaucracy of incompetents to worry about the problem."

"But we are in worse shape today than before the oil cutoff."

The figures bear him out. In March, the United States imported more oil than it produced for the first time in its history. The American Petroleum Institute says the nation now imports 42 per cent of its oil. Before the embargo, it was 32 per cent.

The United States has an estimated coal reserve that could last 300 years. For that reason, coal is looked on as the best way to avoid the fluctuations of the world oil market by substituting it for oil and natural gas wherever possible.

Besides its traditional use as a fuel for making electricity, coal can also be converted into synthetic natural gas and gasoline, although those processes are at present difficult and expensive.

The main area for expansion right now is in the conventional uses of coal. And coal is cheaper to burn than oil. The contract price per BTU — British Thermal Unit, a standard energy measurement — for oil in mines which we need, we would probably still fall short of this forecast," said Gerald Gambs, vice president of the engineering firm of Ford, Bacon & Davis.

"Since I see no hope that anyone in Washington either understands the problem or in fact seems to care, I believe it the energy industry and has asked Congress to ease the law so that more high-sulfur coal can be burned. But the Senate has responded with a bill that will actually tighten the restrictions.

Meanwhile, the Environmental Protection Agency insists that the technology exists to remove sulfur from coal when it is burned. The devices are called scrubbers and they literally wash out sulfur dioxide from stack gases at electric generating plants.

Many utilities say the scrubbers are unreliable, and others are hesitant to install them because they don't know if further changes in the law will make the equipment obsolete.

"We don't know from one day to the next, if we'll be able to burn the coal," said Henry Brown, of the Keystone Bituminous Coal Association.

Scrubbers are also expensive. For instance, one-third of the $1.3 billion price tag for the Bruce Mansfield power station at Shippingport, Pa., went for pollution controls, including scrubbers.

Tackling that problem has created another. Once the plant is at full capacity, nearly three million tons of a toothpaste-like sludge will ooze out of the scrubber each year. The utilities involved at Bruce Mansfield have to dump the waste behind the largest earthen dam in the eastern United States.

The American Electric Power system — AEP — one of the nation's largest utility combines, refuses to use scrubbers. Instead, it has built smokestacks that sometimes tower more than 1,000 feet over its plants to disperse sulfur emissions high into the air.

The company also mixes low-sulfur coal with its regular supplies in order to comply. The need to do so at the Gallipolis, Ohio, plant is a graphic example of the predicaments some utilities face.

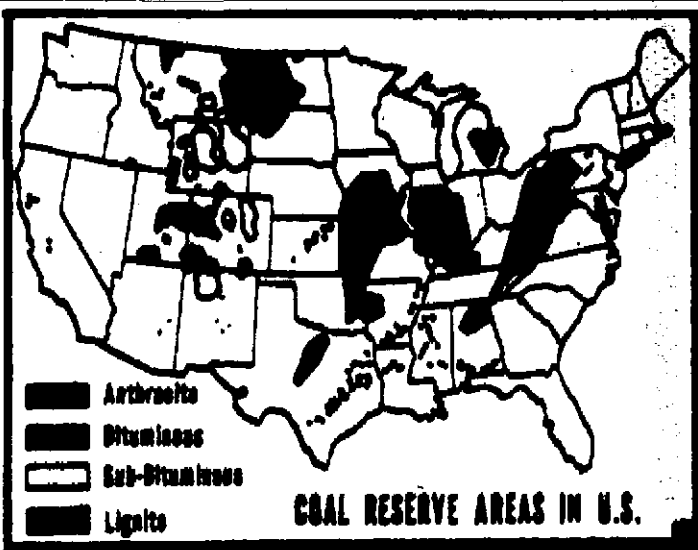

The General James Gavin plant lies in the heart of the Ohio-West Virginia coal region. Since that coal contains too much sulfur to be burned by itself, AEP ships in low-sulfur coal from the West.

Thus, there is the spectacle of barges hauling coal from Wyoming and Utah up the Ohio River passing barges loaded with local coal headed downstream.

Western coal, most of which is low in sulfur, would make the use of scrubbers unnecessary in many cases. The area between Montana and Arizona has nearly half of the nation's known coal reserves.

Since most of that coal lies just below the surface and in seams up to 100 feet thick, the easiest and cheapest way to recover it is through strip mining.

But memories of stripmined land back East and fear of unchecked development in the West has led to a number of environmental actions that have

What's Happened To Most Promising Alternative?

EDITOR'S NOTE: America has far more coal than the Arabs have oil. After the 1973 embargo, the United States launched a plan to tap those rich coal seams as a step toward energy independence. What's happened to coal, our biggest energy alternative to oil and gas, since then? This second and final article in a series on energy alternatives is a progress report.

January was about $1.96 versus 78 cents for the same amount of energy from coal, the Federal Power Commission says.

So why aren't we using more coal? We planned to. At the height of the embargo, when about 500 million tons of coal was being mined, then President Richard M. Nixon called for a tripling of production by 1985.

But forecasters no longer dream of reaching that goal. The latest report by the Federal Energy Administration calls for output to top one billion tons by 1985. While recent production has increased — 640 million tons was mined in 1975 and this year's estimate is 664 million tons — some experts still see the goal as too high.

"If we exerted a superhuman effort and if we removed all the roadblocks and obstacles to developing all the new coal will be impossible," he added.

What rankles the industry the most is what it sees as the lack of direction at the federal level. At the same time that ambitious production goals are set, coal producers say obstacles are also placed in their path. The worst, they say, involve the environment.

Amendments to the Clean Air Act that took effect last year set stiff limits for the emission of sulfur dioxide. The act has, in effect, outlawed the burning of virtually all coal mined east of the Mississippi River.

"So far the standards have not been strictly enforced and variances have been granted," said Ralph Bailey, chairman of second-ranked Consolidation Coal Co. "In any event, an unreasonable law which is not enforced is no substitute for a proper law."

President Ford agrees with

West Coast Firm Caters To Southpaws

By STEPHEN FOX
Associated Press Writer

ANAHEIM Calif. (AP) — The nation's southpaws ought to give Sue Alpert a hand.

Sue runs a mail-order firm called The Left Handed Complement here that supplies such items as left-handed mustache cups, cameras and boomerangs to the estimated 15-20 per cent of the population that is sinistral, or left-handed.

It was a problem familiar to that minority — the aches caused by an uncomfortable desk — that led this right-handed mother of two to found her company. She inadvertently had taken a left-hander's desk at the start of a three-hour psychology exam.

"It suddenly dawned on me," she says, "if I'm this uncomfortable in a three-hour class, how must lefties feel going through their whole lives? Then I watched my husband, who is left-handed, and saw what he had to overcome, what things annoyed him the most."

in her home two years ago with 15 items and now selling more than 125 products nationwide, including sinistral coffee pots, scissors (the biggest seller), can openers and potato peelers. There are also left-handed notebooks, ambidextrous ice cream scoops and, in what may be an effort to raise southpaws' consciousness, a long-playing record of a Ravel concerto described in the catalog as "an exceptionally dramatic work, played solely by the Left Hand."

Developing new products takes a lot of effort, according to Sue, who had a hard time with manufacturers when she started.

"Most large manufacturers said, 'The heck with it, we have a market for our items and lefties will use them anyway,'" she says. "A lot of them literally laughed in my face. But now they're coming to us."

Her wares also benefit those forced to become southpaws.

"One of the serious aspects of my business is when I encounter stroke victims who were formerly right-handers and are now paralyzed or palsy victims for whom our products make life that much easier," she says.

The sinistral business is pretty seasonal, she reports, with a lot of orders coming around Christmas when people buy her products because "they're unique gift items ... when you're left-handed and you get one, you know it's specifically for you."

She says there are one or two other mail-order firms with left-handed products and concedes that she doesn't expect to retire on her profits. But she adds that she gets a lot of satisfaction from providing items that are right, so to speak, for left-handers.

Thus, there is the spectacle of barges hauling coal from Wyoming and Utah up the Ohio River passing barges loaded with local coal headed downstream.

Western coal, most of which is low in sulfur, would make the use of scrubbers unnecessary in many cases. The area between Montana and Arizona has nearly half of the nation's known coal reserves.

Since most of that coal lies just below the surface and in seams up to 100 feet thick, the easiest and cheapest way to recover it is through strip mining.

But memories of stripmined land back East and fear of unchecked development in the West has led to a number of environmental actions that have

What's Happened To Most Promising Alternative?

EDITOR'S NOTE: America has far more coal than the Arabs have oil. After the 1973 embargo, the United States launched a plan to tap those rich coal seams as a step toward energy independence. What's happened to coal, our biggest energy alternative to oil and gas, since then? This second and final article in a series on energy alternatives is a progress report.

January was about $1.96 versus 78 cents for the same amount of energy from coal, the Federal Power Commission says.

So why aren't we using more coal? We planned to. At the height of the embargo, when about 590 million tons of coal was being mined, then President Richard M. Nixon called for a tripling of production by 1985.

But forecasters no longer dream of reaching that goal. The latest report by the Federal Energy Administration calls for output to top one billion tons by 1985. While recent production has increased — 640 million tons was mined in 1975 and this year's estimate is 664 million tons — some experts still see the goal as too high.

"If we exerted a superhuman effort and if we removed all the roadblocks and obstacles to developing all the new coal will be impossible," he added.

What rankles the industry the most is what it sees as the lack of direction at the federal level. At the same time that ambitious production goals are set, coal producers say obstacles are also placed in their path. The worst, they say, involve the environment.

Amendments to the Clean Air Act that took effect last year set stiff limits for the emission of sulfur dioxide. The act has, in effect, outlawed the burning of virtually all coal mined east of the Mississippi River.

"So far the standards have not been strictly enforced and variances have been granted," said Ralph Bailey, chairman of second-ranked Consolidation Coal Co. "In any event, an unreasonable law which is not enforced is no substitute for a proper law."

West Coast Firm Caters To Southpaws

By STEPHEN FOX
Associated Press Writer
ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — The nation's southpaws ought to give Sue Alpert a hand.

Sue runs a mail-order firm called The Left Handed Complement here that supplies such items as left-handed mustache cups, cameras and boomerangs to the estimated 15-20 per cent of the population that is sinistral, or left-handed.

It was a problem familiar to that minority — the aches caused by an uncomfortable desk — that led this right-handed mother of two to found her company. She inadvertently had taken a left-hander's desk at the start of a three-hour psychology exam.

"It suddenly dawned on me," she says, "if I'm this uncomfortable in a three-hour class, how must lefties feel going through their whole lives? Then I watched my husband, who is left-handed, and saw what he had to overcome, what things annoyed him the most."

The upshot of this close-up study was her company, started in her home two years ago with 15 items and now selling more than 125 products nationwide, including sinistral coffee pots, scissors (the biggest seller), can openers and potato peelers. There are also left-handed notebooks, ambidextrous ice cream scoops and, in what may be an effort to raise southpaws' consciousness, a long-playing record of a Ravel concerto described in the catalog as "an exceptionally dramatic work, played solely by the Left Hand."

Developing new products takes a lot of effort, according to Sue, who had a hard time with manufacturers when she started.

"Most large manufacturers said, 'The heck with it, we have a market for our items and lefties will use them anyway,'" she says. "A lot of them literally laughed in my face. But now they're coming to us."

Her wares also benefit those forced to become southpaws.

"One of the serious aspects of my business is when I encounter stroke victims who were formerly right-handers and are now paralyzed or palsy victims for whom our products make life that much easier," she says.

The sinistral business is pretty seasonal, she reports, with a lot of orders coming around Christmas when people buy her products because "they're unique gift items ... when you're left-handed and you get one, you know it's specifically for you."

She says there are one or two other mail-order firms with left-handed products and concedes that she doesn't expect to retire on her profits. But she adds that she gets a lot of satisfaction from providing items that are right, so to speak, for left-handers.

BISHOP IS SLAIN

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Gaston Marie Jacquier, Roman Catholic auxiliary bishop of Algiers, was stabbed to death Thursday as he walked down Rue Khelifa Boukhalfa in downtown Algiers, the diocesan office and officials said. He was 72.

CHICAGO (AP) — The untiring Ned Locke says he finally is tired and is retiring Friday after 25 years in television.

For the last 15 years, Mr. Ned has been the ringmaster on "Bozo's Circus," a one-hour, week-day production beginning at noon that is so popular it takes eight years to get a ticket to attend in person.

When the three-man band strikes up the Grand March and everyone falls in line to high-step up to WGN's Studio 1, ringmaster Ned Locke will keep right on marching, probably with a deep, basso profundo sigh.

Although Mr. Ned's finale is Friday, he actually will leave the air in a farewell party celebration July 23. "Bozo's Circus" is taped through that time. Every show has a capacity crowd of 200 children and parents.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Browning Samples and her 26-year-old daughter Olga Davis are both full-time faculty members at St. Philip's College.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Market Rises At Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rose a bit in early trading today, with investors generally encouraged by lower interest rates.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was ahead a fraction and rising New York Stock Exchange issues held a 2-2 lead on those declining.

At one point, the NYSE ticker tape was three minutes late in recording trades.

The government reported at the start of trading that the wholesale price index rose four-tenths of a percent in June. The increase was just above the three-tenths of a percent jump in May, but considerably below the April rise of eight-tenths, a percent.

Also affecting the mood on Wall Street was the decline in the nation's basic money supply, which was reported late Thursday. With some interest rates falling, there were indications that the Federal Reserve had eased its credit controls slightly.

Opening prices today included U.S. Steel, up 1/4 to 53; General Electric, up 1/8 to 57 1/2; and Bethlehem Steel, off 1/4 to 43 1/2.

On Thursday, the Dow Jones industrial average rose .62 to 981.88, with advancing NYSE issues holding a 4-3 margin on those declining.

Volume picked up to 21.71 million shares from the 18.47 million traded Wednesday on the Big Board.

The exchange's composite index of all 15 listed common shares was up .08 to 55.58.

And at the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gained .30 to close at 105.99.

Dividend Boosted By Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. Thursday declared a 20-cent increase in its third-quarter dividend, raising the payout to 80 cents per share. It was the first increase since the firm reduced its dividend to 60 cents a year ago.

Ford is the second automaker to boost its dividend following a strong profit recovery by the industry in the first quarter of this year.

Ford's 80-cent dividend, payable Sept. 1 to shareholders of record on Aug. 2, restores the payout to the amount declared prior to last year's severe slump.

Ford declared a 60-cent dividend in the second quarter of 1975, its first reduction since 1968.

"The quarterly dividend was reduced after earnings had been depressed by the worst economic recession in 40 years," company Chairman Henry Ford II said in announcing the dividend increase. "The increase... was considered appropriate in view of the substantial earnings recovery the company has experienced."

Ford earnings in the first quarter were a near-record $343 million. The firm had a net loss of $11 million in the same 1975 quarter.

In May, General Motors Corp. declared a special dividend of 50 cents in addition to its regular 60-cent payout for the second quarter.

HOW LIBERAL IS YOUR HEALTH POLICY?

The liberality — or lack of it — of the "pre-existing conditions exclusion" clause in a health insurance policy you may buy through the mails or in response to an ad, can mean the difference between a good policy for you and insurance of only limited value.

Under these clauses, an insurance company can offer you a health policy while excluding coverage for certain pre-existing conditions for a varying period after you have bought the policy.

The condition may be one for which you have not even seen a physician (a cough, lump, itch). Or more likely, it may be a condition for which you have received medical advice or treatment (diabetes, heart disease).

Unless you check the details on this before you buy, a policy on which you rely may be meaningless for you. This is particularly important if you are an elderly person, for you may be unable to obtain health insurance through traditional underwriting and a guaranteed issue policy, containing a pre-existing conditions exclusion, may be the only coverage available to you. Moreover, just because you are older, you probably have some pre-existing conditions.

The plans offered by companies in the field vary widely. The group insurance plans offered to members of the American Assn. of Retired Persons, for instance, have been in the vanguard of the movement to liberalize pre-existing conditions clauses. Currently, the waiting period to receive benefits for pre-existing conditions is only three months after the effective date of the policy.

Also on the liberal side are the 75-plus plans offered on a regional basis by local Blue Cross-Blue Shield organizations. Pre-existing periods generally range from none to six months after the effective date, but the enrollment is usually open only once or twice a year, so the period before which you may get coverage for the pre-existing condition can range from three to 15 months.

In contrast, the pre-existing periods range from 24 months for a National Home Life Insurance Co. policy to 12 months for a Physician's Mutual Insurance Co. plan to six months for a National Council of Senior Citizens plan and no period at all for a Magna Medicare-Bankers' Multiple Line plan.

Here are answers for the AARP to questions most frequently asked on pre-existing conditions exclusion clauses:

Russia Orders Yet More Grain

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union, in yet another round of grain purchases, has ordered an additional one million metric tons of U.S. wheat and corn under terms of a long-term sales agreement signed last fall.

Officials of two firms announced the sales Thursday. Continental Grain Co. sold 400,000 tons of wheat and 200,000 tons of corn. The Bunge Corp. sold 300,000 tons of wheat. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds.

Agriculture Department officials said the grain was worth about $141 million at current prices of $150 per ton for wheat and $120 per ton for corn delivered to Gulf ports.

Counting 2.8 million tons of wheat and corn bought earlier, the latest sales raised to 3.8 million tons the amount purchased so far under terms of a five-year agreement signed with the Soviets last fall. That accord calls for Russia to buy six million to eight million tons of wheat and corn annually, beginning with deliveries this Oct. 1.

The Soviet Union, plagued by a short harvest last year, in addition has bought 16.5 million tons of corn and wheat — about three-fourths of it corn — from the 1975 U.S. harvest. That grain is not covered by the long-term agreement.

Also, Russia the past week bought 1.5 million tons of U.S. soybeans valued at around $375 million for delivery during the 1976-77 marketing year. Soybeans are not included in the long-term agreement.

Department officials had expected the Soviets to buy slightly more corn from the 1975 crop, but so far no substantial further sales have been disclosed. A spokesman for Continental Grain said, Russia has canceled an order for 80,000 tons of 1975 corn, which was to have been delivered by Oct. 1.

New Veeps Appointed At Ford

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Lewis C. Veraldi has been named to the new position of vice president for advanced vehicles development at Ford Motor Co., the company said Thursday.

Also announced was the board of directors' election of James A. Capolongo and Robert A. Lutz as company vice presidents.

Veraldi, who joined the company in 1949, has been vice president of product development for Ford of Europe since May 1975.

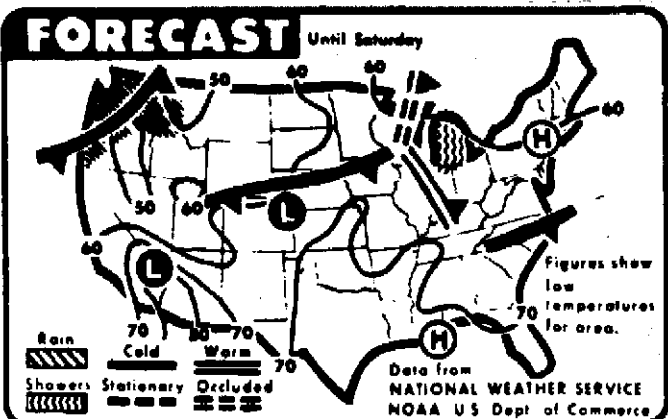

He will be succeeded in that post by John A. Betti, former vice president of Truck and Recreation Products Operations.

Capolongo, who came to Ford in 1961 as a planning analyst, was named vice president for Export Operations for Ford of Europe last April.

Lutz joined the company as general manager of Ford of Germany in August 1974. He will become vice president for truck operations for Ford of Germany.

Market Rises At Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rose a bit in early trading today, with investors generally encouraged by lower interest rates.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was ahead a fraction and rising New York Stock Exchange issues held a 3-2 lead on those declining.

At one point, the NYSE ticker tape was three minutes late in recording trades.

The government reported at the start of trading that the wholesale price index rose four-tenths of a percent in June. The increase was just above the three-tenths of a percent jump in May, but considerably below the April rise of eight-tenths of a percent.

Also affecting the mood on Wall Street was the decline in the nation's basic money supply, which was reported late Thursday. With some interest rates falling, there were indications that the Federal Reserve had eased its credit controls slightly.

Opening prices today included U.S. Steel, up 1/4 to 53; General Electric, up 1/8 to 57 3/4; and Bethlehem Steel, up 1/4 to 43 1/2.

On Thursday, the Dow Jones industrial average rose .82 to 991.88, with advancing NYSE issues holding a 4-3 margin on those declining.

Volume picked up to 21.71 million shares from the 18.47 million traded Wednesday on the Big Board.

The exchange's composite index of all its listed common shares was up .08 at 55.56.

And at the American Stock Exchange, the market value index gained .59 to close at 105.89.

Dividend Boosted By Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. Thursday declared a 20 cent increase in its third-quarter dividend, raising the payout to 80 cents per share. It was the first increase since the firm reduced its dividend to 60 cents a year ago.

Ford is the second automaker to boost its dividend following a strong profit recovery by the industry in the first quarter of this year.

All the auto companies either reduced or eliminated dividends during 1975 because of a severe recession which sent earnings plummeting.

Ford's 80-cent dividend, payable Sept. 1 to shareholders of record on Aug. 2, restores the payout to the amount declared prior to last year's severe slump.

Ford declared a 60-cent payment in the second quarter of 1975, its first reduction since 1958.

"The quarterly dividend was reduced after earnings had been depressed by the worst economic recession in 40 years," company Chairman Henry Ford II said in announcing the dividend increase. "The increase... was considered appropriate in view of the substantial earnings recovery the company has experienced."

Ford earnings in the first quarter were a near-record $343 million. The firm had a net loss of $11 million in the same 1975 quarter.

In May, General Motors Corp. declared a special dividend of 50 cents in addition to its regular 60-cent payout for the second quarter.

GM had reduced its dividend from 85 cents to 60 cents in the first quarter of 1975, the first cut since 1946.

Here are answers by the AARP to questions most frequently asked on pre-existing conditions exclusion clauses:

Q. Why is the exclusion necessary?

A. Because without a pre-existing limitation in guaranteed acceptance group health insurance plans, people who are already sick or are contemplating going into the hospital would have their claims automatically covered. This would result in a substantially increased premium for everyone. To help keep the total cost of coverage at a reasonable level, a pre-existing limitation is necessary.

Q. If I haven't seen a physician for the six months prior to the date my insurance takes effect, am I then covered for any condition I might have?

A. Not necessarily. The use of prescription drugs for a specific condition constitutes "treatment or advice," as defined by the AARP plan (Colonial Penn Franklin Insurance Co.).

Q. Am I eligible for immediate coverage if an illness has been developing for some time without my knowledge?

A. Only if you had not received "medical treatment or advice" regarding that illness for six months prior to the effective date of the policy.

Q. Am I excluded from benefits if I have been in a hospital or nursing home prior to the effective date of my policy?

A. No benefits will be paid for hospital or nursing home confinements commencing, or expenses incurred during, the first three months of coverage if they are due to or related to conditions for which you received medical advice or treatment during the six months prior to the effective date of coverage. Benefits are payable for all "new" conditions immediately after the effective date.

Q. Just what is medical advice or treatment?

A. If you regularly visit a doctor or receive medication for a condition, this is medical advice or treatment. Diagnosis or treatment of any condition also fits into this category.

Man Held On Break-In Charge

NEW BUFFALO — Danny Allen Rush, 20, of 206 Marshall street, New Buffalo, was arrested yesterday as the result of a month-long investigation of a burglary at Durlin's Decorating store here, according to New Buffalo city police.

Rush was booked into the Berrien county jail on a charge of breaking and entering. Police said the paint store had been broken into on the night of June 10 and about $50 in cash had been taken.

Laotian Officer, 14 Others Flee

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A Laotian police major stole a helicopter and flew it and 14 passengers to Thailand, the deputy governor of the province in which he landed reported today.

Maj. Phut Mingsupan took a helicopter from Vientiane's Wattai airport and flew it across the Mekong river to Udorn, 35 miles south of the Laotian capital. On Thursday, Deputy Governor Somporn Klinpongsa said.

Russia Orders Yet More Grain

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union, in yet another round of grain purchases, has ordered an additional one million metric tons of U.S. wheat and corn under terms of a long-term sales agreement signed last fall.

Officials of two firms announced the sales Thursday. Continental Grain Co., sold 400,000 tons of wheat and 300,000 tons of corn. The Bunge Corp., sold 300,000 tons of wheat. A metric ton is 2,205 pounds.

Agriculture Department officials said the grain was worth about $141 million at current prices of $150 per ton for wheat and $120 per ton for corn delivered to Gulf ports.

Counting 2.8 million tons of wheat and corn bought earlier, the latest sales raised to 3.8 million tons the amount purchased so far under terms of a five-year agreement signed with the Soviets last fall. That accord calls for Russia to buy six million to eight million tons of wheat and corn annually, beginning with deliveries this Oct. 1.

The Soviet Union, plagued by a short harvest last year, in addition has bought 16.5 million tons of corn and wheat — about three-fourths of its corn — from the 1975 U.S. harvest. That grain is not covered by the long-term agreement.

Also, Russia the past week bought 1.5 million tons of U.S. soybeans valued at around $375 million for delivery during the 1976-77 marketing year. Soybeans are not included in the long-term agreement.

Department officials had expected the Soviets to buy slightly more corn from the 1975 crop, but so far no substantial further sales have been disclosed. A spokesman for Continental Grain said Russia has canceled an order for 80,000 tons of 1975 corn, which was to have been delivered by Oct. 1.

New Veeps Appointed At Ford

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Lewis C. Veraldi has been named to the new position of vice president for advanced vehicles development at Ford Motor Co., the company said Thursday.

Also announced was the board of directors' election of James A. Capolongo and Robert A. Lutz as company vice presidents.

Veraldi, who joined the company in 1949, has been vice president of product development for Ford of Europe since May 1975.

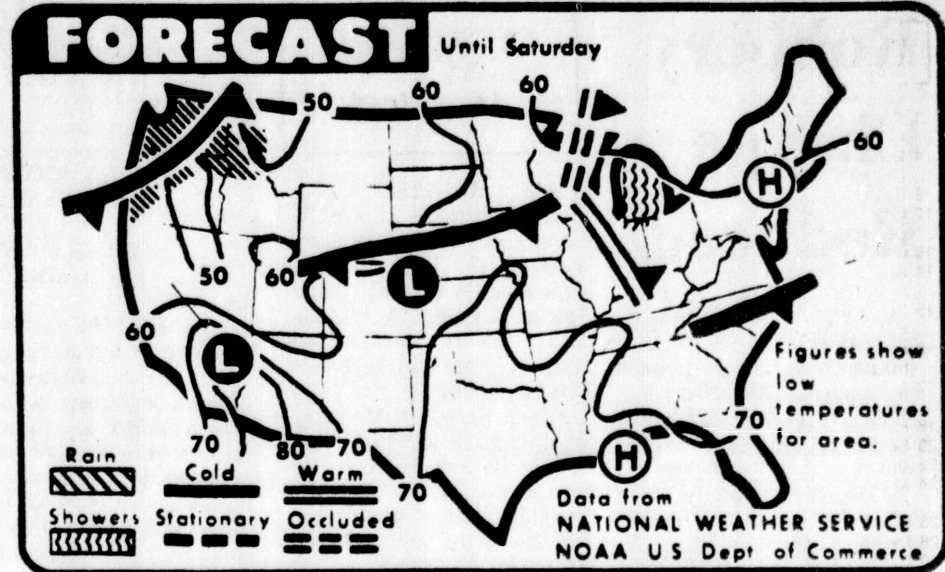

He will be succeeded in that post by John A. Betti, former vice president of Truck and Recreation Products Operations.

Capolongo, who came to Ford in 1961 as a planning analyst, was named vice president for Export Operations for Ford of Europe last April.

Lutz joined the company as general manager of Ford of Germany in August 1974. He will become vice president for truck operations for Ford of Germany.

West Coast Firm Eyes Booth Chain

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Times Mirror Co. of Los Angeles is interested in buying Booth Newspapers "under the right circumstances," a spokesman said Thursday.

The Times Mirror spokesman, however, denied reports the Los Angeles company had offered $33.66 a share for the Booth stock, about 50 per cent above the current market price. Booth President James E. Sauter said the two companies had discussed the possibility of a sale two months ago but "there have been no new developments and I frankly don't expect any."

Booth Newspapers publishes eight daily newspapers in Michigan and Parade Magazine. Booth has held talks with "eight or 10 newspaper companies," said Sauter. Sauter said none of the talks produced an offer and "there haven't been any new talks."

The talks took place after New York publisher Samuel I. Newhouse bought huge blocks of Booth stock recently to become Booth's biggest shareholder. Booth officials fear a takeover by Newhouse, who has insisted he has no immediate plans to purchase additional Booth stock.

Counterfeit Bills Don't Look Right

CHICAGO (AP) — Counterfeit $20 bills are turning up in the Chicago area and a Secret Service agent says you can tell they are bogus by looking into the eyes of Andrew Jackson.

"If you look into his eyes and they don't look back at you, that's the first sign," Joseph E. Noonan, chief of the service's counterfeiting squad in Chicago, said Thursday.

"The counterfeiters never can get the detail in the eyes right," he explained.

If Jackson's eyes — or those of Hamilton or Washington or any of the dignitaries honored on other bills — look blurry, then the bill may be a fake, Noonan said.

Noonan said that since the first week of June bogus 20s have been passed at a rate of "a few hundred bills a week" in the Chicago area and the Secret Service is investigating on the assumption that "one fairly good-size operation" is printing them.

He said only a few have turned up in other parts of the country and probably were carried there by the normal flow of currency. He said Chicago almost certainly has been chosen as the distribution place.

The counterfeit 20s now have another more certain flaw, Noonan said. All U.S. currency has an identification number in small print in the lower right-hand corner of the bill. This is not to be confused with the eight-digit serial number printed on the upper right.

Noonan said if a $20 bill shows up with the number "A 37" on the front and "200" or "219" on the back to call the Secret Service.

Robbery Charge Reduced

A Lawton man originally charged with armed robbery and unarmed robbery pleaded no contest Wednesday in Berrien Circuit court to a charge of attempted armed robbery.

Making the plea before Judge Julian E. Hughes was Dewey Wayne McClenore, 28, who remained jailed in lieu of $20,000 bond to await sentencing of up to 15 years in prison. The other two charges are to be dismissed by the prosecutor's office.

He was accused of attempting to rob Lester Jones of cash, a rifle, adding machine, clothing, and a radio Nov. 8 on Meadowbrook road in Benton township with a knife and baseball bat.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE

COUNTY OF BERRIEN STATE OF MICHIGAN

BERRIEN COUNTY WATER SUPPLY BONDS — LAKE TOWNSHIP EXTENSIONS

SEALED BIDS for the purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at the office of the Berrien County Board of Public Works located in the Berrien County Building, St. Joseph, Michigan, on Tuesday, the 30th day of July, 1976, until 2:00 o'clock P.M., Eastern Daylight Time, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

BOND DETAILS: Said bonds will be coupon bonds of the denomination of $5,000 each, dated April 1, 1975, numbered in direct order of maturity from 1 upwards and will bear interest from their date payable on November 1, 1975, and semi-annually thereafter.

Said bonds will mature on the 1st day of May as follows:

1977 — $ 50,000	1983 — $200,000	1983 — $300,000
1978 — 50,000	1986 — 200,000	1984 — 300,000
1979 — 50,000	1987 — 250,000	1985 — 300,000
1980 — 100,000	1988 — 250,000	1986 — 300,000
1981 — 100,000	1989 — 250,000	1987 — 300,000
1982 — 100,000	1990 — 250,000	1988 — 350,000
1983 — 150,000	1991 — 300,000	1989 — 350,000
1984 — 200,000	1991 — 300,000

PRIOR REDEMPTION: Bonds maturing on and after May 1, 1967, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the County, in reverse numerical order, or any one or more interest payment dates on or after May 1, 1968, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed or redemption, plus a premium as follows:

2% of the par value of each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1968, but prior to May 1, 1969;

1% of the par value of each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1969, but prior to maturity.

Thirty days notice of redemption shall be given by publication, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan, which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds. Bonds called for redemption shall not bear interest after the redemption date, provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same.

INTEREST RATE AND BIDDING DETAILS: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 8% per annum, to be fixed by the bids therefor, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or both. The interest on any one bond shall be at one rate only, all bonds maturing in any one year must carry the same interest rate and each coupon period shall be represented by one interest coupon. None of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate per annum which is more than two (2) percentage points less than the rate borne by any other bond. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law, to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provisions of Act 185, Public Acts of Michigan, 1957, as amended, to defray a part of the cost of acquiring and constructing the Lake Township Water Supply System and the cost of Extensions to said System, consisting of water supply facilities to serve parts of the Township of Lake. The bonds are to be issued in anticipation of, and are primarily payable from, payments to be made by the Township of Lake pursuant to a certain Contract dated February 20, 1973, including revisions thereto, and a Contract dated February 20, 1975 between the County of Berrien and the Township of Lake wherein said Township of Lake agrees to pay to the County of Berrien the increased cost of said Lake Township Water Supply System and the entire cost of the Extensions thereto in installments equal to the annual principal maturities and the semi-annual maturities of interest on the bonds of this issue. The full faith and credit of said Township of Lake has been pledged for the making of said payments.

FULL FAITH AND CREDIT OF COUNTY: Pursuant to resolution adopted by its Board of Commissioners, the County of Berrien has pledged its full faith and credit for the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $100,000 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the County must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. The good faith check of the successful bidder will be immediately cashed and payment for the balance of the purchase price of the bonds shall be made at the closing.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from August 1, 1976, to their maturity.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Dickinson, Wright, McKean, Cudlip & Moon, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof.

CUSIP: CUSIP numbers will be imprinted on all bonds of this issue at the issuer's expense. An improperly imprinted number will not constitute basis for the purchaser to refuse to accept delivery.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The County will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at New York, New York, Chicago, Illinois, or Detroit, Michigan. The usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Time, on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned in which event the County shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Payment for the bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve funds. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

FINANCIAL CONSULTANT: Further information with respect to said bonds may be obtained from Fred K. Sherk, Sherk, DeVries & Krenz, 918 McKay Tower, Grand Rapids, Michigan, 49502. Telephone: (616) 451-8771.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY OR ALL BIDS. ENVELOPES, containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Lake Township Water Supply Extensions Bonds."

Robbery Charge Reduced

A Lawton man originally charged with armed robbery and unarmed robbery pleaded no contest Wednesday in Berrien Circuit court to a charge of attempted armed robbery.

Making the plea before Judge Julian E. Hughes was Dewey Wayne McClemore, 28, who remained jailed in lieu of $20,000 bond to await sentencing of up to 15 years in prison. The other two charges are to be dismissed by the prosecutor's office.

He was accused of attempting to rob Lester Jones of cash, a rifle, adding machine, clothing, and a radio Nov. 8 on Meadowbrook road in Benton township with a knife and baseball bat.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE

BERRIEN COUNTY WATER SUPPLY BONDS — LAKE TOWNSHIP EXTENSIONS

SEALED BIDS for the purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at the office of the Berrien County Board of Public Works located in the Berrien County Building, St. Joseph, Michigan, on Tuesday, the 20th day of July, 1976, until 2:00 o'clock P.M., Eastern Daylight Time, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

BOND DETAILS: Said bonds will be coupon bonds of the denomination of $5,000 each, dated April 1, 1975, numbered in direct order of maturity from 1 upwards and will bear interest from their date payable on November 1, 1975, and semi-annually thereafter.

Said bonds will mature on the 1st day of May as follows:

1977 — $ 50,000	1985 — $200,000	1993 — $300,000
1978 — 50,000	1986 — 200,000	1994 — 300,000
1979 — 50,000	1987 — 250,000	1995 — 300,000
1980 — 100,000	1988 — 250,000	1996 — 300,000
1981 — 100,000	1989 — 250,000	1997 — 300,000
1982 — 100,000	1990 — 250,000	1998 — 350,000
1983 — 150,000	1991 — 300,000	1999 — 350,000
1984 — 200,000	1991 — 300,000

PRIOR REDEMPTION: Bonds maturing on and after May 1, 1987, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the County, in reverse numerical order, or any one or more interest payment dates on or after May 1, 1986, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed or redemption, plus a premium as follows:

2% of the par value of each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1986, but prior to May 1, 1993;

1% of the par value of each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1993, but prior to maturity.

Thirty days notice of redemption shall be given by publication, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan, which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds. Bonds called for redemption shall not bear interest after the redemption date, provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same.

INTEREST RATE AND BIDDING DETAILS: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 8% per annum, to be fixed by the bids therefor, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or both. The interest on any one bond shall be at one rate only, all bonds maturing in any one year must carry the same interest rate and each coupon period shall be represented by one interest coupon. None of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate per annum which is more than two (2) percentage points less than the rate borne by any other bond. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law, to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provisions of Act 185, Public Acts of Michigan, 1957, as amended, to defray a part of the cost of acquiring and constructing the Lake Township Water Supply System and the cost of Extensions to said System, consisting of water supply facilities to serve parts of the Township of Lake. The bonds are to be issued in anticipation of, and are primarily payable from, payments to be made by the Township of Lake pursuant to a certain Contract dated February 20, 1973, including revisions thereto, and a Contract dated February 20, 1975 between the County of Berrien and the Township of Lake wherein said Township of Lake agrees to pay to the County of Berrien the increased cost of said Lake Township Water Supply System and the entire cost of the Extensions thereto in installments equal to the annual principal maturities and the semi-annual maturities of interest on the bonds of this issue. The full faith and credit of said Township of Lake has been pledged for the making of said payments.

FULL FAITH AND CREDIT OF COUNTY: Pursuant to resolution adopted by its Board of Commissioners, the County of Berrien has pledged its full faith and credit for the payment of principal of and interest on the bonds.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $100,000 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the County must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. The good faith check of the successful bidder will be immediately cashed and payment for the balance of the purchase price of the bonds shall be made at the closing.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from August 1, 1976, to their maturity.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Dickinson, Wright, McKean, Cudlip & Moon, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof.

CUSIP: CUSIP numbers will be imprinted on all bonds of this issue at the issuer's expense. An improperly imprinted number will not constitute basis for the purchaser to refuse to accept delivery.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The County will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at New York, New York, Chicago, Illinois, or Detroit, Michigan. The usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Time, on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned in which event the County shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Payment for the bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve funds. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

FINANCIAL CONSULTANT: Further information with respect to said bonds may be obtained from Fred K. Sherk, Sherk, DeVries & Krenz, 918 McKay Tower, Grand Rapids, Michigan, 49502. Telephone: (616) 451-0771.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY OR ALL BIDS.

ENVELOPES: containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Lake Township Water Supply Extensions Bonds."

Saginaw Club Wins Top Lottery Prize

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (AP) — The Saginaw Thinkers Lottery Club of Saginaw walked off with the top $200,000 prize Thursday night in the weekly Michigan State Lottery Super Play drawing.

The club is a group of six women employees of the key punch department of Farmer Pete's Packing, a meat company in Saginaw.

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit teenager and her parents received $940,000 Thursday in the out-of-court settlement of a suit against Amoco Oil Co., arising from a 1973 auto accident that left the girl unable to walk or talk. In a consent judgment signed by U.S. Magistrate Paul Kornines, Amoco agreed to pay $500,000 to the estate of Linda Cokes, and $220,000 each to her parents, Rudolph and Gladys, Linda, who was 12 when the accident occurred, suffered severe brain damage when she was struck by an Amoco car driven by a company employee in Royal Oak. She remains bedridden and "virtually a quadriplegic" in spite of several operations, according to her attorney.

'Exorbitant' Bonds

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The president of the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association says a Pontiac judge set "exorbitant" bail bonds for 30 rock fans arrested on drug charges during a concert at Pontiac Stadium. James Logan Thursday criticized Pontiac District Court Judge Robert Cunningham for setting bonds of either $10,000 or $25,000 for those arrested. Cunningham, on vacation, could not be reached. But Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brynks Patterson said although the bonds were high, he supports the judge's "get tough position." Patterson said 42 people were arrested during the June 29 Bob Seger concert. "Thirty-nine came from outside of Oakland County, and the stadium and the courts and this office are trying to cut down on the use of drugs. If we don't put a stop to it it's going to be totally out of hand," he said.

Federal Kidnaping Charge

DETROIT (AP) — A 37-year-old Pontiac woman was ordered held in lieu of $2,000 bond Thursday on federal charges of kidnaping a 2-year-old Colp, Ill., boy, the FBI said. Agents said Betty Bell was being held in the Oakland County Jail following a hearing before a U.S. magistrate. Agents said she eventually would be removed to Springfield, Ill., for trial. The woman was arrested at the home of a friend in Pontiac on Wednesday night, and the missing boy, Albert E. Pauline III, was recovered unharmed, agents said. Agents said the woman took the boy from the trailer in Colp where he lived with his father. No ransom demand was made. Agents said they could not give a clear motive for the alleged abduction.

Court Can Override

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Supreme Court said Thursday the Court of Appeals may override a lower court's judgment about evidence in a trial. The court said the trial court took an "unduly restrictive view of its reviewing function" in affirming a Court of Claims decision in a case involving a suit against the Department of State Highways and Transportation. The suit was over a 1970 auto accident at a newly opened intersection in Kalamazoo County. The high court said the Court of Appeals made a mistake when it said it could not substitute its judgment for that of the lower court over whether dismissal of the case ignored strong evidence pointing to the negligence of the highway department. The Supreme Court remanded the case back to the Court of Claims for a determination of damages.

Paternity Case Ruling

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A defendant in a paternity suit has a right to a court-appointed attorney if he cannot afford to hire one, the Supreme Court ruled Thursday. The court ruled that paternity proceedings are partly criminal, and are complex enough to require a lawyer to insure a fair trial. The court made the ruling in a 1971 paternity suit filed against Kenneth Artibee in Cheboygan County Circuit Court. Judge Joseph Swallow denied Artibee's request for an attorney on grounds of indigency following Artibee's arrest. The Court of Appeals also denied the defendant's request. The Supreme Court overturned the lower courts and remanded the case for a determination of indigency and appointment of a lawyer if Artibee is found unable to afford one. The decision came on a 4-3 vote, with Chief Justice Thomas G. Kavanagh and Justices John Fitzgerald, Charles Levin and G. Mennen Williams supporting it. Justices Mary Coleman, James Ryan and Lawrence Lindner argued that paternity suits are essentially civil cases.

$8.4 Million For Rails

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's rail freight program will get $8.4 million in federal aid for operation and rehabilitation during the next nine months. John Woodford, director of the Department of State Highways and Transportation, said Thursday the first $2.1 million of federal funds will cover the three-month period that began in April. He said a similar amount is expected for each quarter through March, 1977. The state will kick in $1.5 million each quarter through next March to match the federal grant, a department spokesman said. After that time the amount of federal funding will descend on a sliding scale while the number of state dollars increases. The funding covers 912 miles of rail freight service out of 1100 miles that would have been abandoned when the government-formed railroad system, ConRail, began operation in April. The state, however, stepped in to support the operation of the lines not included in ConRail with the help of the federal government. The lines subsidized by the state and federal government include 320 miles operated by ConRail, 246 by Michigan Northern Inc., 106 miles by Detroit & Mackinac Railway, 40 miles by the Hillsdale County Railway Co.

A New Approach

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A new approach to funding Michigan colleges contained in the recently adopted state budget should reduce inequities in state appropriations, according to a Department of Education expert. Thomas Johnston, author of a report which detailed uneven state funding of similar programs among state colleges and universities, said Thursday the new method will narrow these differences. The new approach is contained in the $402.4 million budget for higher education facilities for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1. It would allocate state dollars on the basis of similar programs, additional costs and unique programs at the various schools. The idea is to pay one college about the same amount for a student in a certain program as it pays another college. Disparities will remain because of differences in the goal or mission of the various schools.

College Aid Veto?

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The acting chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee says he may ask the governor to veto a $402 million budget bill for state colleges and universities so legislators can reduce it. State Sen. Bill Huffman, D-Madison Heights, said Thursday the legislature may have overfunded higher education by $10 million to $11 million. The budget bill is $16 million more than the amount Gov. William Milliken recommended last winter. Huffman said "some of the major schools" based their next year's budgets on the governor's original, lower recommendation, and "then raised tuition considerably." But now that the legislature has sent the governor a budget bill appropriating more money than originally anticipated, Huffman said, the schools which raised tuition should justify accepting the extra funds. Huffman said it was only after the bill was passed last Friday that he has become aware some universities had raised tuition in anticipation of a lower funding level. "They can't have their cake and eat it too," he said.

Managing The Coastline

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state has received a $436,386 federal grant to complete development of a program aimed at wisely managing the Michigan coastline. The grant, from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, requires the state to provide $218,194 in matching funds, the Department of Natural Resources said Thursday. The money will be used to complete development of a coastal zone management program, a DNR spokesman said. The goal of the program, he added, is to: Help promote the orderly use and development of the state's 3,200 miles of shore to meet growing social needs for transportation, recreation, energy production, industry, agriculture and commerce. Preserve and protect the wildlife, flora and fisheries stock along the shoreline. Preserve the shoreline's cultural, scenic, historic, scientific, and esthetic points. Minimize shore property damages caused by erosion and flooding. Michigan has received nearly $1.2 million in federal grants since it began its shoreline program.

State To Enforce Boat Pollution Law

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — With the go-ahead, the DNR said, watercraft will be inspected, certification stickers for approved equipment will be issued and boaters will be ticketed for violating strict Michigan regulations. William Turney, chief of the DNR's Bureau of Environmental Protection, said the 1970 state law makes it illegal to discharge sewage overboard from any vessel sailing the Great Lakes and Michigan inland waters. It is illegal to have sanitary facilities on board which would allow overboard discharge. Boaters beware — the state is resuming enforcement of its watercraft pollution control law. The Department of Natural Resources announced Thursday conservation and law officers will enforce the law again, now that the state has received federal certification for its program. The state halted enforcement of the law, which is more stringent than national watercraft pollution control regulations. The state had asked that its program be given special consideration.

Lobbying For Transportation

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State and Detroit officials will lobby to persuade Washington to save mass transportation money for Michigan, according to backers of a Detroit-area public transit system. A key lawmaker and a spokesman for Gov. William Milliken said Thursday federal transportation officials will be urged to set aside money for Michigan in hopes the legislature approves a bill to establish local funding. The bill stalled in the Michigan House on the final day of session last week, and the legislature does not return until Sept. 13. Backers of the proposed railbus system in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties said the delay endangers Michigan's chances of getting a portion of rapidly dwindling federal funds.

Soybean Promo Approved

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan soybean growers have approved establishment of a soybean promotion and development program, the Michigan Department of Agriculture said Thursday. The program will provide for advertising and promotion, research, projects to expand markets, and market information, the department said. Soybean producers will be assessed one-half cent per bushel to finance the program. Growers approved the program 562-226, the department said. The referendum was conducted by the department.

A Record At Big Mac

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mackinac Bridge traffic last month set a record high of 240,635 crossings, the bridge authority said Thursday. The crossings totaled five-tenths per cent more than June 1975 crossings. Fares collected last month were up eight-tenths per cent from $446,000 to $451,743 for the same period last year. During the first six months of 1976, a spokesman said, bridge traffic was up 5.6 per cent from 722,824 crossings to 815,639 crossings for the same period in 1975.

Saginaw Club Wins Top Lottery Prize

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (AP) — The Wishful Thinkers Lottery Club of Saginaw walked off with the top $200,000 prize Thursday night in the weekly Michigan State Lottery Super Play drawing.

The club is a group of six women employees of the key punch department of Farmer Pete's Packing, a meat company in Saginaw.

They said they buy 18 tickets a week and had only been buying for five weeks.

Other winners: $25,000, Lori Phillips, 20, Kalamazoo; $15,000, James Hyde, 27, of East Lansing; $12,500, Sheila Rempp, 38, of Alma; $10,000, Erlin Clement, 59, Detroit; $5,000 and the right to return next week, Calvin Linton, 52, of Indianapolis, Ind.

$940,000 Settlement

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit teenager and her parents received $940,000 Thursday in the out-of-court settlement of a suit against Amoco Oil Co., arising from a 1973 auto accident that left the girl unable to walk or talk. In a consent judgment signed by U.S. Magistrate Paul Komines, Amoco agreed to pay $500,000 to the estate of Linda Coles, and $220,000 each to her parents, Rudolph and Gladys. Linda, who was 12 when the accident occurred, suffered severe brain damage when she was struck by an Amoco car driven by a company employee in Royal Oak. She remains bedridden and "virtually a quadriplegic" in spite of several operations, according to her attorney.

'Exorbitant' Bonds

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The president of the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association says a Pontiac judge set "exorbitant" bail bonds for 39 rock fans arrested on drug charges during a concert at Pontiac Stadium. James Logan Thursday criticized Pontiac District Court Judge Robert Cunningham for setting bonds of either $10,000 or $25,000 for those arrested. Cunningham, on vacation, could not be reached. But Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson said although the bonds were high, he supports the judge's "get tough position." Patterson said 42 people were arrested during the June 29 Bob Segar concert. "Thirty nine came from outside of Oakland County, and the stadium and the courts and this office are trying to cut down on the use of drugs. If we don't put a stop to it it's going to be totally out of hand," he said.

Federal Kidnaping Charge

DETROIT (AP) — A 37-year-old Pontiac woman was ordered held in lieu of $2,000 bond Thursday on federal charges of kidnaping a 2-year-old Colp, Ill., boy, the FBI said. Agents said Betty Belt was being held in the Oakland County Jail following a hearing before a U.S. magistrate. Agents said she eventually would be removed to Springfield, Ill., for trial. The woman was arrested at the home of a friend in Pontiac on Wednesday night, and the missing boy, Albert E. Pauline III, was recovered unharmed, agents said. Agents said the woman took the boy from the trailer in Colp where he lived with his father. No ransom demand was made. Agents said they could not give a clear motive for the alleged abduction.

Court Can Override

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Supreme Court said Thursday the Court of Appeals may override a lower court's judgment about evidence in a trial. The court said the trial court took an "unduly restrictive view of its reviewing function" in affirming a Court of Claims decision in a case involving a suit against the Department of State Highways and Transportation. The suit was over a 1970 auto accident at a newly opened intersection in Kalamazoo County. The high court said the Court of Appeals made a mistake when it said it could not substitute its judgment for that of the lower court over whether dismissal of the case ignored strong evidence pointing to the negligence of the highway department. The Supreme Court remanded the case back to the Court of Claims for a determination of damages.

Paternity Case Ruling

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A defendant in a paternity suit has a right to a court-appointed attorney if he cannot afford to hire one, the Supreme Court ruled Thursday. The court ruled that paternity proceedings are partly criminal, and are complex enough to require a lawyer to insure a fair trial. The court made the ruling in a 1971 paternity suit filed against Kenneth Artibee in Cheboygan County Circuit Court. Judge Joseph Swallow denied Artibee's request for an attorney on grounds of indigency following Artibee's arrest. The Court of Appeals also denied the defendant's request. The Supreme Court overturned the lower courts and remanded the case for a determination of indigency and appointment of a lawyer if Artibee is found unable to afford one. The decision came on a 4-3 vote, with Chief Justice Thomas G. Kavanagh and Justices John Fitzgerald, Charles Levin and G. Mennen Williams supporting it. Justices Mary Coleman, James Ryan and Lawrence Lindemer argued that paternity suits are essentially civil cases.

$8.4 Million For Rails

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan's rail freight program will get $8.4 million in federal aid for operation and rehabilitation during the next nine months. John Woodford, director of the Department of State Highways and Transportation, said Thursday the first $2.1 million of federal funds will cover the three-month period that began in April. He said a similar amount is expected for each quarter through March, 1977. The state will kick in $1.5 million each quarter through next March to match the federal grant, a department spokesman said. After that time the amount of federal funding will descend on a sliding scale while the number of state dollars increases. The funding covers 912 miles of rail freight service out of 1100 miles that would have been abandoned when the government-formed railroad system, ConRail, began operation in April. The state, however, stepped in to support the operation of the lines not included in ConRail with the help of the federal government. The lines subsidized by the state and federal government include 520 miles operated by ConRail, 246 by Michigan Northern Inc., 106 miles by Detroit & Mackinac Railway, 40 miles by the Hillsdale County Railway Co.

A New Approach

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A new approach to funding Michigan colleges contained in the recently adopted state budget should reduce inequities in state appropriations, according to a Department of Education expert. Thomas Johnston, author of a report which detailed uneven state funding of similar programs among state colleges and universities, said Thursday the new method will narrow those differences. The new approach is contained in the $492.4 million budget for higher education facilities for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1. It would allocate state dollars on the basis of similar programs, additional costs and unique programs at the various schools. The idea is to pay one college about the same amount for a student in a certain program as it pays another college. Discrepancies will remain because of differences in the goal or mission of the various schools.

College Aid Veto?

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The acting chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee says he may ask the governor to veto a $482 million budget bill for state colleges and universities so legislators can reduce it. State Sen. Bill Huffman, D-Madison Heights, said Thursday the legislature may have overfunded higher education by $10 million to $11 million. The budget bill is $16 million more than the amount Gov. William Milliken recommended last winter. Huffman said "some of the major schools" based their next year's budgets on the governor's original, lower recommendation, and "then raised tuition considerably." But now that the legislature has sent the governor a budget bill appropriating more money than originally anticipated, Huffman said, the schools which raised tuition should justify accepting the extra funds. Huffman said it was only after the bill was passed last Friday that he has become aware some universities had raised tuition in anticipation of a lower funding level. "They can't have their cake and eat it too," he said.

Managing The Coastline

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state has received a $436,308 federal grant to complete development of a program aimed at wisely managing the Michigan coastline. The grant, from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, requires the state to provide $218,154 in matching funds, the Department of Natural Resources said Thursday. The money will be used to complete development of a coastal zone management program, a DNR spokesman said. The goal of the program, he added, is to: Help promote the orderly use and development of the state's 3,200 miles of shore to meet growing social needs for transportation, recreation, energy production, industry, agriculture and commerce. Preserve and protect the wildlife, flora and fisheries stock along the shoreland. Preserve the shoreland's cultural, scenic, historic, scientific, and esthetic points. Minimize shore property damages caused by erosion and flooding. Michigan has received nearly $1.2 million in federal grants since it began its shoreline program.

State To Enforce Boat Pollution Law

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Boaters beware — the state is resuming enforcement of its watercraft pollution control law.

The Department of Natural Resources announced Thursday conservation and law officers will enforce the law again, now that the state has received federal certification for its program.

The state halted enforcement of the law, which is more stringent than national watercraft pollution control regulations. The state had asked that its program be given special consideration.

With the go-ahead, the DNR said, watercraft will be inspected, certification stickers for approved equipment will be issued and boaters will be ticketed for violating strict Michigan regulations.

William Turney, chief of the DNR's Bureau of Environmental Protection, said the 1970 state law makes it illegal to discharge sewage overboard from any vessel sailing the Great Lakes and Michigan inland waters.

It is illegal to have sanitary facilities on board which would allow overboard discharge.

Lobbying For Transportation

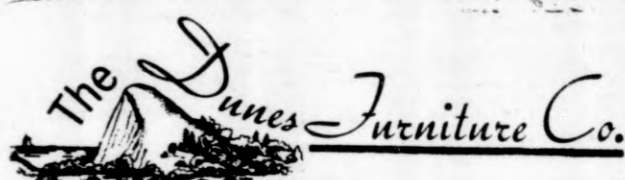

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — State and Detroit officials will lobby to persuade Washington to save mass transportation money for Michigan, according to backers of a Detroit-area public transit system. A key lawmaker and a spokesman for Gov. William Milliken said Thursday federal transportation officials will be urged to set aside money for Michigan in hopes the legislature approves a bill to establish local funding. The bill stalled in the Michigan House on the final day of session last week, and the legislature does not return until Sept. 13. Backers of the proposed railbus system in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties said the delay endangers Michigan's chances of getting a portion of rapidly dwindling federal funds.

Soybean Promo Approved

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan soybean growers have approved establishment of a soybean promotion and development program, the Michigan Department of Agriculture said Thursday. The program will provide for advertising and promotion, research, projects to expand markets, and market information, the department said. Soybean producers will be assessed one-half cent per bushel to finance the program. Growers approved the program 582-238, the department said. The referendum was conducted by the department.

A Record At Big Mac

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mackinac Bridge traffic last month set a record high of 249,635 crossings, the bridge authority said Thursday. The crossings totaled five-tenths per cent more than June 1975 crossings. Fares collected last month were up eight-tenths per cent from $448,096 to $451,743 for the same period last year. During the first six months of 1976, a spokesman said, bridge traffic was up 5.6 per cent from 722,024 crossings to 815,639 crossings for the same period in 1975.
